is desired.Metalithic unites in its composition a vast improvement over all the advantages claimed for other processes of paving and flooring.

The galvanized iron chain (spiked at each angle) used in its construction, neutralizes the effect of heat and cold, and thus prevents cracking and bulging, one of the most serious objections to other systems. This method has the unqualified indorsement of all Architects, Engineers, Contractors and individuals, firms and corporations who have used it, for strength, beauty and durability, and is rapidly superseding other systems wherever brought in competition. 1 licenses, Patent Rights and all processes for Cities, Counties and States, will be granted to responsible parties on liberal terms, by addressing:

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

A Town with a History.

Dennysville, way down on the eastern Maine coast, is one of those "old towns with a history." The town has no debt; the village has not had a dwelling house, barn, store, church or school house destroyed by fire for more than eighty years, and at the late town meeting Peter E. Vose, Esq., was re-elected selectman and treasurer, after a service of twenty-seven years in the former and twenty-three years in the latter position. During all these years no person but Mr. Vose had ever written a word or made a figure in any town book (excepting the town clerk's book) or drawn an order.—Fire and Water.

The stockholders of the West Philadelphia Trust & Safe Deposit Company 40th street and Lancaster avenue, have elected the following gentlemen as directors: George W. Hancock, Frank F. Bell, John M. Erickson, W. R. Nicholson, W. H. Sutton, F. A. Genth, Jr., H. Z.

Ziegler, S. D. Hall, George E. Mancill, Justice Cox, E. W. Woolman, Alexander Simpson, Jr., J. Gibson McIlvaine, Joseph Johnson and John F. Craig. A building is to be erected as soon as a site can be procured, until that time the business of the company will be conducted at the corner of 40th street and Lancaster avenue, in George W. Hancock's office.

PITTSBURG is about to indulge in a new enterprise, by which it will add one more substance to the rapidly increasing list of fire-proof building materials. This important enterprise will be known as the Terra-cotta Lumber Company, and it will be backed by a large number of well-known citizens, with Mr. W. D. Henry as president. The object of the company is the manufacture of what is called terra-cotta lumber, out of sawdust and clay. This combination, so it is claimed, makes a strong durable substance, capable of being sawed and cut into any desired size and shape, and combining the best qualities of ordinary brick and terra-cotta, besides possessing the advantage of being fire-proof. This material is quite well known in the West, particularly in Chicago, where a large number of dwellings have been built of it during the last year, but is altogether new to Pittsburg. The process is well covered by patents, and the incorporators are very sanguine concerning the success of the new enterprise.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. SEPT. 4, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE business streets have been pretty well honey-combed with electric lights and other sub-ways. The proposition is, we believe, to make wire connections with houses when the same are needed. The conundrum presents itself right here as to whether the Electric Light Companies are to be allowed to dig up newly paved streets to make the connections, without it how are they to be made?

THERE is a great deal of work to be done in the way of placing this city in good shape. The work of renovation must be systematic. It is folly to neglect the sewers while spending money on the surface of the streets. Rotten sewers are liable to precipitate an expensive calamity at any time. Commence work at the bottom First make sure of the sewers. Then pave the streets, and when down, the pavement should remain down.

THIS is really an era of land buying. The aim of the average man seems to be to own a lot at least. Everywhere throughout the whole country the people are buying lots. The demands like the supply, seems inexhaustible. The genius of the lot sellers discount the best efforts of the patent medicine men in their palmist days. This will continue, no doubt, so long as the money holds out, or until a higher rate of interest is offered by the savings fund societies.

WE want a drive to the Park! A drive free from car tracks, well paved with asphalt, wide enough to merit the name of a boulevard, a drive lined with sidewalks margined with handsome trees and magnificent residences. It is the want of such an approach, to what is justly conceded to be the finest park in the world, that first strikes a stranger.

Strangers gauge the enterprise of a city by such evidences of push and thrift, and they seldom miss it in their conclusions.

THE New York World's statement to the effect that a syndicate proposes to precipitate a money panic unless the United States Government buys, at exorbitant prices, $20,000,000 worth of government bonds, said to be within its control, is too foolish to be true. Such an effort might cause some local business trouble in New York, but we doubt the ability of any set of men to corner the money market of the whole country. The proposition sounds more like a bear movement against the New York stock market.

AND now the good wife and little ones return, after a summer's outing, with bronzed faces and fresh vitality; and the good old man, who has stayed at home with his business cares and troubles, is pleased at the re-appearance on the denuded mantels, and in cozy corners of the old home, of a hundred little bric-a-brac things of little value in themselves, but which were religiously packed away for fear the practical old curmudgeon might have broken them. How wonderfully careful of these nothings, and comprehensive of our tastes and wishes the good wives are.

THE latest nickel and slot scheme consists of an electric reading lamp, which has been adopted by an English railroad for the use of travelers, the apparatus being placed immediately over the reader's head. An English penny introduced in the slot and the pressure of a small knob starts off a five candle power electric light, which burns for just one-half hour, and then goes out of itself, to be renewed at any time by the introduction of another penny. But there is a peculiarly honest feature about this machine, which is a standing reflection upon all of the American drop-a-nickel in the slot machines.

If the English machine is out of order, the penny goes straight through, and is easily recoverable by the owner, as is also the case if a coin of lighter weight is inserted.

THE $1,350,000 asked for by the Highway Department for 1890 is not more than enough to meet the urgent demands of the streets and sewers for immediate attention, and the probability is, that the amount will be scaled down by Councils in making the appropriation at least $250,000.

That the streets are in a villanous condition no one can deny, in fact the citizens in many sections of the city are justly indignant over the bad condition of the streets and sewers; considerable criticism having been already expressed not in the least favorable to the efficiency of the Highway Department. The only way to make needed improvements expeditiously is to impose a tax rate high enough to furnish sufficient money to pay for them, former methods of street tinkering is only prolonging the agony. The most conservative tax payer would be better satisfied with an unusually temporary high tax rate if he could see that his money was being expended for lasting and permanent improvements.

ON August 13th, inst., a young man in Pittsburgh tendered his own will for filing in the office of the Register of Wills. Of course it was refused as being contrary to law. Yet, there seems to be a good deal of common sense in the young man's proposition. No one was more capable of testifying to the fact that it was truly his last will and testament. No one could possibly forge a will that had been filed and properly proven before competent authority to receive the proof by the person making it. A law, permitting the filing of a will, tendered for registry by the person making it, would do away with much of the litigation arising through the nature of the present law. The proof of the authenticity of such a will would be established before death. The instrument itself would be in safe keeping. It could not be lost, and would have to be purposely purloined by an officer whose duty it was to care for it, and even if the original could be stolen, it could be entered on record and become a record of the county, in the same manner as a deed conveying real estate. We believe that the Pittsburgh young man unconsciously solved the great problem, of proving wills, which has disturbed the courts for many years.

THE stained glass windows for the St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church on Twenty-third and Berks streets this city, are to cost about $20,000. The work is being done in Munich and when completed the windows will be sent to this country and will be allowed to enter free of duty under the false plea of sacred things, many of the leading stained glass houses of this city were invited to estimate for this work, one concern we know of, did so at an expense of $150 for designs &c. There is a bit of caustic nin. com-poopism underlying the above statement that makes us comment upon it. In the first place here is an American church, supported by an American congregation, that has cheerfully contributed a large amount of American money from time to time to beautify its place of worship, and yet under the peculiar dogmas of protection to American labor, that condition of affairs is permitted to exist that will exact such a duty from stained glass itself as a raw material, as to make competition with foreign houses impossible, while permitting at the same time the self same raw material to be worked into church windows representing thousands of dollars in value, to be entered through our custom house entirely free of duty.

If the foreign stained glass work represented even a trifle of either artistic or mechanical superiority over the American, it might be offered as a reasonable justification for the preference that has been given in this case to the foreign production, but when it has been established beyond a possibility of contradiction and we know whereof we speak, that the productions of our own Philadelphia artists and workmen in stained glass are equal and have been in many cases greatly superior to the best efforts of the best European shops, then we say the whole proposition must seem to every American simply disgusting.

It is well known that all of the European stained glass workers are hot foot after American church work, and there is scarcely one of them that has not a resident American agent, whose standing instructions are to get the work at any price.

Under what element of sophistry can the most rabid protectionist justify an act of Congress that permits this state of affairs to exist, we are for protection to American labor tooth and nail but we are not open for hoo doo-ism of any kind nor from any quarter.

THE outlook for real estate this fall is good. A noticeable increase in transfers is already apparent. Houses will, we think, continue to sell at a reasonably fair profit to the builders, and we can see no reason why the aggregate of sales for the last six months of 1889 should not at least equal the sales of the last half of 1888. While we are not naturally inclined to conservative ideas, we are sufficiently strong in our faith in the future of this city, to believe real estate, within the city limits, to be a good investment for those having money to invest, and while we would oppose the introduction of Western speculative methods, known as options, believing them to exercise the worst possible influence upon the growth of any city, or the prosperity of the people: yet we have entire faith in that system which encourages the industrious mechanic, clerk, or merchant to assume a reasonable share of debt in order that he may become a home-owner, the liquidation of which, becomes an active incentive to greater effort and greater economy.

It is the expression of this principle which places Philadelphia so grandly foremost as a place of residence, for home-owners are, as a rule, far better neighbors and citizens than those whose only assurance of land ownership is in the six feet of cemetery clay to which their friends may lay claim after death. The people have faith in him who has faith in himself; and the man, single or married, who invests his savings in a house and lot, with the view of having it free and clear some day, is a better man to tie to than the other fellow who lives without a home, indifferent as to the outcome.

The City's Expenses for 1890.

According to Controller Dechert, the estimates made by the heads of departments for expenses for the year 1890, are as follows:

Department of Charities and Correction:

Total.....$19,045,332

The estimates for 1890 are just $461,285 in excess of the amount asked for by the department chiefs for city expenses for 1889, the amount being for 1889 $18,584,047, which amount was reduced by councils in making the appropriations to $15,835,050. The appropriation of $4,169,481.40, to pay interest and state tax on city loans. The 4 per cent. loan and for the money in the sinking fund is not included in the above for either 1889 or 1890.

THE MASTER BUILDERS' EXCHANGE.—According to a circular about to be issued, the exhibition department of the Master Builders' Exchange, about to open, is to be a permanent display of all kinds of materials, natural or artificial, modes of construction, new appliances, inventions, etc., for building purposes. The object is to give manufacturers, dealers, inventors, and agents an opportunity to place before the trade and the public, their materials and devices in such a manner as to intelligently show their worth as constructing and finishing elements. The room in which the display is to be made will occupy the entire first floor of the Exchange, well lighted and arranged with aisles and platforms necessary for a proper exhibition of the various articles, which will be arranged as follows:

1. Stone, all kinds. 2. Bricks, Terra-Cotta and Artificial Stone. 3. Lumber, rough and manufactured. 4. Wrought and Cast Iron, plain and ornamental. 5. Sheet Metal Work, plain and ornamental. 6. Roofing Slate, Tiles, Slag, etc. 7. Plumbing, Gas and Steam Fitting and materials. 8. Heaters, Ranges, Registers and Ventilators. 9. Plastering, Stucco Work and Plaster Ornaments. 10. Ornamental Tiles, Fire Places, Mantels, etc. 11. Hardware and Artistic Metal Work. 12. Stained, Cut, Plate and Ornamental Glass. 13. Paints, Coloring and Cement. 14. Gas Fixtures, Electric Lighting, Bells and Tubes. 15. Miscellaneous articles.

The committee, acting in a strictly impartial manner, will prevent the admission of any article of doubtful reputation. The superintendent will at all times be present to explain the merits of the various displays.

The all around practicability of this plan is at once seen, and will, no doubt, be appreciated by all those who are interested in building of all descriptions.

The following meetings will be held in the rooms of the Exchange during September:
Monday, 2d—Plasterers, 8 P. M.
Monday, 2d—Stonecutters, 8 P. M.
Tuesday, 3d—Board of Directors, 8 P. M.

A New Club For Builders.

A number of gentlemen connected with the Master Builders' Exchange have formed an organization which they have called the Exchange Club. The object is to meet socially and discuss matters pertaining to their business. The officers are Miles King, President; George W. Roydhouse, Vice-President; John F. Prince, Treasurer; Julius C. Stratz, Secretary. Application has been made for a charter.

The Electric Age.

Professor Elisha Gray remarks that electrical science has made a greater advance in the last twenty years than in all the six thousand historic years preceding. More is discovered in one day now than in a thousand years of the middle ages. We find all sorts of work for electricity to do. We make it carry our messages, drive our engine, ring our door bell and scare the burglar; we take it as a medicine, light our gas, and see by it, hear from it, talk with it, and now we are beginning to teach it to write.—Scientific American.

RESPECTING the painting of cottages, we have observed a cottage surrounded by green lawns and foliage, painted as follows: First story body, medium drab; second story body, light terra cotta; trimmings, dark brown; the sashes, light red; outside doors, medium drab; foundation and chimneys, red brick; all roofs, dark red.

Lot-Buyers.

Architects and others had better correspond with the following lot buyers, as many of them contemplate building.

John A. Baker, of Pa., lot same place, $650.
John Bauman, of Penn., Pa., lot same place, $290.

James Smith, of Mifflin, Pa., lot same place, $357.

Thomas Hackett will erect two three-story dwellings on Ann street, cost, $4,000. Kountz Bros., contractors. Philip Schmitt will erect a three-story store and dwelling on Penn avenue, cost, $7,000. M. Simon, contractor. James T. Steen will erect six two-story and mansard dwellings, cost, $9,000. Chas. Reif, Jr., & Bros., contractors. It has been decided by those having in charge the renovating of St. Paul's Catholic Cathedral to put in eight handsome stained glass windows at a cost of about five hundred dollars each. At a recent meeting of the Executive Committee of the South side Hospital, the subject of a new hospital was favorably discussed. Overtures have been made for the purchase of a site on which to erect a new building. The site proposed is worth about $10,000, and the estimated cost of a new building including furniture is $40,000. Drs. Duif, Arrhoeet and Thomas are members of the Executive Committee. Mr. T. C. Jenkins has bought one and one-third acres of ground on Ellenworth avenue at Shadyside, on which he will erect a handsome modern residence. The price paid for the ground was $55,000. W. A. Herron & Sons, Real Estate Agents, have sold a lot on Forbes street for $6,250. The purchaser, a prominent business man, will erect a handsome residence to cost $10,000. The same firm is negotiating the sale of a number of lots in the same neighborhood as the above, on which fine dwellings will be erected. T. D. Evans architect, 605 Smithfield street, has finished the plans for St. John's Catholic Church at Johnstown. The new structure will be of gothic style of architecture, built of brick and stone, and will have a seating capacity of one thousand. The same architect is preparing the plans for a large 5-story granite building to be erected in Virgin Alley, Pittsburgh. This structure will be occupied by the Press and Mr. J. Hendricks. The owner is Charles Meyran, of the Germania Savings Bank. Architect J. P. Bailey, of Sixth avenue, is preparing plans for a new wing to the Normal School at Clarion. The particulars of this building have not yet been decided. Architects Messrs. Bickel & Brennan have finished the plans for the new school to be erected in Allegheny by the Little Sisters of the Poor. This school will be 96 by 112 feet, and three stories in height with a basement. The same architects are working on plans for the new Catholic German schools of Allegheny. Philip Schmitt will erect a brick store and dwelling at 2919 Penn avenue, to cost $7,000. A fourth avenue real estate dealer is negotiating the sale of a site on which to erect an iron plant to cost $100,000. The details of this transaction cannot yet be made public, but the deal has gone far enough to insure the completion of the works at an early day. James Dilworth has taken out a permit for the erection of a handsome dwelling to cost about $30,000. W. F. Casey will erect eight two-story and mansard dwellings to cost $28,000. Doerflinger & Fisher will erect eight dwellings to cost $20,000. Mrs. Miriam Hays will erect a residence to cost $10,000. A residence to cost $10,000 will also be erected by Mrs. Annie Jack, and one to cost about $9,000 will also be erected by Mr. Thomas Hackett. It is said that two well known capitalists are figuring on the purchase of the Hampton property at Wilksburg, and have offered $50,000 for the site, the intention being to use it for the erection of a large hotel to be used chiefly as a summer resort. A. F. Brown will erect a dwelling to cost $7,200, and George R. West two stone and frame dwellings to cost $6,000. Robinson & Kenney will erect a brick dwelling to cost about $5,000.

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

and all purposes where durability united with beauty of appearance is desired.

Metalithic unites in its composition a vast improvement over all the advantages claimed for other processes of paving and flooring.

The galvanized iron chain (spiked at each angle) used in its construction, neutralizes the effect of heat and cold, and thus prevents cracking and bulging, one of the most serious objections to other systems. This method has the unqualified indorsement of all Architects, Engineers, Contractors and individuals, firms and corporations who have used it, for strength, beauty and durability, and is rapidly superseding other systems wherever brought in competition. Licenses, Patent Rights and all processes for Cities, Counties and States, will be granted to responsible parties on liberal terms, by addressing:

[Washington Letter to the Lansdale, Pa., Republican.]

The great American Exposition of 1892 will be held in Washington and under the auspices of the National Government. This may be accepted as an absolute certainty notwithstanding certain feeble efforts of New York and Chicago people to secure the great attraction, and using it for local advertising purposes at the expense of the nation.

A Volume of Information on Tin Roofs, Free of Cost.

If you have decided to place a tin roof upon your house, you should, in justice to yourself, obtain the best possible information in regard to tin for roofing purposes. No property owner can afford to remain ignorant, when a whole volume of information devoted to the selection, laying and painting of a tin roof can be had for the asking. Messrs. Merchant & Co., of this city, are conceded to be authority on tin roofs. They have devoted much time, labor and money in presenting, in readable shape, a mass of facts upon this subject, which are of great interest to property owners. The constant inquiry from property owners for these books evinces the fact that there is considerable quick thinking being done just now by a large number of gentlemen, who have heretofore given the subject very little consideration. What the outcome will be, almost any one can anticipate. A better class of roofing is sure to follow, as a natural consequence. A wise property owner will send for Merchant & Co.'s new book; and, after reading it, he will certainly conclude that there was much that he did not know upon the subject of tin roofs.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. SEPT. 11, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

SECRETARY SAYWARD, of the National Builders Association says that the architects of Boston are the crankiest set in America, and the toughest lot ever placed on earth. Sayward has met all kinds, he is generally regarded as a good one in sizing up an architect.

WHAT better place for Mr. Eben Appleton's original American Flag than on our own Independence Hall. A thing so sacred would need no greater protection than the self-same spirit of respect and veneration in which the old building is held by every one, besides which, such a combination would add to the interest and glory of each.

ENGLISH capital is piling into this country in amazing quantities. It is estimated that over $200,000,000 of English money has found investment in this country during the last twelve months. Mr. Erastus Wiman says that the trend of English money is to the United States, that at least $50,000,000 has been invested in American breweries.

THE people of Buffalo, N. Y., point with pride to their sixty miles of asphalt pavement, and a ride in a buggy over the asphalt is considered the best compliment that can be paid a stranger. Perhaps, in the course of time our citizens and their good representatives in Councils may become impressed with the value of asphalt as a street paving material. The trouble is, asphalt is so great an improvement over any stone pavement that was ever thought of, that we are not likely to enjoy much of it in this city for a generation or two at least. The innovation of street and other improvements is a painfully slow process in this vicinity.

WESTERN mortgages have not escaped the attention of English capitalists, and it is stated that a syndicate having at its head the English house of Baring Bros., has been organized.

It is expected that by November 1st next, arrangements will be perfected for the placing of about $8,000,000 on mortgage, $15,000,000 to be placed yearly, thereafter for some time to come. Mr. C. M. Thomas, of New York, is said to be the American agent of the syndicate. Mr. Thomas is now investigating matters in the West, and will extend his investigations as far westward as Washington Territory. To insure safety all mortgages are to be passed upon by a board of auditors in New York. Everything in the way of a mortgage on Kansas real estate, is to have the preference.

THE man who builds a house with a poor roof, is even worse than the other fool, who built upon the sand. There is positively nothing inside or outside of the building that is put to such a severe test as the roof. The front, the back, the sides of every building, are more or less sheltered, but the roof is always on duty. It must stand the burning heat of summer as well as the severest blasts of winter. Its cares are unrelenting. It must have back bone enough to take the hardest thumps without wincing. It needs a conscience, for a roof without a conscience has little regard for the mine of wealth that may be hoarded beneath it, or the sleeping, trusting, helpless beings who with unflinching faith in its sheltering powers enter dreamland without a thought of danger. Pitch hot as we go, might have been good enough during the dark ages, but nineteenth century houses and nineteenth century civilization require something better than good enough for pig sty or wood shed roofs. Having settled upon the kind of roof, buy the best of that kind.

It is very evident that a much larger sum of money is needed for immediate improvements than the 1.85 tax rate can be made to yield, under the present assessed value of real estate.

An increased tax rate of even 2.85 on the present assessed value with the understanding that it was to be for one year only would be infinitely preferable to an increase in the assessed value of real property. One or the other horns of the dilemma must be accepted, and if public sentiment defeats the proposition to increase the rate of taxation, we believe that a noticeable increase in future assessments of real estate will surely follow.

The difficulty the latter proposition would present, would be its reduction to a minimum when such a large amount of money would not be required for improvements. The fact is, this is a good time to spend money for city improvements, as the city seems to be getting more for the money expended just now, than for a long time back; no matter what else may be said against Fittler's administration, no one can charge it with dishonesty. No one can tell what the future may bring forth, for the crop of dandy mayors has not been exhausted by any means.

OPINIONS have been expressed that an increased tax rate would have a depressing influence upon the sale of real estate. It certainly could not exercise such lasting injury as an increase in assessed values, for it is probable that such an increase would be permanent at least for some time to come, any considerable increase in the tax rate would cause a serious loss to builders having a large number of unsold properties on hand. No discrimination in their favor can be made because article 19 of the Constitution of Pennsylvania provides for a uniform rate of taxation, the discrimination in favor of rural property being controlled by the tax being imposed on two thirds of its assessed value instead of the whole as a city property. The city is indebted to the enterprise and energy of the builders for its great growth and development. These men have expended hundreds of thousands of dollars in re-claiming and erecting thousands of houses upon lands that were formerly of little account to either the city treasury or their former owners and a heavier tax rate would inflict upon them serious financial loss against which there seems to be no remedy. This would be a sad reward to them for the nerve and pluck they have shown, now that their good work is so nearly completed.

There is a vast amount of difference between things American and things English. The American tourists are greatly impressed with this fact as soon as they reach their hotels. Sensible Americans readily distinguish the difference and do not permit themselves to become infused with either English ways or English prejudices. London alone can justly lay claim in the matter of elevators to an equality with any American city. Throughout the small provincial towns of England the "lift" or elevator is almost entirely unknown, of course, a few are seen, but they are the exceptions. The foreign lift is a slow, uncanny affair at its best, in fact there are very few elevators to be found either in England or on the Continent that will begin to compare with those of American make, they are extremely slow, usually requiring as much time in making the ascent of a single story as it does for the average American elevator to travel to the top of a ten-story building.

In many of the most pretentious hotels of Italy, elevators are unknown, the proprietors regarding them as useless appendages to a hotel of any class. There are a few hotels that have them, but they are of a kind even worse than those of their English neighbors.

A party of four recently entered the elevator of an Italian hotel, the power was applied, but to their amazement the thing would not move, and could only be made to rise after one of the party had vacated, he walked up the long stairway and was at the top as soon as his companions, when the party wished to descend they looked in vain for an electric button, there was none, they were obliged to walk down, on making inquiry at the office the clerk was seized with amazement, he thought that it was only necessary for the lift to take the guests up as the walking down was such an easy matter.

The fact is, America is far ahead of Europe in the application of mechanical science and skill to the benefit, comfort and convenience of the people, and there is positively nothing more noticeable than the superiority of the American elevator over those of foreign make throughout the whole of Europe.

VOLUMES of sentiment have been wasted upon industries that have been well able to take care of their own interests for years, but the manufacture of stained glass work has never been considered worthy the attention of the kite-flying statesmen who seem to seek the most protection for those industries that represent the most votes. Stained glass work in America can be justly regarded as an infant industry, for a little more than a decade ago it was in a very crude condition, and buyers of artistic work were compelled to go abroad for fine pieces, in fact, American talent was unable to meet the demand for fine work. About ten years ago, however, a new style was introduced, which has entirely superseded the former American combinations of colored and cathedral glass, which was little more than a blending of inharmonious colorings, unfit for sacred or other highly artistic purposes.

To-day America ranks equal, at least in sacred, life-size and other artistic painted and stained glass work, with any country in the world.

The progress of the stained glass interests in this country is not in the least due to protection, for the industry is entirely without any governmental protection except in the matter of cheap work of foreign manufacturers on which a duty is imposed, in order to protect the American product. But this kind of protection amounts to very little in face of the fact that the best work of foreign manufacture, if only ordered for church purposes and imported in the name of church officers, priests, rectors or pastors, is allowed to enter free of duty, while at the same time it represents the cheapest kind of foreign labor, and is made from raw material purchased in a home market at prices so low that the two influences together make it impossible for American manufacturers to compete for the work, because there is no American raw material in the first place, and in the second place the imported raw material is taxed out of sight to protect an industry that does not exist in America. It is true that colored glass is manufactured and sold in this country, but thus far has not been entirely satisfactory either in coloring or quality required for fine work. It might be advanced that such as it is, is good enough until by experience and development the American glass manufacturer could furnish better. Such a policy would be disastrous to the stained glass worker in America, because the people's tastes have been educated for fine artistic work, and church figure and other work, it is said, could never be produced from American glass. What the American stained glass worker asks for, is that foreign church work be taxed in such a manner as to give him an equal chance with foreign shops that pay less wages and less than half the price for the same raw material that he must buy at double prices, owing to the heavy duty imposed upon it by our Government and which makes competition against the agents of foreign houses impossible. The fact is that America is the only country in the world that imposes a tariff tax upon raw material, while admitting free of duty foreign manufactured work made from the same material. It is this kind of protection that is fast killing off American industries.

AN enthusiastic historian, evidently employed to specifically boom Kansas City, Mo., thus modestly sets forth his claims:

"She is the first steam railroad centre in the United States! She is the first cable railroad city in the world! She is the second pork and cattle market in the world. Her bank clearings (indications of amount of mercantile business) are only exceeded by eight cities, namely: New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco, Pittsburg and Baltimore. Her United States postoffice pays "Uncle Sam" the largest percentage of revenue of any first-class office. She stands fifth in amount of telegraph business and ninth in number of telephones. Her population to-day is over 230,000.

The number of new brick buildings erected since January 1, 1889, in the city limits (hundreds more have been erected outside of city limits of which no record is made,) is as follows: 523 at a cost of $4,043,730, and to this must be added an equal or greater number of frame buildings costing several millions of dollars.

WHAT a grand thing it would be for this good old city, it there were a half dozen daily Journals possessing the stiff back bone proclivities of the Philadelphia Record. In its issue of the 4th instant, it tears the liver, lights and heart out of the Reading Railroad Company's answer to the application of the City Solicitor for any information to restrain the building of the Reading elevated in the following unmistakable language.

The canons of construction as applied to a constitution differ radically from those which apply to acts of Assembly. A constitution may authorize free railroads, and yet not empower Mr. Roberts or Mr. Corbin to roll the wheels of Juggernaut over every street in the city without municipal assent.

While Councils may not forbid or prevent the construction of a railroad, they may prescribe police regulations to protect life and property. They may determine the height at which streets shall be crossed or the speed at which trains shall run at grade or the character of structures to be built over the roadway. To deny the power of a city to do these things would be an insolent disregard of public rights which no Court in Pennsylvania would sanction.

THE West Jersey Press reports a rumor to the effect that there is a scheme on foot to construct an electric railroad across New Jersey to connect New York and Philadelphia, a company known as The Electric Automatic Railroad Company, controlling the Weems' method, is anxious to build the road.

History of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The 24th of the following September (1889), will have rounded out the first hundred years of the great judiciary act that set in motion the legal machinery of the United States courts. At our Centennial Exposition in 1876 the vast acres of machinery were set in motion at a fixed hour by President Grant. By the signature of President Washington, the constitutional provision for a judicial power of the government was made operative, and that great and important branch of our government was put in action by the Act of September 24, 1789. We are told by Van Santvoord in his "Lives of the Chief Justices of the United States," that "on the very day of the approval of the judiciary bill, the President sent into the Senate the name of John Jay for the office of Chief Justice, and the names of the following gentlemen for the offices of associate justices of the Supreme Court: John Rutledge, of South Carolina; Wm. Cushing, of Massachusetts; Benjamin H. Harrison, of Maryland; James Wilson, of Pennsylvania; and John Blair, of Virginia, who were immediately confirmed. General Washington had been earnestly desirous of securing the services and well-known ability of Mr. Jay, in support of the new government; and the position in which he was now placed was the one which Jay himself had preferred, as most in accordance with his tastes, his previous studies and habits of life.

The framing of the "Judiciary Act" was largely the work of Oliver Ellsworth, afterwards Chief Justice of the United States, and the draft of the bill is from his pen. Of this Act, Mr. Ellsworth is justly entitled to claim chief paternity; and for that reason, if for no other, as one of his eulogists remarked, he ought to be spoken of with peculiar reverence by the American bar. The first term of the Supreme Court was held in New York in February, 1790.

The following are the names of the Chief Justices of the United States since the organization of the Court:

John Jay, 1794; John Rutledge, 1795; Oliver Ellsworth, 1796; John Marshall, 1801; Roger B. Taney, 1835; Salmon P. Chase, 1863; Morrison B. Waite, 1874; Melville W. Fuller, 1888.

Members of the Court as now Constituted.—Melville W. Fuller, C. J., Ill.; Associate Justices, Samuel F. Miller, Iowa; Stephen J. Field, Cal.; Joseph P. Bradley, N. J.; John M. Harlan, Ky.; Stanley Matthews (deceased), Ohio; Horace Gray, Mass.; Samuel Blatchford, N. Y.; Lucius Q. C. Lamar, Miss. Salary of Chief Justice, $10,500; Associate Justices, $8,000.

Attorneys and Counsellors—To practice before the Supreme Court of the United States they must have been practitioners for three years in the Supreme Courts of the States to which they respectively belong.—Balt. Daily Record.

The educational report in India for 1888 shows that there were 3,460,844 pupils in the schools, and 240,472 scholars in the private schools, being about 11.8 per cent. of the entire pupils of the school-going age in that vast country.

"You cannot have good architecture merely by asking people's advice on occasions; all good architecture is the expression of national life and character; and it is produced by a prevalent and eager national taste or desire for beauty."—Ruskin.

A RUSHING, growing country like the United States demands more reds and yellows in decoration than cold blues and greens, and decorators who make a note of this will find more employment for their talents than by being ministers of melancholy in their coloring.

A DETACHED cottage standing on a avenue where there is little or no foliage, has the first story body, dark drab; second story body, burnt sienna; trimmings, dark green; the sashes, dark red; outside doors, dark drab; foundations and chimneys, red brick; the roof, red.

It is astonishing to find how often well-judged but comparatively inexpensive decoration will change an interior of gloomy aspect into one of brightness. The value of the influence of such decoration on the minds of a growing family should not be overlooked.

House Painting and Decorating.

House Painting and Decorating, for September has come to hand brighter and fresher than ever. This is one of the best periodicals devoted to decorating and painting that we have ever seen. It is not only ably edited, but is so thoroughly explicit and practical in the handling of its subject matter that any one can find much interesting reading within its covers. The work is in its fourth volume, and its success dates from the issue of its first number.

THE fashion of placing objects like coins, in scribed bricks, etc., under or in the corner stone of an important building, says one of our exchanges, is very ancient. M. de Sarzez found four such hiding places in the foundations of a palace built by a very ancient king of Chaldea, called Gudea, whose headless statue is now in the Louvre. There were sacred coins and statuettes of clay, seals and other amulets for protection against bogeys, and tablets or cylinders of clay inscribed. The fashion is found later in Babylonia and Assyria. Nabonidus the last king of Babylonia, while restoring the Temple of the Sun at Larsa, found the original foundation cylinder, according to his own statement, on one which he placed in the cavity. He boasts that Kurigalzu (about B. C. 1250) and Esarhadon (B. C. 680-667) had sought for it in vain. Unfortunately this most ancient cylinder has not been found. Perhaps he kept it for his own library. In his late excavations at Naucratis, Egypt, the English explorer Petrie, found under the four corners of a building erected during the Greek Ptolemy reigns miniature models of all the tools used in the work, and small specimens of all the materials from a tiny brick to a slip of gold and bits of lapis lazuli. These objects are now in the British Museum.—The Pittsburg Buildest's Gazette.

It is not generally known that the use of turpentine with colors is in many instances detrimental to their permanence. The mixing of turpentine with colors when painting explains much of the change which we often see take place in a day or two after they have been applied to the canvas. This sometimes arises from the impurity of the spirit, or from some material of a caustic nature being mixed with it to clarify it, but often it is the result of the immediate contact of one color with another which the use of turpentine favors. Many colors are chemically antagonistic to one another, even when carefully manufactured. Mixing them with turpentine brings them into contact so close that they begin to act on one another immediately after they come together, when a visible change soon ensues.

The old Roman wall of London, laid bare by the excavations for the new post office at St. Martin's-le Grand, becomes daily more interesting to antiquarians as further portions are uncovered. A London paper notes the fact and then goes on to say: "From the better view now obtained it is evident that the Romans dug about four feet into the London clay, filled up the trench for two feet with a mixture of clay and flints, surmounted this structure with two feet of the hardest concrete, and then laid the tiles in sets of three courses, each separated by five feet of stonework. Apparently the wall was one foot six inches high. A bastion has been found at the northwest corner of the ground exactly coinciding with that marked on the map of Strype's edition of Stow, in 1756, but seemingly of later work than Roman times, probably mediæval. Many pits have also been found filled with animals' bones, which may either have been used for the rubbish of the city or for the refuse of the slaughter houses in the butchers' colony, which from Saxon times existed close by in Moorgate street, etc. When the site of the French Protestant church is excavated it is expected that a complete section of the wall and the ancient town ditch may be discovered."—Fire and Water.

A Hint for Builders.

Yankees, as a rule, are equal to any emergency, what the average Yankee mechanic fails to conjure up at a time when his wits are most needed, are very handy in the room for foreign genies to think and work in.

Yet it remained for M. Molard, a French architect to contrive an original and ingenious plan for straightening the walls of the Conservatoire de Arts et Metiers, which threatened an absolute collapse owing to the extreme weight of the roof. A series of strong iron bars were carried across the building from wall to wall, passing through holes in the walls, and were secured by nuts on the outside. In this state they would have been sufficient to have prevented the further separation of the walls by the weight of the roof, but it was desirable to restore the walls to their original state by drawing them together. This was effected in the following manner: Alternate bars were heated by lamps fixed beneath them. They expanded and consequently the nuts, which were previously in contact with the walls, were no longer so. These nuts were then screwed up so as to be again in close contact with the walls. The lamps were withdrawn and the bars allowed to cool. In cooling they gradually contracted, and resumed their former dimensions; consequently the nuts, pressing against the walls, drew them together through a space equal to that through which they had been screwed up. Meanwhile the intermediate bars were heated and expanded, and the nuts screwed up as before. The lamps being again withdrawn, they contracted in cooling, and the walls were further drawn together. This process was continually repeated, until at length the walls were restored to their perpendicular position. The gallery may still be seen with the bars extending across it and binding together its walls.

The London Daily Chronicle gives the following interesting description of how wall paper is made from first to last. The paper is hand-made which is exceedingly tough, is made from the paper plant known to botanists as Edgeworthia papyrifera which makes many a garden gay with its bright globular clusters of flowers in the early spring. All but the first of these pieces of paper, which are about six yards in length, are pasted, three or four going to make the required thickness. Two small boys stand one at either end of the cylinder, armed with small long handled brushes thick set with soft bristles; and when they have arranged the layers of pasted paper upon it, they begin vigorously hammering it with their brushes, turning the cylinder as each section is finished. The paper when finished is a kind of repose work. When it is thoroughly dried, it receives its first ornamentation, which is invariably tin-metal. In a great number of cases the embossed pattern is of gold or silver on a groundwork of color. In this case the whole of the piece is covered with the metal, the colored ground being stencilled in afterward. To fix the thin sheets of gold or silver, recourse is had again to thick-set soft brushes. This time, as so much force is not required, they are wielded by girls. The metal fixed, the piece passes into the hands of another bevy of girls, who rub the color on through the stencil plates with a dexterity and rapidity which is almost bewildering. Owing to the rough manner in which the paper is beaten out, it frequently happens that the pattern does not come on quite regularly. The stenciling girls have to be on the alert for any of these irregularities, and have to move the plates in order to prevent the color overlapping the design. The girls work in pairs opposite one another, each taking half the breadth of the paper, which is about three feet wide. Each one is followed by an attendant, brush in hand, who wipes away any slips and fills in the joints left by the plates. This practically concludes the process, the rolls of papers being then sent off to the Tokio agency to supply the orders which come in fast from every quarter of the globe.

At New York City, the Second German Baptist Church will erect a new church building two stories high, at 407 and 409 West 43d street. It will be of brick and stone, and will cost $25,000. James B. Grim, owner, will erect six four-story brick dwellings on 88th street near West End avenue, they will cost $120,000, Joseph H. Taft is the architect. Mr. W. C. Lanchant, owner, will erect seven brick dwellings to cost $85,000 on 88th street near West End avenue, N. W. Whipple is the architect. The same gentleman is the architect for five four-story brick dwellings to be erected by Frederick Van Tine, at 57 to 65 96th street, to cost $100,000. Mr. Van Tine will also erect five four-story and brown stone dwellings on 96th street near 8th avenue, to cost $260,000. Mr. Whipple is also the architect for this operation. At the northwest corner of Lenox avenue and 120th street a three-story brick church, 50 by 80 feet, to cost $30,000, will be erected by the United Congregational Society, C. B. Atwood is the architect. A. B. Ogden & Son, 409 east 53d street, have designed plans for a five-story brick flat, to be erected by Mr. A. B. Ogden, the head of that firm. It will be of brick, and will cost $20,000, it will be located on Bathgate avenue, near 172d street. Architect R. R. Davis has made plans for three five-story brick flats to be erected by John McChristie, owner, on 115th street near Madison avenue, and to cost $60,000. Mr. Juo. W. and all purposes where durability united with beauty of appearance is desired.

Metalithic unites in its composition a vast improvement over all the advantages claimed for other processes of paving and flooring.

The galvanized iron chain (spiked at each angle) used in its construction, neutralizes the effect of heat and cold, and thus prevents cracking and bulging, one of the most serious objections to other systems. This method has the unqualified indorsement of all Architects, Engineers, Contractors and individuals, firms and corporations who have used it, for strength, beauty and durability, and is rapidly superseding other systems wherever brought in competition. Licenses, Patent Rights and all processes for Cities, Counties and States, will be granted to responsible parties on liberal terms, by addressing:

WANAMAKER'S

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

Recent Decisions.

IN RELATION TO MATTERS CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AND COMMERCIAL LAW.

Decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

NOTES.—Where fraud in procuring a promissory note is sufficiently averred in an affidavit of defence, to a suit upon the note, it establishes a good defence against any but a bona fide holder in value before maturity, and is sufficient to put the plaintiff upon proof of his right as such holder.

When the affidavit of defence states that the note was delivered to the plaintiff "in payment of an old debt," a sufficient defence is not made out.

The distinction between taking a note as absolute, or only as conditional payment and satisfaction of an old debt, is so narrow and depends so entirely on the exact fact, that a defendant should not be deprived of his right to have all the facts fully developed upon a trial, unless the plaintiff's statement sets out such a prima facie case as would meet the defence set up by the affidavit.—Gere vs. Unger, March 7th, 1889.

The words "credit the drawer" on negotiable paper, imply no promise or undertaking upon the part of him who uses them, but are a direction to all persons to whom the note may be presented to treat with the drawer as the owner, notwithstanding the apparent title of the indorsee.—Temple vs. Baker, et al, February 11th, 1889.

POWER OF SALE.—Where a testator devised certain real estate to his widow for life, and directed that after her death his executor should sell the same and pay the proceeds to certain of his children, if the executor sells part of it during the lifetime of the widow with her consent, for the payment of the decedent's debts, without an order of the Orphan's Court, his deed will pass a good title to the purchaser.

The power of the executor to make such a sale cannot be sustained upon his right to make sale for the payment of debts without an order from the Orphan's Court, but upon the widows consent.—Hamlin vs. Thomas, March 14th, 1889.

MORTGAGE.—The holder of a legal title to real estate which is in effect a mortgage, may in turn mortgage that title, and by virtue thereof, the mortgagee takes as security all his mortgagor's title, subject only to the equity of redemption existing against such mortgagor.—Brook vs. Bordner, March 6th, 1889.

USURY.—Where a judgment is entered upon a judgment note, including usurious interest and sometimes afterwards a new judgment note is given in settlement of the former judgment, which is thereupon marked satisfied, the defendant cannot upon the judgment upon the new note being opened set up as a defence pro tanto, the usurious interest included in the former judgment.—Read's Appeals, May 1st, 1889.

RIGHTS OF CREDITORS.—An execution issued or kept on foot with intent to hinder, delay or defraud creditors, and not to make the money, will be postponed to a subsequent writ.

A creditor will not be postponed merely because he issued his writ to prevent other creditors levying on the property, if he does not interfere with the sheriff in the performance of his duty, nor give any directions inconsistent with the exigencies of the writ.

A direction to stay proceedings until further orders, however, or any act evincing an intention not to have a sale of the property, but to hold the writ for the purpose lien, is a waiver of the priority of the execution in favor of another writ coming into the sheriff's hands in the meantime.

Where, however, there is no levy made under the first writ, but the personal property is levied upon and sold under the subsequent execution, the money made belongs to the second execution, leaving the first execution creditor, to an action against the sheriff for redress.—Stroudsburg Bank's Appeal, March 11th, 1889.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. SEPT. 18, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

It is reported that Mr. John M. Sharp having acquired a fortune contemplates retiring from business pursuits at an early day.

We are assured that the stained glass windows now being made at Munich, for St. Elizabeth Church of this city, would have given continuous employment during the entire winter months to at least a dozen American workmen had the order been placed in this country.

It is stated that no less than five Philadelphia churches have recently placed orders for stained glass windows to be made abroad by the "pauper labor of Europe." The so-called foreign paupers, in the stained glass line, seem to be having an enjoyable time, just now, at the expense and discomfiture of American workmen as well as the masters.

DURING the storm which recently expressed its power so disastrously along the Atlantic coast, the wind at no time veered more than one or two points from due north; had it been north-east as many supposed it was, it is doubtful if a single human being on any of the island resorts, from Barnegat Light to Cape May, would have been left to tell the story of the gale. The fact is, the heavy north wind helped largely to overcome the great sea pressure, the general run of the coast being north-east and south-west.

It is becoming a very difficult matter to find journeymen tailors or shoemakers in sufficient numbers, the followers of the latter calling are noticeably growing scarcer yearly. The reason given by the masters, is that both trades are distasteful to the American youth, consequently outside of the machine workshops there is very little, if any, augmentation in the way of American trade learners, while, on the other hand, the foreign workmen are rapidly becoming bosses, while the importation of foreign journeymen tailors and shoemakers has practically stopped for the present.

It strikes the casual observer that the fire escapes connected with the hotels of this city are inadequate for any serious emergency. There is certainly a decided want of efficiency on the part of the department having charge of this branch of the public's safety. Disasters repeat themselves in rapid succession. Forearmed, forewarned; sorrow and lamentation do very little in the way of compensation to the friends of those who have been sacrificed through municipal negligence or indifference. The chances for escape from some of our hotels at present would largely depend upon the ability of a portion of the guests to traverse the corridors of a burning hotel for the length of an entire block.

ON the death of a prominent Boston citizen a number of Boston sculptors were invited to make competitive models of a monument, and send them, together with their names and addresses in a sealed envelope, to a board of judges. The examination was made, and an impartial decision rendered, resulting in favor of the model sent by Miss Annie Whitney. When the envelope was opened, and the fact ascertained that the successful competitor was a woman, the learned critics immediately reversed their decision, as it was too much honor to bestow upon a woman. Miss Whitney, if she intends to compete for other honors, in the city of Boston, would do well to change her name for the occasion, and have her writing done by some one who scrawls a big masculine hand, or she may again feel the deep humiliation of being only a woman.

THE fall real estate business commences poorly, owing to the weather, there is considerable inquiry for houses of the better class, and a fair share of expectant demand for small houses for investment. Of course the croakers are at work with their regular overdone predictions, but this is the usual thing, and carries very little weight with those who have the best right to know just what the outlook is. A prominent West Philadelphia builder said this week that he would keep on building a good character of houses to sell for about $5,000 each, but he intended—as he had always tried to—make them fully worth the price asked. This is really the key-note of the success of many of our best builders. Buyers of houses grow wiser by experience, and respectable builders are reaping their reward for honest building, while, outside of speculative purchasers, the man who has assiduously labored to earn a reputation for rationality, is largely let alone. There is an equitable adjustment in building as there is in everything else, and indeed it would be a sad state of affairs if it were not so. A horse dealer soon gets a reputation as a gyp if he deserves it, and wherein a gyp builder differs from his foster brother we are unable to see. There are so many houses purchased within the city limits for permanent homes that careful and honest building should be the rule, and we believe it is, of course there are exceptions, but they represent the outsiders with more money than either experience or judgment, who are oftentimes as much fooled as the unfortunate purchasers of their houses.

THE Pittsburg Dispatch of the 9th instant gives us the information that the firm of Dixon, Woods & Co., at the corner of South Thirteenth and Jane streets, Pittsburg, have after a series of experiments, embracing some fifteen months, succeeded in producing enameled brick equal to any manufactured in Europe. The Dispatch also incorrectly announces in connection with the above statement, that all efforts heretofore to enamel bricks in this country have been a failure. It also adds that the best enameled brick in the world is made at Leeds, England, and that nearly all the enameled brick used in this country is imported. That last May the Superintendent of the Congressional Library Building, in Washington, tried to place an order for 550,000 enameled bricks in this country, but could find no person who could make them; that the contract was then given to an English firm.

So it seems that the question as to the right of the present high tariff Administration in the face of its promises previous to the election to go abroad after English building material for a United States Government building, like Banquo's ghost; it will not down.

We are not acquainted with the political sentiments of the Dispatch, but we do know its statements as to American enameled brick to be culpably wrong in every particular.

In the first place enameled brick has been made continuously for the last twelve years right here in Philadelphia by the Excelsior Brick and Stone Company at its works on York road, adjoining Hunting Park, and to no point have more of them been shipped than to Pittsburgh, the well-known Pittsburgh houses of C. B. Lovatt & Co. and Bissell & Co. having handled them for years. As to quality, it can better be established by the statement that the American enamel is placed on the face of what is known as the best quality of selected pressed brick, and in such a manner that it is so thoroughly infused that it becomes part of the brick itself and neither heat, weather, acids nor atmospheric influences of any kind will "crack" nor "crizzle" them, and for this very reason they are infinitely superior to the English brick which are pure and simple fire clay—one of the greatest absorbents of moisture known to science—which after being baked in brick form is simply glazed, a principle as foreign to true enameling as whitewashing is to painting, in fact, the glazing of English brick is a surface process similar in every respect to the glazing of pottery, whereas enameling, although of a glassy substance is more fusible, lasting and durable and does not crack, craze nor "crizzle," inasmuch as it enters into the very fibre of what is probably the best clay brick known to the world.

This we think establishes the incorrectness of the Dispatch's statement and fastens the falsity of General Casey's statement misquoted by the Dispatch justifying his purchase of a half million of brick.

The true inwardness of General Casey's English enamel brick purchase is, that for some reason best known to those near the administration, American enameled bricks were purposely excluded.

The specification is dated Washington, April 23d, 1889, and is signed by Bernard R. Green, Superintendent of Engineers. Paragraph No. 2 of the specification states that "the enameled faces of brick must be of ivory white color," this means English glazed brick, for American brick are pearl white, as it is impossible to make true enamel burn an ivory white. The closing paragraphs of the specifications reads as follows: "Prices must be stated in the proposals separately per one thousand bricks of each of the three sorts described both inclusive and exclusive of custom duties on imported bricks, so that if deemed advisable by the United States, said duty may be remitted on the bricks furnished under the contract."

The blank proposal accompanying the specifications provides for duties "included" and duties "excluded."

Is there any sane American who believes in the face of this whole proposition from the beginning to the ending that it was ever intended that an American enameled brick maker should have even a chance to bid, and that Green's advertising for proposals was anything more or less than a ridiculous farce and a wicked waste of the people's money. According to the specifications bids were to be opened on May 16th, 1889. On the 15th day of May the Excelsior Brick Company wrote as follows:

BERNARD R. GREEN,
Superintendent Engineer,
Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR:

The specifications for the furnishing of 550,000 white enameled bricks for building for Library for Congress, are drawn so favorable to the foreign bricks that we are debarred from bidding. If this is the style of the protection of American industry promised by the present party in power, Lord help home manufacturers Signed, H. VERON, Secretary.

General Casey, it will be remembered, said in justification of his purchase of English brick, that he did not receive an American bid, and that he gave the preference to the English, because they were the cheapest and the best. Interrogatively we would ask, how did Casey know that the English brick were the cheapest, if he did not receive a bid for American brick?

DEPUTY COMMISSIONER Thomas Powers was right when he said that the city needed more public bath-houses, and the indications all point toward a big one. A century ago Benjamin Franklin left 1000 pounds to the city, to be used in the best manner deemed possible, and while his scheme of loaning the money to struggling young artisans, the interest to be applied to increase the fund, has not panned out as he hoped it would, yet the principal has increased to the goodly sum of $80,000, and this, together with the Scott fund of $30,000, will build a bath-house, of which the city need not be ashamed. Instead of using the entire $110,000, it would be prudent, and accord with the wish of the great philanthropist, to lay aside a few thousands, as a nest egg, for another century.

The Warren, Elhret Company report a perfect rush of fall business, never since the existence of the concern have orders for roofing been so plenty, in fact, they are constantly advertising for more men with the view of pushing work as far ahead as possible before the coming of frost. The company's slag stone pavement is giving the competitors a royal race for supremacy with advantage decidedly in favor of slag stone. The peculiarities of slag stone, which makes it particularly desirable either for cellar floors or street pavements, is its impacting properties which under the Warren Elhret method of laying it makes it superior to solid stone, from the fact that it is positively a non absorbent, repelling moisture and dampness under all circumstances it fully fills the bill as to cellars, and is gradually commanding a decided preference from builders and owners from its possession of this singularly strong feature.

Morton for the addition to a two-story frame building in the rear of No. 636 North Fourth street was refused. The Horse Car Railroad will change the route of the North Second street cars, starting from Second and State streets, they will run to Delaware avenue and Market streets; to the ferry; thence along Delaware avenue and Federal street to the ferry and depot. The South Second street line, had it not been for the interference of the work by the Johnstown inundation, which caused a stoppage of the work of the company having the contract, would have been changed to South Third street, south from Federal to Line street, and thence to Second and over the present route. The tracks on Second street, south from Federal to Line and on Stevens street, between Second and Third, will be removed entirely, thus avoiding the delays at Second and Bridge avenue, and also the ascent over the bridge, which it is proposed to erect at that point. The entire improvements to the Trinity Baptist Church on Fifth street, have cost about $2,500. It is expected the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will erect a large new passenger station on the property just filled in to the south of the Federal street ferries. Charles C. Van Stege has the contract for the erection of eighteen dwellings on Cramer Hill.

Through Pennsylvania.

Noble, Samuel Patton and Charles J. Horne.

—At McKeesport Allegheny Co., the Tubular Steel Wheel works will erect a large brick building, to be used as a brass foundry. A new public school building will be erected early next fall, the cost will be $50,000. Chauncey W. Haddon, cor. Sixth and Liberty avenue, architect, has prepared plans for a frame residence, for Wm. P. Hendrickson, on Jenny Lind street.

—At Coatesville, Chester Co., carpenters are now finishing the interior of the new bank building, before reported. The Board of Trade has received an offer from a firm of shoe manufacturer who wish to locate in that borough. The firm employs 150 hands, and if proper arrangements can be made, a factory will be erected. The matter was before the Council last week, but no action was taken.

—At Norristown, Montgomery Co., a petition has been filed with the County Court asking for an extension of the corporate limits to include two hundred and forty-six acres, the tract adjoins the town on the west. It is stated that on the upper half of the proposed annex, which joins on Main street, and is the part cut up into lots by the Norristown Improvement Company, fifty handsome residences will be erected next spring.

—At West Chester, Chester Co., Joseph Brinton, of Westtown, Chester Co., has received the contract for furnishing 500 perches of green serpentine stone for the Normal school gymnasium. Dr. J. R. Everhart, has donated a handsome water fountain to the City. The fountain is bronze, elaborately ornamented, and cost $1,500. It will be erected on West Market street. The Fame Fire Company house, before reported, to be erected on Market street, will cost $4,500.

—It was originally intended to build the French Creek Railroad, now in course of construction, from French Creek Falls, to Phoenixville. Subsequently it was decided to strike the Pickering Valley branch of the Reading Railroad, one mile below Kimberton. Both plans have been abandoned, and the new road will connect with the Pickering branch at Kimberton, thus saving the construction of four miles of the original route. There is talk of continuing the road to Lancaster. It is expected track laying will begin in thirty days.

—At Pittsburg, a charter has been applied for, for an electric road from the Allegheny Cemetery gate, connecting with the Citizens' Traction, to run to Sharpsburg and the new town of Aspinwall, on the West Penn R. R. Henry Varner is interested in the new town, and quite a number of lots have been sold, and several handsome residences are projected. At the last meeting of Councils, Mr. Keating presented an ordinance providing for the appropriation of a portion of the Monongahela wharf on the opposite side of the Smithfield street bridge as a site for the new central police station. The proposition is to take 200 feet along Water street, and erect a building, something after the style of the B. and O. station, which can be used for a police station, patrol stable, department warehouse, etc. The estimated cost is about $100,000. Thomas Carlin's Sons have purchased the McFall planing mill property, on River avenue, Allegheny, for $20,000, and will erect a new foundry on the site, they will remove from their present location on Sandusky street, Allegheny City. W. A. Herron & Son, have sold a lot in the new town of Aspinwall, on which the purchaser will erect a residence. A movement is on foot to obtain ground in the Southside for a Park. Two locations are under advisement, one at the head of Castle Shannon Incline, containing about 50 acres, which can be purchased for about $50,000, the other is the property of the late James S. Hays, at Beck's Run, containing about 600 acres valued at about $50,000. Dr. Thomas, of the Southside Hospital is interested in the project. The Board of Managers of the Allegheny General Hospital, will soon take steps concerning the disposition of the $20,000 left to the hospital by the late Wm. Thaw. SEALED PROPOSALS.

PROPOSALS—SEPARATE SEALED PROPOSALS are invited up to noon of September 20th, 1889, for the erection of a hospital building and putting a second floor upon the workshop of the female department of the Pennsylvania Reform School, at Morgantown, Pa. Plans and specifications can be seen and bids left at the office of T. D. Evans, architect, Lewis building, Pittsburg, Pa. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids. By order of the Building Committee.

NOTICE.—TO HOUSE BUILDERS—Sealed Proposals will be received by the undersigned until MONDAY, September 30th, at 4 P. M., for the erection of a hose house and police station, to be erected for the Borough of McKeesport, on Market street. Plans and specifications for the same can be seen at the office of the Borough Clerk, First National Bank Building.

The Council reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

GEORGE ROSSART,
Clerk.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED by the undersigned and marked "Proposals" until 9 A. M., September 19th, 1889, for furnishing all labor and material for extending the present warehouse westward to the east side of Eighteenth street and north side of Market street, Philadelphia. Size of building 64x180 feet, plans and specifications can be seen at 100m 16, annex 233 South Fourth street, Philadelphia.

The Company reserves the right to reject any or all proposals.

WILLIAM H. BROWN,
Chief Engineer,

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at the office of the Supervising Architect, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., until 2 o'clock P. M., on the 26th day of September, 1889, for all the labor and materials required to complete the approaches to the U. S. Court House, Post Office, etc., building, at Louisville, Ky., in accordance with the drawing and specification, copies of which may be had on application at this office, or the office of the Superintendent. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $200. September 5, 1889. JAS. H. WINDRIM, Supervising Architect.

PROPOSALS FOR BUILDING MASONIC Temple—Sealed Proposals for building the Masonic Temple in Nashua, N. H., in conformity with the drawings and specifications, to be seen at the office of Perkins & Bancroft, architects, Academy of Music Building, Haverhill, Mass., will be received by the undersigned until 12 o'clock noon, September 20th, 1889, at which time the proposals will be opened. The directors reserve the right to reject any and all bids. H. A. CUTTER, Secretary Masonic Building Association.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED at the office of the Supervising Architect, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., until 2 o'clock P. M., on the 2d day of October, 1889, for the labor and materials required in the erection and completion of the U. S. Court House, Post Office, etc., at Charlotte, North Carolina (heating apparatus, plumbing and approaches not included), in accordance with the drawings and specification, copies of which may be had on application at this office or the office of the Superintendent. Each bid must be accompanied by a certified check for $500. JAS. H. WINDRIM, Supervising Architect. September 7, 1889.

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

PAVEMENTS AND FLOORS.
and all purposes where durability united with beauty of appearance is desired.

Metalithic unites in its composition a vast improvement over all the advantages claimed for other processes of paving and flooring.

The galvanised iron chain (spiked at each angle) used in its construction, neutralises the effect of heat and cold, and thus prevents cracking and bulging, one of the most serious objections to other systems. This method has the unqualified indorsement of all Architects, Engineers, Contractors and individuals, firms and corporations who have used it, for strength, beauty and durability, and is rapidly superseding other systems wherever brought in competition. Licenses, Patent Rights and all processes for Cities, Counties and States, will be granted to responsible parties on liberal terms, by addressing:

Women in Business Offices.

The editor of the Golden Rule cites an interview with certain business men concerning the relative merits of young men and young women as stenographers, and then remarks: "The young women seem to be the most popular." One business man, however, does not believe in having a young woman around in business hours. "You can't talk business in a manly way," he says, "if there is a woman present, as nearly all men smoke and swear, and when they come into your office and see a woman they feel crippled." This reminds us of the man who objected to having a lady on the school committee, "because you can't sit in your shirt sleeves with your feet on the table, and crack jokes when women are around." All this is complimentary to womanhood, but is a shame and a disgrace to the manhood of the age. It is the common opinion among many young men, that in order to be manly they must be rough and coarse, if not absolutely immoral. The manly man is the boor and the bully. When we hear some of these "manly" young men talking among themselves we feel like invoking up the spirit of a certain country school mistress whom we knew, who was in the habit of washing out the boys' mouths with soap-suds whenever she caught using bad language.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. SEPT. 25, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

At Dr. Sproull's church, in Allegheny City, a telephonic device has been put into use by which deaf persons in the pews are enabled to hear the sermon by putting the receivers to their ears. This application of modern inventions to religious purposes is a new departure, and promises a wide field for future usefulness in the same direction.

THERE must be something after all in American methods, as applied to education, or Archdeacon Farrar would not have sent his son to the United States to be educated as a civil engineer. The archdeacon maintains that our country is about a quarter of a century ahead in matter relating to engineering.

THE stained glass windows for the Roman Catholic Cathedral on Fifth avenue, New York, also those for Grace Episcopal Church, New York, also those in the cathedral at Denver, Col., have been or are to be made in Europe, and have been or will be imported free of duty. There is but one window out of the entire batch that is American, and that was made for Grace Episcopal Church by Miss Tillinghast, of New York.

ACCORDING to a statement said to have been made by the warden of the Eastern Penitentiary, of this State, there are only nineteen mechanics among the 1000 male inmates of that institution. Trade learners acquire habits of thrift and industry. The moral atmosphere of the workshop is much stronger than those of the street corner or groggery. When the trades are opened to American boys, the ratio of petty crime will decrease. It is a pitiful condition of affairs, that while the American mechanic and father industriously follows his calling, he realizes that there is no place among the trades for his boys.

MAYOR FYTLER seems disposed to treat the letters of Mr. William H. Rhawn, the chairman of protesting residents and citizens, against the poor work done by the contractor on the Kensington and Oxford turnpike, with silent contempt. This may seem all right from the Mayor's standpoint, but he can rest assured that the sentiment of the community is certainly with the cause Mr. Rhawn represents. The present is no time for the Mayor, or any one connected with our city government, to ride a high horse. The feeling that a better condition of things should exist in this city is a growing one and this better condition means a better and more exacting expenditure of the people's money, to effect which, the Mayor should place himself within easy reach of every respectable citizen. In fact, the sooner citizens of Mr. Rhawn's high character more generally interest themselves, both in public improvements and in earnest protests against the work and payment of shirking contractors, the sooner will we reach that much desired improvement in city affairs of which his Honor claims to be an earnest champion.

AN ordinance granting permission for the construction of the proposed Belt Line Railroad will soon be submitted to Councils for consideration.

The question of the construction of this road involves many points of great interest to the citizens of this city.

It practically places every member of both branches of Councils on trial, for it leaves no room for shirking, subterfuge or evasion.

The purposes of the contemplated road are as plain and as free from doubt or obscurity as is the brightest sun at high noon.

The question of its construction presents a cold issue between the loyal citizens of this city and a single railroad company, infinitely great as a corporation, greater as an arrogant and selfish monopoly, and still greater as an unscrupulous corrupting influence against the prosperity of this city.

The passage of the ordinance at once tears away forever the withering hand of railroad influence. It releases the city from the grip that has been death-like to its commerce, its manufacturing and its shipping interests. Its benefits will prove incalculable, its blessings manifold. The construction of the Belt Line, means the resurrection to the business of Philadelphia. And the strongest argument that can be advanced in its favor is the statement of the fact that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company is against it.

WE give the names of four of the five Philadelphia churches referred to in our last issue, for which contracts have recently been made with foreign manufacturers for stained glass windows. The instructions accompanying the orders, for the first three named, were to send the templates, or patterns, to John Hardman & Co., 25 Cockspur street, London Southwest. The churches are as follows:

The Church of the Assumption, Twelfth and Spring Garden streets.

Grace Church, Germantown avenue, Mount Airy.

Convent of the Sacred Heart, Arch street, between Eighteenth and Nineteenth streets.

St. Elizabeth's Church, Twenty-third and Berks streets.

The above orders represent constant employment, during the winter months, for at least thirty workmen. The American stained glass manufacturers could not meet the prices of the foreign houses, because of the forty-five per cent. duty on the raw material, and the half-price wages which the foreign workmen receive. The churches wouldn't pay the prices for American work, because they could buy foreign made windows for about one half less, and then, under an act passed by an American Congress, they could import the windows ready to put in place, entirely free of duty. The American stained glass church window makers ask for the repeal of this law, which permits this great injustice. They desire an equal chance, at least, with their foreign competitors. They think foreign church work should, at least, be taxed to a point equal to the difference in wages and the cost of raw material. They recognize the fact that large sums of American money are sent abroad yearly for the purchase of church windows, while their own American artists and workmen are compelled to remain idle during a part of the year through a senseless discrimination of the tariff laws in favor of work imported for church purposes.

The Figure 9.

It is quite well worth while noting the fact that no one now living will again date a document without using a "9." It now stands on the extreme right—1889. Next year it will take the third place—1890, where it will remain ten years. It will then move into second place—1900—and there it will remain for a century,—

The Jarden Brick Company, office Thirtieth and Market streets, Philadelphia has commenced the manufacture of brick under its new process.

At Callanan's Corners, near South Bethlehem, Albany Co., N. Y., at the lime-stone quarry of Peter Callanan, on the evening of September 2, the largest displacement of rock, at one blast, ever made in this country, was accomplished. Twenty-two thousand tons of it came crushing down, the force used was one ton of dynamite, placed in several holes and driven to the depth of thirty feet in the solid rock.

THE prospects of the iron business in the Schuylkill Valley seem to be better now than they have been at any time within the last two years, and everybody is looking forward hopefully to a brisk fall and winter trade. Wages of iron workers, which last spring had reached the lowest point since the war, have been, during the past month or two, gradually increased nearly to the point that prevailed before the war.

At Jeannette, Westmoreland Co., Messrs. Chambers & McKee, glass workers, will start up their entire glass works. They employ fifteen hundred men, and is the largest works of its kind in the world. Their annual production will amount to 500,000 boxes of window glass per year, which is one-sixth of the entire production of the country, and one-eighth of the total amount of window glass used in the United States.

The Dayleford Water Company, of Pennsylvania, has been granted a charter. At a meeting of the company, held in Philadelphia, September 10, Mr. Wm. Latta was elected president; Mr. William Hamersley, vice president, and Wesley C. Graham, of Paoli, secretary and treasurer. The object of the company is to utilize the water on the land between Paoli and Berwyn, on the Pennsylvania Railroad, recently purchased from Sloan & Kennedy and Robert Glenn, on which a station will soon be erected. The name of the new station will be Dayleford.

At Utica, N. Y., Grand Master of Masons, John W. Vrooman, of Herkimer, N. Y.; Edward B. Harper, of New York, a trustee of the Masonic Hall and Asylum Fund, and F. A. Bernham, of N. Y., Chief Commissioner of Appeals, have received from the Hon. C. W. Hutchinson, the deed to Utica Driving Park, selected as the site for the Masonic Home. The amount paid was $50,000, in two checks, one for $30,000, the donation of Utica, and the other for $20,000, the appropriation by the Grand Lodge. The Advisory Committee will meet in Utica, on Friday, September 20th, to make preparations for beginning the work of construction of the Home.

VALUABLE TO TIMBER WORKERS.—A test was recently made at the car shops of the Northern Pacific Railroad, which demonstrated the relative values of several kinds of wood. The timber tested was subjected to an actual breaking, on sticks 2x4 inches and 4 feet in length, to centres. The general impression has always existed that ordinary oak was stronger than fir. The following results, however, prove that this idea is an erroneous one.

New soft, fine grain yellow fir, similar to the best flooring timber, sustained 3062 pounds, an old piece of yellow fir, coarse-grained and hard, broke at 4320 pounds; a new piece from the butt of a tree, coarse-grained, broke with a stringy fracture at 3635 pounds; a new piece of Michigan white pine, soft and clear, broke short at 1610 pounds; a new piece of Michigan oak broke nearly short off at 2428 pounds.

JOHNSTOWN is once more rapidly assuming her old time vigor, builders and architects from various parts of the State report new buildings of all kinds that are either in course of construction or contemplation. It has been proposed that a hospital be erected at this place as well as at Williamsport, and stores, of substantial character, are being built in the place of those recently destroyed. One thing which speaks ill for the lasting prosperity of the town is that the number of the saloons and drinking places is increasing at a greater ratio than are the business houses, the proportion being almost two to three. Perhaps after the effects of the flood are more clearly effaced, the local authorities will turn their attention to this evil, and do as good work as they have done in other directions.

A Swiss inventor has perfected a method of making artificial boards, and is advocating their use in building. They are made of a mixture of plaster-of-paris and reeds pressed into shape by hydraulic process. The material has the advantage of incombustibility and lightness, and will resist the warping action of atmospheric changes.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Archbishop Ryan, will establish two new churches, one at Broad and Dauphin, and the other at Twelfth and Jackson streets.

A school building will be erected at Westfield, Union Co., N. J., under supervision of the sectional board of that district.

A new school-house will be erected by the school directors at Jeannette, Allegheny Co., Pa., and to whom all communications should be addressed.

There will be in the new Public Building when finished, 354 miles of piping of all kinds, this is equal to the distance from Philadelphia to Pittsburg.

Under the supervision of the County Commissioners a new jail will be erected in Somerset, Somerset County, Penna., to commence operations about the 1st of October next.

Dr. Budd, 3938 Market street, will superintend the construction of the new bank building to be erected by the West Philadelphia Bank, on Market street, above Thirty-ninth street.

Plans and specifications are about being finished for the erection of a High School, at Lebanon, Pa. The contract will be awarded for the building of the same, by the school board and from whom all information may be obtained.

The Merz Brothers, of Tacony, will erect a large hotel on the State road, near the Railroad station, Tacony. The plans may be seen and information obtained at the office of Thomas South, that place.

The "Log College" property, situated in Westminster township, Bucks Co., Pa., has been sold through the agency of D. S. Mann, 221 S. Fifth street, Isaiah Terry the owner, transferring to Mr. Nathan B. Perkins, 64 acres, on private terms.

The Academy of Natural Sciences, will presently erect a large rear addition to their building at the S.W. corner of Nineteenth and Race streets, from plans made by Jacob Binder, W. S. Rinschenberger and Professor Angelo Heilprin, members of the Board of Trustees of the Building Fund of the Academy. The sum of $100,000, is to be spent on the improvement which will consist of a building following the present style of architecture, modeled so as to include some of the best features of the principal European museums. There will be but one floor, roofed with glass, divided by several large galleries, the amphitheatre and lecture room being provided for on the floor space. The plans will be brought before the Council at the next meeting, and if they pass upon them favorably, the contracts will be awarded at once.

The site selected for the new Drexel School, is located at the N. E. corner of Chestnut and Thirty-second streets, West Philadelphia. It is 210 x 190 feet, extending back to Ludlow street. A building 190 x 200 feet, is contemplated. Plans are being formulated by architects, Wilson Brother & Co., and will soon be submitted. It is intended that the School shall accommodate about 2000 scholars of both sexes. It will be a day school, as it is not intended to furnish living accommodations for the scholars. The site is central and easily accessible by rail from all points. The site cost $69,000; it is probable that the foundation for the building will be laid this fall. Nothing can be further stated than has already been published by the Real Estate Record, as nothing has been done by the architects, other than to visit similar Institutions, in this and other countries. Mr. Samuel Wilson, is about to return from abroad, with valuable ideas which he has obtained while there.

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

and all purposes where durability united with beauty of appearance is desired.

Metalithic unites in its composition a vast improvement over all the advantages claimed for other processes of paving and flooring.

The galvanized iron chain (spiked at each angle) used in its construction, neutralizes the effect of heat and cold, and thus prevents cracking and bulging, one of the most serious objections to other systems. This method has the unequalled indorsement of all Architects, Engineers, Contractors and individuals, firms and corporations who have used it, for strength, beauty and durability, and is rapidly superseding other systems wherever brought in competition. Licenses, Patent Rights and all processes for Cities, Counties and States, will be granted to responsible parties on liberal terms, by addressing:

A Thing or Two that House Owners Should Know,

The house owners and builders of the nineteenth century, owe much to the active thinking men at the head of the building material interests who dig among the uncertainties and cleverly present facts conclusively proven to their great advantage in time and money.

The capabilities of material now-a-days must be settled long before it reaches the realms of science. The man who sells must know, not to know, is suicidal. Competition leaves no room for guessing, it is exacting, cruel and despotic. Tests are made to the infinitesimal portion of a grain. These tests as a rule are the carefully guarded secrets of the trade. It is seldom the people are taken into the confidence of those who know.

The N. G. Taylor Co., at a single stroke break down the custom of ages and in a book of several hundred pages they just button-hole every house owner in the land and in a pleasing interesting way they tell of tin and tin roofs. The book is elaborately illustrated. It enters into the manufacture of tin plates. It contains a mass of referential matter and a list of many hundred names of parties who have used their roofing plates. It is just what house owners need to help them out of the many-horned dilemma, of properly roofing a building in order to make it stay. If you want the book write to the N. G. Taylor Co., and it will be sent to your address.

Council Proceedings.

In the lower branch of Councils an ordinance was passed for the construction of main sewers to relieve the Cohocksink sewer and the Girard College branch of the Pennsylvania ave. sewer, and to rebuild and repair such portions of the old main sewer as may be required. The sewers are to be constructed from the Delaware River and Shackamaxon Street to Third and Thompson street, to Ninth and Norris streets and also to Mascher and Master streets, and Twenty-fifth street from Pennsylvania avenue to Parrish street. The Director of Public Works is authorized to enter into contracts for these sewers at once and an ordinance appropriating $250,000 to the Bureau of Surveys for the purpose was introduced.

Other ordinances were introduced as follows: To authorize the Director of Public Safety to select a suitable lot in Roxboro for the erection of a fire and police station and appropriating $35,000 for the same; to pave Brighton street, from Broad to Fifteenth, with asphaltum; to pave Lardner street, from Broad to Fifteenth; to construct a sewer on Queen street, from Third to Fourth; to pave Thirty-seventh street, from Brown to Mantus avenue; to authorize the Mayor to enter security for the immediate opening of Cresson street, between Davis and East streets; to repave Federal street, from Broad street to Gray's Ferry Road, with asphalt; to reduce the width of Thompson street, from Fifty-second street eastward; to repave Canal street, from East Susquehanna avenue to Diamond street; to lay gas pipe on Ontario street, from Third to Fifth street; to place Oak Lane in the Twenty-second Ward on the city plan; to authorize the erection of a temporary frame building on the grounds of the University of Pennsylvania.

Ordinances were passed as follows: Authorizing the construction of a brick and stone drain across Manayunk avenue, northeast of Ridge avenue, in the Twenty-first Ward; authorizing the resurfacing of Ridge avenue from Roxborough avenue to Monastery avenue; authorizing the opening of Eighty-fourth street from Darby Creek to the Chester branch of the Reading Railroad; Clearfield street, from "C" to "E" street; Guernsey street, from Fillmore to Lehigh avenue; Leamy street, from Guernsey street to Lehigh avenue; Tioga street, from Front street to Hart lane; granting permission to the Pennsylvania Iron Works to maintain a frame building on Merion avenue, between Forty-ninth and Fiftieth streets; granting permission to the Grace Baptist Church to erect a frame addition to their chapel, at Twenty-second street and Indiana avenue.

The following Select Council ordinances were passed: To offer at public sale a lot of ground, with a school building thereon, at Bridesburg, Twenty-fifth Ward; directing the removal of the market sheds from Crown to Seventh streets on Callowhill street; to lay water pipe on fifty streets in the suburban wards.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. OCT. 2, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THERE is many a poor boy who is through necessity denied the advantages of the day schools, but who looks hopefully forward to the night schools, as the one chance to learn just a little, to help him on through life. Councils should meet this question of night schools in a spirit of liberality.

NEW YORK seems to be in a peck of trouble about a site for the World's Fair! Why not help her out, by loaning her the old site of the Centennial Buildings; Philadelphia is better prepared to house and feed the multitude that can be justly expected to attend the event than any City in America.

PHILADELPHIA, notwithstanding its reputation for being conservative, has many good points which are quickly recognized and appreciated by visitors, and among its many advantages none seems to strike a stranger more favorably, than the number and class of homes provided for people of moderate and even limited means. Other cities are beginning to realize the fact that such a state of affairs, means not only comfort to the people who inhabit such homes, but that it is, in all cases, a sure indication of growth and success to the city itself. Pittsburg has awakened to this fact and capitalists are being urged to erect a considerable number of houses of moderate cost, suitable for homes for workmen and their families. It is reported that negotiations are even now pending with Philadelphia contractors to erect a number of such dwellings, the claim being that they can do it better and cheaper than those who have not made this matter, a subject of study for many years.

It is a noticeable fact that the man, who naturally takes to real estate, either as an investment or as a safe way to husband his earnings, is generally counted among the winners. He may not be able to count his gains with the same frequency as does the man who speculates in stocks, neither is he compelled to estimate his losses as often, nor is he so frequently worried with financial embarrassment. The characteristics of the two men are entirely different. There is an air of solid comfort and equanimity about the man who owns land and houses, while the stock speculator's face and manners are indicative of his extra hazardous calling. The great under mental pressure he is constantly laboring soon expresses itself in many ways, the lines of his face grow harsh, his brow contracts, giving evidence of constant thought upon a single subject. He soon loses his buoyancy of spirits. His investments are like a nightmare. His thoughts, first and last, are about the market. If he is on the right side, he effervesces like wine in a newly corked bottle; but, like the wine, his effervescence soon ceases.

ON Tuesday last, Messrs D. M. Lane's Sons, the carriage manufacturers, 1708 Chestnut street, held its annual opening of fine carriages, in addition to which the opening of a new department devoted to fine harness, was also celebrated.

The display of carriages and harness was particularly fine, and the attendance large. The addition of harness was the result of frequent enquiry among customers, and although somewhat of an innovation, it will certainly prove profitable as well as advantageous to the patrons.

Cone will erect a four-story stone and brick dwelling at a cost of $12,000, Charles L. Carson, architect. The same architect has prepared plans for Mr. Rieman's six-story brick and stone business block, to cost $100,000. L. Levering, will erect a brick store and frame dwelling, to cost, $7000, plans prepared by Wyatt & Nolting. Messrs. Mar-tain & Murphy, contractors, will erect a $7000 dwelling from plans prepared by J. A. & T. Wilson. T. B. & Francis P. Sollers and others have incorporated the Sollers Shoe Company of Baltimore. Wm. L. Barlie, Chas. B. Hill, Saml. W. Regester and others, have incorporated the Regester Manufacturing Company, with a capital of $100,000. The Baltimore Silver Plate Co., of Baltimore, has been organized, capital, $8000, Edward E. Warner, Chas. E. Hochhaus, John G. Stenger, William J. Carr, and William Robertson, directors. A paper was read not long since by Mr. J. H. C. Heine, before the Landlord's Protective Association, advocating the building of a grand boulevard, connecting Baltimore with Washington. The idea is to have this boulevard, 150 feet wide and to connect with Fulton avenue, which is 100 feet wide and thence to Druid Hill Park. The road to be divided into sections, 30 feet wide, one to be macadamized and used exclusively for heavy travel, another of the same width, to be paved with asphalt, for light carriages and bicycles, another of light gravel for ordinary carriage travel and the fourth section set aside for rapid transit travel, either by electric motor or cable cars; this would still leave thirty feet to be utilized for foot travel. The cost would be about $50,000, per mile. Mr. Heine's plan for securing the money is as follows: The Legislature should pass a bill to authorize the construction of the boulevard, and appoint say five men, one from each of the counties of Baltimore, Anne Arundel, Prince George's, Howard and Montgomery, to establish the width and grade, to assess the damages and benefits to property owners along the road, for about one-fourth the entire cost, and providing for the balance, by the sale of the franchise to an electric motor, cable or other company, which should realize from $250,000 to $500,000. The counties through which the road would pass, should be required to construct the bridges and to issue from $100,000 to $300,000, bonds each for the construction of the road-bed. This would aggregate from two-thirds to four-fifths of the entire cost of constructing the greatest boulevard on earth. The city council should be empowered to do the same from Franklin street along Fulton avenue, where it is less than 100 feet wide. Congress, no doubt would do the same thing and provide most liberally for this project, which will give an opportunity for the immense population centering in Washington, to build country villas. In addition thereto, many liberal contributions would be received from the enterprising merchants and capitalists, on the line of the boulevard.

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington, it is reported that the members of Admiral S. F. Dupont Post, No. 2, G. A. R., will erect a frame exhibition building 1000 feet, on the new Post-office lot, at Ninth and Shipley streets. The building will be removed by January 1st, 1890. At the office of George W. Becht, No. 717 Market street, the Rehoboth Beach Association, held a special meeting and the directors were authorized to make the necessary improvements to the beach, to protect it from storms in the future; permission was also given to the directors, to erect several new cottages, to be completed before next season. A committee consisting of Dr. Charles R. Jefferies Samuel F. Betts, George Russell, Wm. M. Drein and Wm. Bright, were appointed to confer with Adjutant General R. R. Kenney, in relation to the proposed gift of the Association of a piece of ground to be used for state militia. The piece of land contains about five acres; it is the object of the association to make Rehoboth, one of the leading sea-side resorts

Fraser, architect, has furnished the plans for extensive improvements to Liberty Hall, East End, which has been rented and will be remodeled to suit the purposes of the Y. M. C. A. The Association will use the second and third floors. The second floor will be partitioned off into a reception room 28 by 36 feet, beautifully frescoed, and three handsome chandeliers will be put in. The rest of the floor will be devoted to a reading room and library and two parlors, all handsomely furnished. There will also be a meeting room furnished with a rostrum and pulpit, and containing a seating capacity of four hundred. The upper floor will contain a gymnasium 33 by 55 feet, also bath rooms. The building will be heated by steam. The cost of the improvements will be about $10,000. Black & Baird have sold the Bakewell property on Ross street, 84 by 160 feet, for $45,000, to Elric B. Clark, who will tear down the present building and use the site for manufacturing purposes. Superintendent Patton of the B. & O. R. R., contemplates extensive improvements to one of the present buildings for freight purposes. Samuel W. Black & Co., 99 Fourth avenue, have sold the lot at the corner of Second avenue and Americus street, for $8,000, to the Second Avenue Electric Railroad Company, on which will be erected a handsome building for offices and car house purposes. Wainwright & Co., will soon remodel and rebuild their brewery on Thirty-sixth street. It will be much larger than formerly, and contain many improvements. The cost will be about $100,000. George S. Martin & Co., 105 Fourth avenue, have sold two lots in Maplewood Park to Simon Gottlob. Samuel W. Black & Co., 99 Fourth avenue have sold a fine lot for $1,600, at Sewickley, on which the purchaser will erect a handsome residence. The Westinghouse Electric Light Company was partially destroyed by fire September 27th, loss $60,000, work of rebuilding will commence at once. B. T. Wilson, will erect a brick two-story and mansard dwelling on Fisk street, cost $3,800. A. A. Thompson, contractor. Mrs. Mary Glounger, will erect a dwelling at corner of Fifth and Thompson streets, cost $4,200. J. M. Cartside, contractor. W. A. Nimick, will erect a three-story brick stable, 60 by 80 feet, at Rose street and First avenue, cost $20,000. Hucksenstein & Co., contractors. G. T. Bushfield, will erect three frame dwellings on Larimer avenue, cost $6,000. M. M. Datz, contractor. Dr. C. Spahr, will erect a brick dwelling on Hiland avenue, cost $7,000. J. Seabright, contractor. Joseph H. Frangle, will erect a four-story brick house and dwelling on Butler street, cost $12,000. Bickel & Brennan, contractors. The managers of the Homeopathic Hospital, situated on Second avenue, have decided to erect an annex to cost about $20,000. The new annex will be erected for the use of a training school for nurses, and the building will contain a lecture room, drawing, dining, reception rooms and kitchen on the lower, the upper floor will be used for dormitories, bath rooms, lavatories and linen closets. All the latest improvements will be introduced, and the lighting will be done by electricity. The Committee on Public Safety has recommended the ordinance for the purchase of a lot in the Thirty-first ward for fire engine purposes. Ordinances will probably be passed authorizing the purchase of lots in the Thirty-second and Thirty-fifth wards, also that part of the Schenley estate lying in Oakland, and containing about 178 acres, is to be improved. Plans are already prepared, and it will be laid out into building lots. The plans are similar to that of Boulevard Place, Oakland, and when built up will resemble handsome little parks, dotted with fine residences. Mr. Torrence, the agent of Mrs. Schenley, has the plans in his possession. W. T. Casey, who has four acres in the same neighborhood, which is mostly under improvement, is now negotiating for the purchase of four acres more, which he will also improve. The cable cars will soon bring the entire tract within half an hour's ride of the business portion of the city. The Westinghouse Electric Light building, destroyed Friday night, will probably be rebuilt at once. A new company to be known as the Pittsburg Land and Building Company, has been organized with a capital stock of $50,000, to be further increased to $500,000. The object of the company is to erect dwellings in large blocks, which can be done better by a company with a large capital than by a single individual. The present officers are Mr. C. P. Ford, president, also president of Select Councils; W. H. House, vice president; Prof. C. B. Wood, of the Pittsburg High School, secretary; S. A. Johnson, Esq., the attorney, and the managers, Messrs. Straub & Morris.

OFFICE OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH,
 S. W. cor. Sixth and Sansom Streets,
 PHILADELPHIA, September 25, 1889.
 Sealed Proposals will be received at this office until Tuesday, October 8th, 12 M., to regrade and repave the private street on premises 1401 to 1413 South Broad street, 1402 to 1436 South Juniper street, 1332 Reed street and 1331 Dickinson street with Belgian block. Specifications for the above work can be seen at this office.
 JOSEPH G. PATTERSON.

SEALED PROPOSALS WILL BE RECEIVED until Thursday, October 24th, 1889, at 7 P. M., by John C. Hathaway, Chairman of the Street, Road and Bridge Committee, Norristown, Pa., for the building of a 4-foot brick sewer, 9 inches thick, 1605 feet long, with 7 inlets and connections. Specifications and plan of same to be seen at the Borough Surveyor's office. The bids be for the gross amount of the cost of the same and to be labeled on the outside: Proposals for sewer.
 FRANK L. SMITH, President.
 Attest: THEO. W. BAKER, Clerk.

SEALED PROPOSALS ENDORSED "PROPOSALS for Protection Wall, to be opened October 3, 1889," will be received at the Bureau of Yards and Docks, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., until 11 o'clock A. M., October 8, 1889, and publicly opened immediately thereafter, for the construction of 400 feet, more or less, of protection wall at the Navy Yard, League Island, Pa. Plans can be seen and blank forms of offer, with specifications and all necessary information, obtained upon application to the Commandant of the League Island Navy Yard. The Department reserves the right to reject any proposal not deemed advantageous to the Government, and to waive defects. Responsible security will be required for the faithful performance of the contract, and the bidders bond will be 20 per cent of the amount of their proposal for the work. G. B. WHITE, Chief of Bureau.

WANAMAKER'S

Of course there are styles of head-wear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

JOHN WANAMAKER.

and all purposes where durability united with beauty of appearance is desired.

Metalithic unites in its composition a vast improvement over all the advantages claimed for other processes of paving and flooring. The galvanized iron chain (spiked at each angle) used in its construction, neutralizes the effect of heat and cold, and thus prevents cracking and bulging, one of the most serious objections to other systems. This method has the unqualified indorsement of all Architects, Engineers, Contractors and individuals, firms and corporations who have used it, for strength, beauty and durability, and is rapidly superseding other systems wherever brought in competition. Licenses, Patent Rights and all processes for Cities, Counties and States, will be granted to responsible parties on liberal terms, by addressing:

VOL. IV.—No. 40. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1889. PRICE 15 CENTS.

A Corporation Real Estate Broker.

A Strong Philadelphia Institution with a Perpetual Charter.

One of the Stanchest and most Conservative organizations of Philadelphia is the Real Estate Investment Company., 721 WALNUT STREET.

"It was organized two years ago with a capital of $250,000 and with a perpetual charter, the purpose being to develop a real estate centre for the convenience of dealers and to assist in securing rapid sales and purchases.

"The par value of the stock is $5, and it ordinarily sells at auction at $6.25 to $6.50, which is equivalent to $130, at a par of $100. Dividends have been paid for the two years of the present management, 5 per cent. being the result of the first year and for the twelve months ending July 1, 1889, at the rate of 6 per cent. At the annual meeting in July the stockholders authorized the doubling of the stock of $250,000; stockholders registered in that month to take an equal number of shares at par. This has been done and the capital stock IS NOW $500,000.

"The business of the concern will be largely increased by reason of the larger capital, without adding materially to the expenses. The company collects rents, buys and sells real estate, negotiates mortgages, makes loans of all kinds, makes advances and transacts a real estate brokerage business in general. In addition it does a regular banking business, receives deposits payable by check, and allows interest at the rate of 2 per cent. per annum.

"The company offers besides Philadelphia mortgages, first mortgages secured on real estate in the prominent cities of the South. Its stockholders are principally real estate brokers, conveyancers and lawyers. The company has recently declared a semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent. It numbers among its officers and directors some of the most influential men in Philadelphia. JOHN J. RIDGWAY, president; W. F. DEAKYNE, vice president; AUBREY H. GILLINGHAM, treasurer and secretary; E. L. MINTZER, Jr., real estate manager; CHARLES C. EARECKSON, title officer, and HENRY R. HATFIELD, ROBERT ALEXANDER, and J. PARKER NORRIS, solicitors.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

City Council Committee on City Property, have resolved to ask an appropriation of $3,500 for the purpose of erecting a public bath house at 8th and Mifflin streets.

A factory, two stories in height, is to be erected on Randolph street north of Master street, 36 by 80 feet, the contract for building having been awarded to C. C. Carman.

Bement, Miles & Co., Twenty-first and Calowhill streets intend enlarging, to some extent, their present plant. Information may be had upon application to the firm, at the above address.

The Board of Education has asked for a large appropriation for next year's work in building school houses and the purchase of ground. They estimate on $1,260,000 as being about the sum required.

The Tioga Athletic Association will soon erect a frame club house on their grounds, Twenty-third and Ontario streets, the structure will be 15 by 20 feet, and will be an adjunct to their present enclosure.

It is announced that Bishop Ryan has authorized the erection of a new Catholic church at the S. E. corner of Broad street and Susquehanna avenue, and it will be under the charge of the Rev. Gerald P. Cogan, now at St. Peter's Church, Reading, Pa. When the matter has assumed a tangible shape, due notice will be given in this Journal.

John H. Scott, real estate broker, 217 South Sixth street, has just sold a number of building lots, at Woodburn Heights, North Penn Railroad, to Joseph McGlathery, superintendent of nut streets; H. P. Moore, 321 Arch street; Dan'l Overbridge, Dock Street Market, and F. A. Bitting, 2645 Germantown avenue, all of whom are said to be prospective builders.

F. W. McDowell & Son, managers of the Jessup & Moore Paper Company, Sixth and Jayne streets, will erect, at once, four buildings to be used as factories for the manufacture of Manila paper, these structures will be located on Main street, foot of Levering street, Manayunk. They will be fitted with the most approved machinery, and supplied with the necessary elevators and steam appliances for the conduct of a large business.

It has been decided by the present owners and proprietors of the Bingham House, at Eleventh and Market streets, to remodel and enlarge the same by adding thereto more accommodations, and putting at least one or two more stories upon the present structure. Willis G. Hale has been engaged as architect, and will at once prepare plans, which will be ready for operation as soon after the first of January, 1890, as circumstances will permit. The new additions will necessitate more elevators, electric appliances, and the most recent conveniences for hotel purposes. The cost of the proposed improvement will be about $100,000.

W. S. P. Shields has just sold to A. S. P. Shields, Esq., thirty two story houses, on Locust street, between Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets, for $2,600 per house, as a matter of investment; also, sixteen houses on Penridge street, West Philadelphia, to Mr. G. C. Barber, at $2,250 a piece. Mr. Shields has purchased a plot of ground, situated on Mill creek, at Maylandville, 1,000 by 90 feet, which he proposes to improve at once, by placing thereon yards and lots for the sale of sand, stone, lime and general building material. He will immediately renovate the houses now there for office purposes, and will endeavor to have railroad facilities attached at the same time.

Architects' Notes.

Brown & Day, Architects, 1305 Arch street, have prepared plans and specifications, and are now receiving bids for the erection of a factory, at Newark, Del., for Theo. C. Knauff & Co., it will be of brick with stone capping, corrugated iron roof, towers to be slated, and fitted with general appliances for manufacturing purposes.

Thomas P. Lonsdale, architect, American Life Building, Fourth and Walnut streets, has prepared plans for rebuilding and finishing the Twenty-ninth Street M. E. Church, situated at Twenty-ninth and York streets, and is now receiving estimates for that purpose. The work will include all labor upon the front, as it stands incomplete, as well as the remodeling of the interior.

Baker & Dallett, architects, S. W. corner of Fifth and Walnut streets, are preparing plans for the erection of a building for the Manayunk Trust Company, at Manayunk. It will be of stone and brick, one-story in front, with a room overhead for meeting of directors. The front will be ornamental, while the rear will be of a plain character. Also plans are upon the boards, by the same gentlemen, for a country house at Jenkintown, Pa., for Mrs. Wm. P. Brock, of 1524 Pine street, a frame structure, with a shingle roof, heated by hot air, fitted with electric bells and all modern conveniences.

An Asterisk (*) denotes judgment confessed or bond and warrant conditioned.

The figures 1, 2, 3 and 4 immediately after the name of the plaintiff indicate the number of the Court. The letters D. M. J. and S. after the number of the Court indicate the Term, as D., December Term, M., March Term, J., June Term, and S., September Term.

Sum. C.—Summons in Case—A form of action invented to meet all civil cases, the form of which is not specially provided for.

Where there are no figures to indicate the amount of the judgment, the damages have not been assessed.

The first name in each line is that of the judgment debtor.

and all purposes where durability united with beauty of appearance is desired.

Metalithic unites in its composition a vast improvement over all the advantages claimed for other processes of paving and flooring. The galvanized iron chain (spiked at each angle) used in its construction, neutralizes the effect of heat and cold, and thus prevents cracking and bulging, one of the most serious objections to other systems. This method has the unqualified indorsement of all Architects, Engineers, Contractors and individuals, firms and corporations who have used it, for strength, beauty and durability, and is rapidly superseding other systems wherever brought in competition. Licenses, Patent Rights and all processes for Cities, Counties and States, will be granted to responsible parties on liberal terms, by addressing:

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

The Meaning of the Word "Limited," as Applied to Corporations.

It has become somewhat common nowadays to see the word "limited," in parenthesis, after the titles of corporations, and it is safe to say that people generally do not understand the significance of this term, though, of course, business men do. An explanation of it, as stated in one of our exchanges, may, therefore, be of general interest. The old principle of corporations created by legislative act was that the entire property of every stockholder was liable for the whole of the company, as the whole property of every member of a general partnership is still liable for the debts of the firm. This system made every shareholder responsible for bad management, of which he might not be guilty, and deterred wealthy men from becoming interested in the shares of corporations. To remove this objection the principle of limited responsibility was introduced, and in order to notify the public that only the separate property of the corporation, was liable for the debts of the corporation, the English law requires that the word "limited" shall be used in every case by the company in connection with its title. Most American corporations are constituted on the principle of limited liability, and but few, if any, of the States enjoin the companies formed under their laws to append the word "limited" to their corporate titles. The matter is so generally understood in this country by business men, however, that it is not deemed necessary, though many companies do it of their own accord.

The most noteworthy exception to the general rule is the cause of the national bank; but even in this instance liability is limited to an amount equal to the par value of the shares held. That is, if the national bank fails, each stockholder may not only lose what he has invested, but $100 more for each share of the stock he holds, if so much is necessary to pay the debts of the bank. Until within a few years all the Scottish banks were organized with unlimited liability, and when, some eight or ten years ago, a Glasgow bank failed disastrously, there were cases of men who only owned a share or two, valued before the failure at not much more than $100, who were assessed thousands of pounds sterling to meet the debts of the bank. Since that time the Scottish banks have been allowed to re-organize on a limited liability basis.—Scientific American.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. OCT. 16, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE sudden death of Mr. Samuel J. Cresswell, was a great surprise to his many personal and business friends, coming, as it did, while he was still engaged in active business life and while possessing a vigorous mental and physical manhood; it seemed a sad ending of a life of usefulness, marked by a strict sense of business integrity and a high standard of business and social morals. He was a plain, blunt man, possessing little sympathy with affectation or show. Those who knew best, speak in loud praise of his high sense of honor and love for fair and just dealing with his fellow-man. His word was his bond; he abhorred deceit and shams. His character was as solid and as rugged as the iron he worked.

THE protest of the Master Plumbers of this city, against the employment of city officials in city work, is a serious reflection upon those whose duty it was, to prevent just such combinations as the Dixey method of doing city work. There is no doubt but that the sanitary conveniences introduced in the Park, were badly enough needed; but the method of doing and inspecting the work, is open for suspicion as well as criticism.

THE Hon. S. A. Hewitt, ex-Mayor of New York, is erecting a dwelling-house at his country seat, at Ringwood, Passaic Co., N. J., which for cheapness, originality, durability and fire-proof qualities, will probably excel any structure ever erected. The ex-Mayor, first erected a balloon frame, this he covered inside and out with New Jersey Woven Wire Fire-proof Lathing, on this he placed a moderately thick coat of adamant plaster, serving the roof in the same manner. As a result he will have a stone house, positively fire, damp and vermin proof, at less than one-half the cost of a cheap frame building and a thousand times more durable.

THE erection of a mammoth hotel worthy of Philadelphia has at length assumed tangible shape, the projector and owner being Mr. John M. Sharp, the well-known builder, who has heretofore confined his operations to the erection of vast numbers of dwellings in the north-western part of the city. The Metropole, for such will be the name of the new hostelry, besides caring for transients, will be erected with a view to the accommodation of families, and for this purpose will contain handsome suites of from two to six apartments. The roof garden will be an unique feature and add materially to the comfort and pleasure of the guests. The architect of this magnificent structure, which will cost one million dollars, is Angus S. Wade, 20 S. Broad street, this city, and some idea of the beauty of the architecture may be gained by the picture now on exhibition in the window of the Chapman Decorative Company at 1322 Chestnut street. The plans are exciting considerable interest and justly merit a critical examination. As an architectural conception they express deep thought and portray wonderful power on the part of the architect.

FOR SALE.—Auction sale of Building Lots, Saturday, October 26th, 3 P. M., at Stanwick Station, Moorestown, N. J., 11 miles from Camden, N. J., 34 week-day trains; 6 on Sundays. Twenty houses built within a year; water-main extended on tract; excellent well water at depth of 20 feet; electric light plant now being installed; lots sold for public school house on tract; excellent private schools and Kindergarten; Churches of all denominations; wide avenues graded; fine young shade trees; stone and gravel walks; fine country drives; modern cottages for sale or rent, within two minutes walk of R. R. station, Mt Holly Branch F. R. R. Rosamond Inn, suitable for summer boarding house, two minutes from station, will be offered for sale. For free R. R. tickets, plans, and full information, call on J. S. Rogers, on the ground, or Room 4 Penna. R. R. Office, Camden, N. J.

Evidences of the durability of yellow pine for flooring occasionally come to notice, says the Northwestern Lumberman. One is an instance in which a saw manufacturing concern, five years ago, put a long leaf of pine floor in its factory. It is as sound now as when put down. The manager of the concern declares that if white pine had been used it would not have lasted more than a year.

SOME considerable speculation in real estate, in Cleveland, Ohio, is the result of a proposed cable street railway.

Large Bridges.

The largest suspension bridge in the world, is that crossing East River between New York city and Brooklyn; the total length of the bridge is 5,989 feet; length of main span, 1,595 feet and six inches, and of each land span, 930 feet. length of the three spans, 3,455 feet and six inches. The length of the Brooklyn approach is 971 feet and of the New York approach 1,562 feet and six inches. It was begun Jan'y 30, 1870, opened to the public May 24th, 1883. Total cost $15,000,000.

The largest stone bridge on the face of the earth, is that finished in May, 1885, at Lahang, China. Chinese engineers had sole control of its construction.

It crosses an arm of the China sea, is nearly six miles in length, is composed entirely of stone, and has 300 arches, each seventy feet high. It is the most colossal structure ever reared by man, yet we sneer at the "Heathen Chinese."

The largest truss iron bridge in the world, crosses the Firth of Tay, Scotland. It is 18,612 feet in length and composed of 35 spans.

The longest wooden bridge in the world, is that crossing Lake Pontchartrain, near New Orleans, La. It is a trestlework, twenty-one miles in length, built of cypress piles which have been saturated with creosote oil to preserve them.

The highest bridge in the United States, is over Kinzina creek, near Bradford, Pa. It was built in 1885, has a total span of 2,051 feet, and is 301 feet above the creek bed.—St. Louis Republican.

Justice in the Rough.

A newly elected justice of the peace, not 1,000 miles from Milford, Ind., delivered the following charge to the jury the other day: "Gentlemen of the jury—charging a jury is new business to me, as this is my first case. You have heard all the evidence in the case as well as myself; you have also heard what the learned counsel have said. If you believe what the counsel for the plaintiff has told you, your verdict will be for the plaintiff; but, if on the other hand, you believe what the defendant's counsel has told you, then you will give a verdict for the defendant. But if you are like me, and don't believe what either of them said, then I'll be d— if I know what you will do. Constable take charge of the jury."

Miscellaneous.

At Brooklyn, N. Y., Dr. Talmage's Church, will be rebuilt.

At Long Island City, N. Y., C. B. Hewitt & Co., has purchased property and will erect paper-mills.

At Cape Charles City, Va., the terminal of the New York, Phila., & Norfolk R. R., the point at which the Hon. Wm. L. Scott, of Erie, Pa., has large land interests, the new hotel, before reported to be erected, by Mr. Scott and others, is to cost together with its furniture, $250,000. It is stated that plans have been made and are under consideration.

At New York City, The Ursuline Nuns of East Morrisania, are to erect a new convent and academy, on the block bounded by the southern Boulevard, Marion avenue and Bainbridge and Trevers streets. The new building will have a frontage of 250 feet and the depth will be 250. It will be constructed of brick and stone and will cost, $250,000.

At Louisville, Jackson Co., Ky., it is reported a syndicate of New York gentlemen, have secured a site located convenient to the Chesapeake and Ohio R. station, for the erection of a $3,000,000 hotel, after the style of the Hotel Ryan, at St. Paul. It is thought, C. P. Huntington, of New York, is interested in the proposed hotel. H. Victor Newcomb, has property near the site, and is probably interested.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

H. G. Schultz, contractor, will begin at once the erection of a factory on Dakota street, west of Tenth street.

It is proposed to erect the Southern Home for Destitute Children at Broad and Morris street, in this city.

It is reported that the square bounded by Fortieth, Aspen, Union streets and Fairmount avenue has been purchased for building purposes.

McCartney & Oler, builders, have the contract to erect a factory on Emerald street, south of Westmoreland street. This work will begin at once.

The Portland Paving Co., Drexel building, have just received the contract for the paving of City Hall, Camden, N. J., and will immediately begin operations.

Geo. W. Callagher, 517 Redwood street, artistic stair-builder, has been awarded the contract for a grand staircase in the residence of Mr. J. Hopkinson, 1606 S. Broad street.

Andrew Brockholtz will erect at Mount Airy, near the city, four two-story brick dwellings. They will be located on West Mt. Airy avenue, near Main street.

Phil. Haiback, contractor, will, during the next week, commence the building of an umbrella factory at the corner of Twenty-sixth street and Thompson street, 40 x 118 feet in size.

J. T. Jackson & Co. have purchased for Mr. Thos. Williams, of this city, the property of Mrs. Anna M. Thompson at Jenkintown, Montgomery Co., Pa., price $20,000. Mr. Williams contemplates extensive improvements.

The Seventeenth Sectional School Board has decided upon a location for the new school house to be built in that district. They have recommended Second and Oxford as the site to the Board of Education. The new structure will cost $70,000.

Thomas Dunbar has purchased of S. P. M. Tasker and others the lot of ground situated at the S. W. corner Moyamensing ave and Morris street for building purposes. It is designed to erect handsome residences thereon. Consideration paid $8,500.

A German society known as the "Det Deutsche Verin Gemeinschaft" has bought two properties on the west side of York avenue for the purpose of erecting thereon a society hall as soon as matters of detail can be arranged.

Mr. Samuel B. Stinson, of the firm of Stinson Brooks & Kurlbaum, carpet manufacturers at corner of Huntingdon and Rease streets, has purchased through J. F. Jackson & Co. the residence 2018 Green street. The lot is 24 feet 10 inches x 117 feet, price $20,000. Mr. Stinson will erect a new front and make other improvements.

The Crown Smelting Company, located at Chester, Pa, has purchased a site 200 x 200 feet at Concord street, and the P. W. & B. R. R. at Chester, and will erect a new plant to consist of several brick buildings. Some new machinery will be needed. Geo. W. Grumbach is the President of the Company, residence 6731 Woodland avenue, West Philadelphia.

Mr. John Hay, is about erecting on Chester avenue and Forty-sixth street two fine houses for the occupancy of his daughters. They will be colonial in style, three stories in height built of brick and sandstone, fitted with electric appliances, dumb-waiters and all general comforts and conveniences. These houses will be erected adjoining Mr. Hay's present home.

The Philadelphia Warehouse and Cold Storage Company have purchased properties 506-508 Beach street, and another lot in rear of the above with a view to building a large storage warehouse similar to that now being erected by them at Spruce street, and Delaware avenue. Plans are not yet matured sufficiently to give in detail, but there is no doubt at an early day operations will be commenced.

Mr. James Arthur, builder, is about to commence the erection of twenty houses at Forty-ninth street station, P. W. & B. R. R. These will be in keeping with those already built in the same locality, each lot having a width of 30 feet in front. They will be of brick, with fancy car pings, heated by hot air, electric-bells and lights and all modern conveniences. Capacity ten rooms and bath and valued at $6,500.

It is stated that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company has offered $25,000 for the site and building of the Reformed Presbyterian Church at the corner of Eighteenth and Filbert streets, and that the Trustees have declined. The proposed addition on Eighteenth street to the Company's grain storage warehouse at Eighteenth and Market streets necessitates the removal of the stables, and new stables will be erected.

Mr. John Doyle, of the Continental Storage Company at Twentieth and Chestnut street, will immediately commence the erection of a new store house; as an addition to his present one the new structure will be six stories high 18x80 ft and will be fitted with elevators and all conveniences for the business. It will be of brick, capped with stone trimmings, iron and wooden supports and finished in keeping with his former structure.

A large piece of ground has just been purchased at Gray's Ferry and Thirty-fourth street, near the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, by a number of Western capitalists, who will erect a new abattoir and stock-yard, which will cover an area of six acres. The ground will be connected with and extend to a wharf on the Schuylkill river to facilitate the transportation of meat and cattle. All hoof stock will be by the above railroad and disembarked into the yard, which has an extent of 300 feet river front and 1200 inland. A limited number of Philadelphians will be admitted to shares in the stock of the Company, which is largely formed of Western capitalists.

It is contemplated by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company at an early day to commence the erection of a large building on the N. W. corner of Broad and Market streets. This structure will be upon a scale commensurate with their present depot, but will be much higher and contain all the general offices necessary for transaction of their largely increasing business. Plans have been prepared by their architects, and after definite details and minutes, have been agreed upon, and the leases of the present occupants expire or are surrendered, they will commence operations. This will be but the beginning of the end, which will ultimately incorporate most or all of the properties lying on the north side of Market street and west to the Schuylkill river, thus making one of the most commodious and handsome railroad depots in the world

Architects' Notes.

Mr. Meiz Bruce is at present erecting a large hotel on State road, Tacoma.

Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel building, are preparing plans for a large bleachery to be located at Frankford. It will be a one-and-a-half story structure and be of brick and frame, with iron truss supports for roof.

J. Brieau, architect, 1413 Filbert street, has completed plans and specifications for a residence for Mrs. I. Henry, 20 x 48 feet, to be two-and-a-half stories high, built of brick, slate roof, plate and stained glass, wooden mantels and all modern conveniences.

F. Ausfeld, architect, 2913 Girard Avenue, has prepared plans for three dwellings for Charles Betzold, two stories high, built of brick, and to have electric-bells, galvanized cornice, plate and stained glass in doors and windows, wooden mantels. To cost each about $3,000.

J. H. Windm, architect in charge of public work for the U. S. Government, has prepared plans for alteration of the manufacturing portion of the U. S. Mint at Philadelphia, Pa., and at an early day will commence operations. These will include enlarging the capacity for production as well as increasing the area of room, the putting in of huge iron vaults for the storage of precious metals and manufactured money, together with increased room and accommodations for those who are engaged in the institution. Contracts will be advertised in due time where improvements are not covered by former ones.

During the week D. S. Gendell, architect, Chestnut street, west of Twenty-second street, has been granted a permit for the erection of an Armory for Battery A, Artillery N. G. Penna., and they will proceed at once to erect the structure. The material will be brick and brown stone, on the front, there will rise a tower and the building will be two stories, while the tower will be three, with a turret added 56 feet, the size will be in all 174 feet on Marston street and 96 feet on Third street. The first floor will be fitted for a drill-room and the remaining part will be taken up as a meeting and social rendezvous.

S. Milligan, architect, 708 Chestnut street, has just completed plans and specifications for a large public hall, 46 x 76 feet in size. It will be three stories, built of brick, with stone front, tin roof, common and plate glass, heated by hot air, hard wood finish interior and all modern general improvements. Also plans for a residence 50 x 45 feet, frame, three stories high, stone foundations, to have slate roof, electric-bells, heated by hot air, dumb-waiters and all modern conveniences. The same gentleman has on the boards about completed plans for a house one-and-a-half stories high, brick frame and stone, shingle roof, galvanized iron cornice, wood mantels, electric-bells and the most recent improvements. Also a recent improved plumbing; also for a residence 50 x 50 feet, three stories high, frame, with a slate roof, electric-bells, lavatories, wood mantels and all modern conveniences.

Robt. S. Patterson, 13 S. Third street, Geo. McGowan, 229 S. Sixth street, J. J. Ryan and a number of others are about to enter into negotiations for erection of necessary buildings, fencing of grounds and all appurtenances for "Lincoln Park" as a summer resort, situated on the Delaware river near Paulsboro, N. J. These will be quite elaborate and have been drawn by Rowe & Dagit, architects, 122 S. Second street, and under whose supervision all work will be done. It is proposed to build one large house for the use of general entertainment of the patrons, and will incorporate music pavilion, dancing hall and refreshment room outside, and within the main enclosure will be sports of all kinds introduced, from gymnastic exercise to the merry-go-round. No limit will be placed as to expense in the way of fitting up this new resort, as it will occupy the site upon which Fort Nassau stood during the Revolution. There will be a number of contracts to be given for grading, renovating and new building, all of which will be received about November 1st, 1889, by a board of directors, and awarded to lowest and best bidder.

Angus S. Wade, architect, 20 S. Broad street, has just completed plans and specifications for the erection of the hotel Metropole, Chestnut street above Twenty-second street, reported in our issue of June 19th. John M. Sharpe, the owner, will supervise to some extent the building of the same, and may probably sub-let many of the contracts. The style will be of the Romanesque and the first two stories will be of red granite, while the remaining five stories will be brick, terra cotta and red stone, the tower will terminate with an observatory and the roof will be of cement, having on top, soil for the propagation of a garden, this being a departure from the general routine of architecture. On the first floor will be located a ball-room, 42 x 90 feet, as well as the offices, stores and other apartments. A first-class hotel, above which will be one of the finest and largest dining-rooms in this country. The whole building will be erected fire-proof, and the interior will be fitted with elevators, electric-lights and bells, lavatories, steam heat and all general conveniences for the comfort of the guests. The building is worthy the enterprise of its projector, and a monument to the genius and skill of the architect.

Of course there are styles of head-wear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs
for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London)
are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look
in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.
Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

Within the past twelve years $84,000,000 have been invested in building associations in this State. These associations disburse every twelve years, about $385,000,000.—West Chester News.

An enterprising firm has offered the British Government $125,000 for the privilege of placing a soap and pill advertisement on the postage stamps, the advertisement to be put on at the time the cancelling is done and by the same machine.—Ledger.

At Stockholm, Sweden, a large business is done in exporting houses to foreign countries. The buildings are erected in such a manner as to be easily taken down for shipment. A batch of these houses was recently shipped to parties in South America.

Large cylinders of window glass are now cut by encircling the cylinder with a fine wire which is heated to redness by electricity. A drop of water is then allowed to fall on the hot glass, when a perfectly clean cut is obtained. The old method was to draw out a fibre of white-hot semi-molten glass from the furnace, by means of tongs, and to wrap it round the cylinder.—Exchange.

The estimated yearly average cost of keeping a passenger car painted, is $146.46. The average life of a car being sixteen years, it will cost $2343.36 to keep it repainted during that period. The value of the car when new is about $5,100. The cost of keeping the car repainted is nearly a fourth of the cost of all other repairs. Usually six weeks is required to paint a passenger car. By some systems one-half this time only is necessary. The first cost of painting a car is variously estimated at from $300 to $600; on the Pennsylvania Railroad it is $210.12. Five to six days are required to clean and re-yarnish a car.—House Painting & Decorating.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. OCT. 23, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

As an obstructionist Mayor, Fidler is certainly a decided success. His recent veto of the ordinance passed by Councils, granting the "Times Publishing Company," the right to lay pipes on Eighth and Sansom Streets, to its proposed new building, is not the act of either a broad-gauge citizen, or Mayor of a City of a million population. We would respectfully inform his honor, that a fever of enterprise and progress has grown to be an epidemic, in this City of Philadelphia, and that the Times' pipes will be laid, notwithstanding his efforts to prevent it.

We would also respectfully remind his honor, that an effort is being made to construct a Belt Line Railroad, around this City, for no other reason, than to circumvent and defeat the schemes of private and incorporated obstructionists, and that Councils will be expected to pass the ordinance granting the privilege and that he will be expected to approve of the same, when passed.

The citizens of a great City as a rule, expect their chief executive, to forget his personality while exercising the functions of his office. If there was a shadow of reason given in the Mayor's veto, it might seem justifiable; but even then the City could better afford to pay for the re laying of the pavement from curb to curb, than to have such a building operation as that contemplated by the "Times," abandoned. Let the good work go on.

The Citizens' Trust, Tax, Indemnity and Surety Company, 716 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, have just completed their organization by the election of the following executive officers:

President, Geo. W. Hancock; Vice President Duncan L. Buzby; Secretary and Treasurer, Frank B. Thompson. This Company expect to be ready for general business by the middle of November next, when they will inaugurate several new features, among which will be the attention and care of properties and estates of living and deceased persons, collection of rents, supervision of repairs, and selling the same when desired by the owners, and in this connection they will also devote special care in the settlement of estates in the German Empire and throughout the continent. They will also do a Trust and Deposit business and transact general conveyancing and transferring of property, insurance against loss to property-owners by accumulation of taxes, and act as general agents in the particular line of business coming under the above headings. The standing of the officers and incorporators of the Company establishes beyond all question the reliability of the concern and its future business success.

Lot-Buyers.

Architects and others had better correspond with the following lot buyers, as many of them contemplate building.

Francis H. Easby, of Wilmington, Del., lot 145x96 feet on Gilpin avenue.

Jacob S. Vandever, of Wilmington, Del., lot 14x68 feet, on Pine street, at same place.

Edward S. Masser, of Chester, Pa., lot 20x 140 feet, on Reaney street, at same place, $240.

Charles F. Fruler, Chester, Pa., lot 25x125 feet on Osceola street at Carbondale, Pa., $165.

Mr. Lange of Camden, N. J., two lots on Second avenue, at same place.

Mrs. Foster, of Camden, N. J., two lots on 3d and Spruce streets, at same place.

WANAMAKER'S

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

[ENTERED AT THE PHILADELPHIA POST OFFICE AS SECOND-CLASS MATTER.]

VOL. IV.—No. 43. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1889. PRICE 15 CENTS.

THOS. H. PARKS.

Whether it is the "one more drop of nervous fluid," which Matthew Arnold so grudgingly concedes to the Americans, which makes them prone to undertake vast enterprises, is a question each individual can answer for himself; the fact remains, that in every locality, be it large or small, there are a few men who correspond with a wider environment than their fellows, men who see further, think deeper, and who plan and carry to a successful conclusion enterprises of great pith and moment, involving the outlay of immense sums of money for improvements, whose magnitude strikes terror to the heart of that class of people who always fail because fearing to attempt.

In no part of Philadelphia is the result of this invisible power which draws the line between those who fail and those who succeed, more apparent than in the northwestern section, which a few years ago presented to the casual observer, who happened to wander in that direction, a desolate waste of territory waiting for the magic touch of a master hand to convert it into one of the most beautiful and desirable resident localities in the city. This seeming miraculous change is largely due to the far-seeing wisdom and indomitable business energy of THOS. H. PARKS, a Philadelphian by birth, who, having faith in the future greatness of his native city, has supplemented his belief by works of such a character and magnitude as to surprise the now frequent visitor to the neighborhood thus benefited. Mr. PARKS is yet a young man, having been born September 14th, 1851, and received his education in the public schools of Philadelphia, along with some others of the same kind, who have also since been identified with affairs of City and State. In 1871, he secured an office at Thirteenth and Master streets, and turned his attention to real estate matters. It took him but a brief period to recognize the immense value and advantages possessed by that section of the city, which he has since made the scene of his numerous building operations, and as soon as practicable he moved his office to his present quarters, at Eighteenth and Diamond streets, subsequently, owing to an increase in business, establishing a branch office at 802 Walnut street. From that time up to the present day, his motto has been: "Forward, not backward," and the march of improvement has been steadily advanced in every direction; surmounting difficulties as soon as encountered, until, at this time, clean wide streets, mostly paved with asphalt and patent pavements, lined with row upon row of handsome dwellings, fitted with every comfort and convenience known to the modern architect and builder, have taken the place of the once dreary waste of barren ground. Mr. PARKS' first venture in this section was the management of the sale of 125 houses built by Wm. Machett, on Norris, Diamond, Page, Fon-tain, Nineteenth and Twentieth streets, which was closely followed by negotiating the sale of 60 houses, the property of John M. Sharp, situated on Diamond and Fountain streets, between Seventeenth and Eighteenth streets. From that time on Mr. PARKS has controlled and managed the sale of a majority of the desirable dwellings along the line of Diamond street, between Broad and Twenty-second streets, paying especial attention to the properties built by John M. Sharp. His particular method has been to contract for the erection of dwellings by the row, and some idea of the magnitude of his operations can be formed from one contract entered into this year with Mr. Sharp, for the building of 216 houses, involving the sum of over $600,000.

During his business career in real estate, he has bought and sold fully 1,200 dwellings, consequence of her widely diffused reputation as the "City of Homes." To be sure there may be periods of stagnation in building as in other business, but these, at the worst, will be only temporary, as owing to the conservative methods of the people, and their generally sound financial condition, any serious business disturbance is not likely to prove so disastrous here as elsewhere. Then, again, prices are low because the supply equals the demand. Dwellings are sold close to their wholesale cost, and prices are much below those obtained in other large cities. Hence, there will be steady values. In Washington, desirably located two-story houses sell for $5,000 or $7,000, whereas, similar properties, as well located in Philadelphia, are never priced above $4,000.

Mr. PARKS' judgment in real estate matters has proved correct in the past, and, in spite of croakers, he has kept steady to his opinions, his wonderful business has more than justified his belief in himself and his methods of supplying the needs of a city like Philadelphia with comfortable and artistic homes. With this object in view, in the future he proposes to do his own building, after his own ideas, and in May last, he consummated one of his largest and most important real estate purchases, by which he secured several large tracts of unimproved ground situated between Diamond and Dauphin, Eighteenth and Twenty-second streets. The price paid was $400,000, from which some idea may be formed of the increase in value of the land in that section since Mr. PARKS established his office in 1871. On this ground, which is particularly favorably located for the purpose, he proposes to erect several hundred handsome dwellings, surpassing in architectural beauty, style and finish any of those recently built at like price. Among these will be a fine residence for himself and family, to cost about $30,000, for which an able architect has prepared plans. The location will be at the corner of Diamond street and Gratz avenue, and the plans combine great architectural beauty with every known improvement and convenience. This house is one of eight, being erected by Mr. PARKS, on Diamond street, between Gratz avenue and Nineteenth street, which other builders have said are superior to any operation built in Philadelphia for years. In them many novel and expensive features will be introduced.

Whatever his future movements may be, besides the operations already enumerated, is a matter for conjecture only, but it may be predicted with perfect safety, that having entered his present field of labor, and verified to his own satisfaction, that "nothing succeeds like success," his dauntless mind is not of that bias to allow himself to retrograde, either in his methods or the magnitude of his operations. But whatever he may do, or may not do in the future, he has already raised to himself a solid monument of comfortable and happy homes, "which, seeing, kings well might envy."

stituting a grand aggregate in money value of over $3,500,000. Of this volume of business, the past twelve months has included the purchase and sale of quite a number of rows of dwellings, at an estimated value of over $1,000,000. A comparison of the total amount with that of the past year, affords a fine opportunity for estimating the increase of the past year, and also what may be expected in the future, as he has, time and again, expressed himself in no uncertain voice, when interviewed on the subject, concerning the sound financial basis of the recent real estate boom, and his belief, that in his section, at least, the end is not yet. He firmly believes in a great future for Philadelphia, and that a continued and uninterrupted increase in her population must follow as a natural conse-

Walnut St. Theatre,—A Dark Secret.

New Park Theatre,
J. W. Morrissey's Grand English Opera Co.

THERE is more horse sense to every inch of the proposed project for a Belt Line as a means of recovering the lost commerce of Philadelphia, than there is in the entire proposition to remove the Islands in the Delaware river. The Belt Line means cheap transportation and great future prosperity and popularity for Philadelphia, both as a port of entry and of export; and when the road is built, and our commerce crowds our facilities; after our wharves and slips have been improved, then the Islands, if found to be in the way, can be removed in a jiffy. The action of City Councils on the Belt Line ordinance will be watched with great interest, as the project receives the support of every one outside of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's circle of influence.

Through Delaware.

At Wilmington, the project has been revived of constructing a handsome avenue leading to the park. The line of the new sewer is mentioned as a suitable route. The estimated cost is about $40,000. D. W. Taylor, president of the Board of Trade and John C. Farra, president of City Council favor the project. A lot has been purchased by the congregation of the Wilmington Baptist City Mission, at Twelfth and Heald streets, on which a chapel will be erected

Through Maryland.

At Baltimore, the Saint Bernard's Catholic church will erect a church and school at Homestead. George Archer, 52 Lexington street, is preparing plans for a stone church to be erected by the congregation of Saint John's parish at Kingsville, Baltimore Co., Md. The cost will be about $5,000. George C. Goldman will erect six two-story brick dwellings on east side of Belair road, Southwest of Patterson Park avenue; also eight two-story dwellings west side of Patterson Park avenue, corner of Belair road. Henry Westphal will erect two two-story brick dwellings at Nos. 1815 and 1817 Charles street. Patrick McGuinn will erect a three-story brick dwelling, west side of Chester street, near Bank street. F. Lazarus will erect a three-story brick building at No. 837 Gay street. The Mayor has signed an ordinance to open and widen Richardson street, so as to make it forty feet wide.

Washington, D. C.

In his forthcoming report, Secretary Noble will discuss the necessity of a new building for the Department of the Interior, the present quarters being too small. The plan which meets most approval is the erection of a structure the size of the present building, where the secretary and all the bureaus save the Pension and Patent offices could be accommodated. Union Lodge, I. O. O. F., is raising a building fund. Elizabeth M. Schuster has bought a piece of land of Fifteenth street for $16,200. A lot 16 x 68 feet, has been purchased by F. Hume, at Eighth and K streets, Southeast. V. D. Collins has purchased a lot on New Hampshire avenue for $12,500. Mr. Henry N. Copp has purchased fifty acres near Garrett Park, on the Metropolitan branch of the B. & O. railroad. He will cut it up into building lots for improvements. W. Bruce Gray, 600 Thirteenth street, N. W., has prepared plans for a six-story addition to the apartment house recently erected by Mrs. Annie V. Barbour. The addition will be 34 x 60 feet, and the first floor will be fitted up for stores and the upper floors will be fitted for flats. The same architect has prepared plans for an addition to the building at Thirteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue, occupied by Gibson Bros. for printing purposes. Plans have been prepared by T. F. Schneider, 933 F street, N. W., for a handsome residence for Wm. B. Matthews, to be erected on Kenesaw avenue, Columbia Heights. A number of hotel sites are being bought in view of a probability of the World's Fair being held in Washington. J. W. Douglass, commissioner, will receive proposals for supplying electric lighting until November 1st. A syndicate has made arrangements to erect forty or fifty medium sized dwellings, containing from six to ten rooms each in the Northeastern part of the city, and the plans will likely be prepared by architect Von Nerta, 1215 F street, Northwest. The cost of this operation is estimated at $200,000. The same architect has made plans for a dwelling of Ohio stone with black slate roof and copper dormers, to cost $3,000, furnace heat, all modern improvements, no contract let. Edward F. Davis will erect a dwelling on French street, to cost about $5,000, from plans prepared by N. T. Haller, 934 F street, Northwest. Mrs. P. P. Mullett will erect three handsome dwellings on Pennsylvania avenue, near Twenty-first street, from plans prepared by architect A. B. Mullett & Co., 1411 F street, Northwest. These dwellings will be of pressed brick, trimmed with Seneca stone and slate mansard roofs, hardwood interior finish, heated by steam. The cost will be about $36,000. Jacob Franz will erect two stores on Seventh street, with projecting plate glass windows, surrounded by galvanized iron work. The cost will be $8,000, the architects are A. Gaenner & Co. The same architects have prepared plans for a cottage and church, to be erected at Hartford, Conn. Rev. Dr. Simonson is the pastor, no contracts let. Captain George E. Lemon will erect two stables of brick, with slate roofs and galvanized cornices. The cost will be about $15,000. David A. Windsor has taken out a permit for the erection of a dwelling at 1218 Eighteenth street, to cost $25,000. The plans have been prepared by N. T. Haller, 934 F street, Northwest.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Alexander Harding has bought thirty-three acres of ground at Fifty-sixth street and Springfield avenue.

The Engineers Department of Public Works, Philadelphia, are at work upon plans for large additional sewerage and for which proposals will be asked at an early day.

A. G. Murphy, real estate broker, of 1335 Christian street, has established a branch office at No. 803 Girard building, Broad and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia.

Archbishop Carey will at the close of next month receive the Pallium, and with it $10,000, which is tendered as a gift to erect in the rear of the Cathedral in this city a chapel.

Mr. Robert Frazier, of Philadelphia, has purchased an elegant building site on Wolcott avenue, Jamestown, near Newport, R. I., containing about three-quarters of an acre.

J. T. Jackson & Co. have leased for Joshua Evans the large livery stable property on Race street, above Fifteenth street, to John J. Griffin, who will soon alter it for the purpose of manufacturing gas meters.

An ordinance has been introduced in city Councils, appropriating $20,000 for the building of a school-house in the twentieth Section, and one for $20,000 more for the purchase of adjoining property to the James Lynd school in the twentieth Section.

A large piece of ground has been purchased by the directors of the Pennsylvania Institution for the deaf and dumb, situated at the junction of Germantown avenue and Cresheim road, and they have resolved upon the removal of the institution at an early day.

D. S. Coffrode, builder, 136 S. Fourth street, has been awarded the contract for the erection of the four warehouse, Pennsylvania Railroad, Eighteenth and Market streets, and will begin the operation in a few days. This work will necessitate the furnishing of a large amount of building material.

J. T. Jackson & Co., real estate brokers, 711 Walnut street, have sold to the Luberg Manufacturing Company, Nos. 324-326 Franklin street, size of lot 40 x 159 feet, and the structures now standing are to be demolished to give place to a large factory, their particular business being the manufacture of chairs, baby coaches and fancy articles, cost of site $14,300.

The Germantown Electric Company has sold its plant to a number of capitalists, among whom is William G. Warden, proprietor of the rolling mill at Sixteenth street. The plant will be enlarged by the erection of a number of new buildings, for which purpose a location has been secured by the purchase of property at Cumberland and Armat streets. The building on east Chelton avenue, now occupied by O. N. Middleton, has been secured as an office.

Henry R. Shoch, the builder, has purchased another fine plot of ground of nearly five acres, in extent bounded by the Philadelphia and Norristown Railroad and Kennedy's Lane in the Northwestern part of the city, on which he proposes at an early day to erect a number of two and three-story houses, fitted with all the conveniences, electric bells, hot air heaters and best quality of gas fixtures, marble mantels, or wood, as desired by purchasers.

The committee on building will at once commence investigation of the best system of buildings to erect, with a view to health and division of pupils into classes according to age and kind of instruction, namely oral, manual and industrial, after which they will proceed to select an architect and contractor to erect their buildings, as neither of the latter have been employed. It is thought the work of removal will occupy two years, and expense of building the new Institute will be about $500,000.

Samuel B. Lenhart, 3821 Lancaster avenue, will erect a sanitary livery stable on south side of Lancaster, avenue, corner of Thirty-ninth street, 35 x 153 feet. It will be of brick, with rock-faced brown-stone trimmings, three-story, and will be fitted throughout with every accommodation for the business, having elevators, gang ways, first class plumbing and carefully guarded lighting facility. Elmer E. Baldwin, real estate broker and conveyancer, 3821 Lancaster avenue, will have full charge of letting the contract on behalf of the owner.

Allen B. Rorke, contractor and builder, Drexel building, has been awarded the contract for the erection of the large storage warehouse of Philadelphia Warehousing and Cold Storage Company, at Delaware avenue and Noble street. The structure will be eight stories high, the first being of granite and remaining seven of brick, the basement to be cemented on concrete and foundations laid upon the same material, the first to the fourth floors will have wrought-iron columns, the interior to be fitted with elevators, electric lights and general warehouse appliances, roof is yet undecided as to material.

The committee on schools have recommended to Councils the following appropriations for purchase of sites and building of new schools, as well an addition to Normal Training School: Twenty-fifth Section, for lots and buildings, $10,000; Twenty-sixth Section, repairs, $5,000; Twenty-eighth Section, new buildings, $60,000; Twenty-ninth Section $60,000; Thirty-first Section, new buildings, Belgrade and Cumberland streets, $20,000; Thirty-second Section, new building at Twenty-second and Berks streets, $15,000; Thirty-third Section, new building at Fourth and Clearfield streets, $60,000; for an addition to Normal Training school, $10,000. The above are supplemental to those reported last week.

Architects' Notes.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, 410 Walnut street, have prepared plans for a bank to be built at Germantown, Pa., to be three stories high, to be of stone, slate roof, heated by hot air, fitted with safes and all general paraphernalia for the purposes of banking institution. Wm. Steele & Sons have the building contract.

Cope & Stewardson, architects, 212 S. Third street, have prepared plans for a residence for J. Barton Townsend, Esq., at Overbrook, Pa. The building will be colonial style of architecture, built of stone, frame and brick, three stories high, slate roof, heated by hot air, fitted with electric-bells and all modern conveniences.

Alston & Heckert, 89 Federal street, Allegheny, Pa., have finished plans for five dwellings, 75 x 100 feet, to be three stories high, of brick trimmed with Ohio sandstone and alvazized iron cornices, plate and cathedral glass, wood and slate mantels, cement sidewalks, iron skylights, speaking-tubes, etc. The cost will be about $45,000.

Wilson Bros., architects and engineers, Drexel building, are preparing plans for a number of railway stations, one being a freight station at Conshohocken, Pa., passenger station at Milton and Akron, Pa., one at Collingswood, on the Atlantic City railroad, N. J.; also plans for a house for the President of the Bucknell university, at Lewisburg, Pa., and plans for the addition of a new ward to the Presbyterian hospital, at Devon, Pa.

Harrison Albright, architect, 508 Walnut street, is engaged on plans for a house for R. N. Manning, at Elm station, P. R. R. It will be stone and frame, shingle roof, plate glass doors and windows, heated by hot air, electric-bells and all modern accommodations; also house and stable for H. R. Levick, at Chelton Hills, and another for H. P. Castor, at Wissanoming station, one for George M. Reese, at Swarthmore station, P. W. & B. R. R. Details of three latter as yet incomplete.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, architects, 410 Walnut street, have finished plans for the "Times Annex" building on Sansom street, and they are now upon the boards for estimates. The structure will be eight stories high, three of which will be of shingle lime stone, remaining five of dark red and buff brick, Perth Amboy make, it will be fitted with fire-escapes, new boilers and engine of 100 horse-power, tin roof, elevators, electric-lights and bells, speaking tubes and other paraphernalia for printing business upon a large scale.

Thos. P. Lonsdale, architect, Fourth and Walnut streets, American Life building, has just completed plans for First M. E. Church, at Lancaster, Pa., 60 x 90 feet, and to have a Sunday-school attached, and for which estimates are being received, estimated cost about $40,000; also plans for alterations to house at Tulpehocken and Wayne streets, Germantown, for S. Green, Esq., interior to be remodelled, new roof cornice and exterior decorations, electric-bells and light to be introduced, and steam heat, stable on rear of lot to be altered. Cost about $16,000.

Peabody & Stearns, architects, 62 Devonshire street, Boston, have prepared plans and specifications for the erection of a summer residence for John Thompson Spencer, Esq., of Philadelphia, Pa., to be built at Ochre Point, Newport, R. I. It will be of frame work, colonial style, stone base, three stories high, shingle roof, heated by hot air, wooden mantels, electric-bells and other modern conveniences; also a very fine stable at the same time upon rear of lot, which is 50 x 60 feet, total cost to be about $25,000.

E. F. Bertolette, architect, 257 S. Fourth street has just completed plans and specifications for a large school-house, to be erected at Waynesboro, Franklin Co., Pa. It will be built of brick, Ohio stone base, with light cap stones, slate roof heated by Smead Wills, system and other modern appliances; it will contain special accommodations for teachers in the way of closets and coat rooms, and with special means of exit. Contract not yet awarded, except as to heating. Also engaged on plans for the "Struhsler building" at Pottsville, Pa. It will be of red brick, mixed with buff brick, terra cotta, and have Ohio stone piers, metal cornices and bases heated by steam from the public mains, fitted with electric-bells and light, tin roof and all modern conveniences in the interior.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, 310 Chestnut street, have just completed plans and specifications for the erection of an addition to the Protestant Episcopal Hospital, Front street and Lehigh avenue, to be known as the "ward for incurables," also a new boiler-house. These structures are to be built of brown stone, four stories high, with mansard roof, tower and terra cotta on the southeast corner, fire-escapes will be added to the exterior and roof to be of slate, whilst upon the interior the stairways are to be entirely of smooth slate and the window-sills to be of same material, basement floor to be cement upon concrete work, basement windows to be fitted with galvanized iron wire screens, a limited amount of electric work to be introduced, the windows to be of French double thick glass, all appliances for comfort of patients will be added. Work to be begun as soon as contract is awarded. New pumps will be placed in boiler-house.

C. Preston Stratton, architect, 314 S. Tenth street, Philadelphia, having prepared plans for two fire-engine houses for the Camden, N. J. Fire Department, one to be located on Vine street, between Third and Fourth streets, the other on Broadway, near Jefferson avenue, each to be 26 x 71 feet, to be built of brick, brown stone trimmings, with plate glass windows, galvanized iron cornice, a high tower to be placed in rear, the inside to be fitted with all electric appliances and conveniences known to a fire-engine house. All bids were to be in hands of the committee by the evening of the twenty-ninth instant, in order to make the award of the contract, but owing to the negligence of some person or persons, the specifications having been taken from the department at the N. W. corner of Fifth and Arch streets, bidders were unable to derive any information, and therefore are placed at much disadvantage in making estimates. It is thought at present this injustice, gross as it is, to parties interested, will cause a postponement of the consideration of the contracts.

E. W. Thorne, architect, 1307 Arch street, has just completed the plans, etc., for an iron plant of three buildings, to be built at once for the Radford Foundry and Machine Company, at Radford, Va. The buildings consist of a four-story building of heavy frame, 250 ft x 62-4 in and 30 feet to the square, with strongly trussed roof and large ventilator. The roofs will be covered with iron, and some of the walls with same, the foundations will be of stone and brick, there will be six immense cranes in the foundry, thus it necessitates an exceedingly strong, well braced building. A machine shop also frame, two stories and of heavy construction, size 150 x 52 feet, also 30 feet to the square, will have offices, stairs and work rooms, work rooms, wood floors, wood walls and iron roof, stone and brick foundations and a well built building for the purpose; also an engine house of brick, 33 x 60 feet, and 20 feet to the square, iron roof supported on trussed principle rafters, stone foundations, all to have ample windows, doors, etc., complete; also just delivered plans for a double frame twin dwelling, size 56 x 50 feet, two-and-one-half stories, to be built at once for Messrs. F. M. Porch and J. O. Burt, at Bridgeton, New Jersey, 22 rooms, open stairs, back stairs, porches, bays, balconies, stained glass, heating, plumbing, fire-places, mantels and modern appliances in general, to have slate roofs, cement cellar, etc., complete; also plans just delivered to owner, Mr. A. G. Curtin Skelton, for a frame cottage, 20 x 40 feet, two-and-a-half stories high, to be erected at Lansdowne Heights, stone foundations to first joist, slate roof, heating and modern conveniences; it will contain nine rooms, open stairs, bay window, front side and back porches, oak stairs and white pine and other finish; also plans on boards for a stone dwelling to be erected at Lansdowne Heights, two-and-a-half stories, 14 rooms; also plans for a pair of two-story brick houses of ten rooms, each to be erected at Rosemont, Pa. Further particulars later on.

Through New Jersey.

At South Seaville, Cape May Co., a new railroad station will be erected.

At Clementon, Camden Co., the foundation for the new M. E. Church, is ready for the frame work.

At Weehacken, Hudson Co., a new school house will be erected from plans prepared by Charles Golde.

At Brigantine, Atlantic Co., the Brigantine Improvement Company have asked for bids for the erection of a large hotel.

At Bloomfield, Essex Co., a building fund is being raised by the congregation of the Watseasing M. E. Church.

At Bloomfield, Essex Co., the School Board has decided to begin the erection of the new Berkly school-house on March 1, 1890.

At Princeton, ground has been broken for a handsome residence for Colonel W. E. Vandewater. W. J. Warren & Son have the contract.

At Haddonfield, the congregation of the Roman Catholic Church will erect a new church edifice, 75 x 40 feet. The material will be brick.

At Beverly, Burlington Co., it is reported that twenty-five dwellings will be erected next spring in the new extension, back of the City Hall.

At Bordentown, Burlington Co., a building will be erected at the entrance of the cemetery, which will combine a mortuary chapel, reception room and tool room.

At Orange, Essex Co., the Essex County Toboggan club will erect a handsome club house. It will be a Queen Anne cottage, 25 x 75 feet, and will contain a toboggan storage room, a stabling shed, an assembly room, ladies' room and cafe with handsome glass fronts; there will also be dressing-rooms and a kitchen.

At Hopewell, Mercer Co., a business block will be erected at Main and Greenwood streets, which will contain three stores and a bank on the first floor, and the other floors will be flats and offices. The material will be pressed brick, with stone trimmings and galvanized iron cornices. The plans have been prepared by W. A. Poland, 11 West State street, Trenton, N. J. The owner is Mr. A. S. Cook, of Hopewell.

At Trenton, John W. Suphine will erect a handsome residence to cost about $3,000. The material will be brick and shingle, steam heat will be introduced. W. A. Poland is the architect. The same architect has prepared plans for a three-story brick residence, to cost $7,500, for Edmund Wood; also plans for two dwellings for William Kelly, to contain all modern improvements, and to cost about $4,800 each.

At Camden, at the meeting held in the Wrightsville school district, it was decided to purchase the new furniture, fencing and heaters, notice of which appeared in our issue of October 16th. The plans of C. Preston Stratton for the two new fire engine houses, previously reported, have been accepted by the fire commissioners. John Carbett has been awarded the contract for erecting a new police patrol station at Fifth and Arch streets for $11,435. William Stern has purchased a lot on Main street and will erect a dwelling.

At Newark, the foundations of the New Pennsylvania Railroad depot on Market street have been about completed. The station will be in two sections, the material will be Philadelphia pressed brick, with terra cotta and blue stone trimmings, finished in hard wood, with fire-places of enameled straw-colored brick and marbled slate mantels, the windows will be of plate glass, the roof of both buildings open timbered and the two buildings will be connected in part by a tunnel lined with enameled bricks. At the last meeting of the school Board $56,000 was asked for to purchase school-house sites in the Seventh, Tenth and Twelfth Wards. The Second Ward wants a new school-house.

At Atlantic City, the San Marcos hotel will make improvements to cost about $10,000. Mr. Solomon will close the hotel until February 1st, at which time the improvements will be completed. Fred P. Currie will close the driveway leading from Atlantic avenue to the rear of his store by a new building; he will also enlarge his present quarters. The lot 30 x 100 feet at the corner of Maryland and Atlantic avenue has been bought by Mrs. Pauline Minard for $7,000. The husband of Mrs. Minard is the proprietor of the hotel at New Jersey and Atlantic avenues, and the probability is that the newly purchased lot will be used as a site for a new hotel to be erected by next season. The I. O. O. F. contemplate the erection of a new hall —At Lancaster, Lancaster Co., supervising architect, James H. Windrim, has recommended that no further action be taken regarding the construction of the public building until after Congress meets, as there will be an effort made at that time to increase the appropriation. The trustees of the First M. E. Church have awarded the contract for the new church to James Evans for $3,600, before reported.

—At Reading, Berks Co., Jonathan Mould, of the firm of J. Mould & Co., the proprietors of the "Bee Hive" dry goods and notion store, has purchased the property No. 647 Penn street for $22,000. Mr. Mould will obtain possession next spring, at which time the present structure will be torn down and a handsome business house erected on the site.

—At Allegheny, Peter Miller and J. Weiskeel will each erect dwellings from plans prepared by F. C. Sauer, Sixth and Liberty streets, Pittsburg. The same architect has prepared the plans for two brick, stone trimmed dwellings, to be erected by J. R. Mellon, at Rippey and Saint Clair streets. One of these will cost $12,000, the other about $5,000. Mr. Sauer has also finished plans for alterations and additions to the old Cochran, homestead on the new Brighton road, Eleventh Ward, Allegheny. G. D. Simen is the owner.

—A number of Pittsburg capitalists, in connection with some eastern bankers, have purchased the farms of Messrs. McMahon, Redd and McKean in the Bellevue gas field, near the Westmoreland county line, the intention being to develop the land, which is rich in deposits of lime-stone, sand and coal. The price is said to have been $250,000 for the two hundred acres. It is the intention of the purchasers to erect a large plate glass works, which will employ about $3,000 hands, and it is said a town will be built similar to Jeannette. It is also stated that several Philadelphia firms have been allotted space for the erection of works. The estimated cost of the enterprise is $3,000,000. The town will be plotted similar to Wilmerding and Jeannette, and large enough to contain 50,000 people, with public buildings, etc. A plate glass works, the largest in the world, will be erected on the river below McKean station. Contracts will be advertised for in a short time. James S. McKean, a prominent candidate for the Pittsburg post office, is interested in the scheme.

—At Pittsburg, T. D. Evans, Lewis Block, has prepared plans for a bonded warehouse for the Thompson distillery, at West Brownsville. The material will be brick and the estimated cost is $12,000. The same architect is at work on plans for an addition to the business house of George H. Bennett, in Oakland, W. B. Wable, McCance, Block, has prepared plans for an iron-clad planing mill, to be erected on Shingiss street by Henry Loxterman; also plans for a two-story stone and frame building, to be erected in Grandview place, Lincoln avenue. A two-story brick dwelling will be erected on Margarita street, east end, from plans prepared by the same architect. John B. Born will erect a frame dwelling on Rural avenue, from plans also by Mr. Wable. H. W. Wilker will erect a dwelling to cost $4,000, from plans prepared by F. J. Osterling, 516 Market street, hard wood mantels. Fifteen thousand dollars will be expended on the improvements to the West Pennsylvania Hospital. The plans were prepared by Hodgdon and Thomas, Safe Deposit building. The Central Traction Company has taken out a permit to erect a one-story car house and office, 20 x 400 feet, corrugated iron roof, the cost will be $25,000, architect Joseph Stillburg, No. 20 Fifth avenue, is the architect. The same architect has finished the plans for a one-story brick station for the same company, to be erected on Wylie avenue, at a cost of $57,000, slate and gravel roof. A permit has been issued to Mrs. M. F. Fahnestock for a two-story brick residence to be erected on Homewood avenue at a cost of nearly $10,000, slate roof, the builder is W. W. Miller. The same builder will erect two frame dwellings on Winebiddle avenue, to cost $5,000. Mrs. J. Anne Kehne will erect two brick dwellings on Emerson avenue, to cost $5,000. James N. Campbell, 708 Penn avenue, is architect for a three-story brick store and dwelling, to be erected by Leonard Kanerolf, on Penn avenue, at a cost of $10,000.

SEALED PROPOSALS.

COMMISSIONERS OF FAIRMOUNT PARK, CITY HALL.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received at this office until 10 A. M., MONDAY, the 4th day of November, 1889, for the construction of a Frame Shelter Building and Guard House at Hunting Park.

Full particulars as to form and every requirement of the proposal, with the necessary specification, plans, blanks and envelopes, may be obtained at this office. All bids must be on the blanks and enclosed in the envelope furnished at this office.

No bid, the aggregate amount of which exceeds $500, will be considered unless accompanied by a certificate from the City Solicitor that the provisions of the ordinance of Councils, approved May 25, 1860, have been complied with.

The Commission reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the Commissioners of Fairmount Park.

THOMAS P. TWIBILL.

In a "City of homes" like Philadelphia, it is an important matter to the great majority of the inhabitants to know that they have clear titles to the properties they own, and therefore it is that conveyancing occupies so important a position among the professions, and that those engaged in it, who have established a reputation for carefulness and reliability, rapidly acquire prominence in the community. One of the most successful members of this profession in Philadelphia, is Thomas P. Twibill, who was born in that city April 27, 1838. His father, George A. Twibill, is one of the leading and most philanthropic residents of the city where his extensive shipping interests and large real estate holdings have made his name well known in the community for many years.

Thomas P. Twibill, who is one of the leading conveyancers and real estate operators in Philadelphia, received his early education in the public schools and then at the La Salle College, in his native city. At the age of seventeen he entered the large furniture house of Swan, Clark & Co., where he spent over a year as a general accountant. After leaving the employ of this firm he took charge of large real estate interests throughout the city, and by his close attention to the same, acquired a measure of success and laid the foundation of a knowledge which has been of great value to him since in his profession. Finding that his business of real estate and conveyancing would be greatly facilitated by a thorough knowledge of the law, he entered as a student the Law Department of the University of Pennsylvania, from which institution he was graduated in 1881, and on October 15th, of that year, was admitted to the bar. Besides being a member of the Alumni of the University, Mr. TWIBILL belongs to the Hibernian Society and the Franklin Institute. He has devoted his attention, however, almost exclusively to the conveyancing, mortgage and real estate matters. His first large venture in this line was the purchase of the old Merchants' Hotel, on Fourth street above Market, at one time one of the most popular hotels in the city, and noted as the headquarters of James Buchanan, whenever that statesman visited the city prior to his election to the Presidency, and later, as the residence of Hon. Samuel J. Randall. After altering this vast building into apartments for offices and manufacturing purposes, he disposed of it to a syndicate, and it has been used since for business purposes. He then purchased the tract of land known as the Ridgway estate, situated on South Broad street, from Dickinson to Morris, and from Broad to Seventeenth streets. This valuable tract was purchased from the estate of the late John J. Ridgway, one of Philadelphia's most honored citizens. Mr. Twibill cut it up into some five hundred building lots, ran streets through the property with all the necessary municipal improvements, and what had been for years an unimproved, unproductive open tract, blocking the way to the city's progress in that direction, was changed to an improved district, yielding to the city's treasury a large sum in taxes on an assessment of over one million dollars, and marking the way for further improvements in that direction. The acquisition and disposition of this tract took over two years to accomplish, and at the time was considered to be the largest transaction of retailing real estate in one operation that had then taken place in Philadelphia. At the end of the time mentioned not one lot remained unsold.

Over three hundred men were constantly employed on the division of this property, and the cost in street improvements, together with the expense of granite curbing around the entire tract, amounted to nearly sixty thousand dollars. After this property

Avondale stone, with a slate roof, and the interior presents many novel features, being finished in hard wood, colored rose and mahogany. The mantels, of which there are seven, made by the Hale, Kilburn Mfg. Co., correspond with the wood-work of each room. The situation of this residence is most picturesque, standing as it does on an eminence commanding a view of the Chester Valley, the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Bryn Mawr, Villa Nova, Wayne and Devon. The grounds contain about forty acres and are valuable because of location. The cost of the residence alone is about $200,000. At the present time Weirwood Park, another operation, valued at about $200,000, is being put upon the market and is divided into acre plots, three to twenty acres. Mr. TWIBILL also owns the large plot of ground formerly belonging to the Eisenbrey estate, bounded by Twelfth, Thirteenth, Dauphin and York streets, known as Kenwood Park, containing over two hundred building lots, and upon which there have been already erected a large number of houses, the greater part of them being now occupied. Another large operation which he has in hand is at Thirty-fifth street and Haverford road, where twenty, three-story houses are now being erected.

Though Mr. TWIBILL is but about thirty years old, his knowledge of real estate matters in Philadelphia and elsewhere is as complete as that of men twice his age. He has built up a business unexcelled by anyone else in the city, and established a reputation as one of the best posted men in his profession. Though his specialties are law, real estate and conveyancing, his services as an expert have been called for in some of the important cases recently arising from the entrance into the city of steam railroads, notably in the damage suits of the Schuylkill East Side Railroad and the Philadelphia extension of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad. He has also frequently been called upon to act as an expert in damage cases before road juries in the matter of paving, for the openings of streets in various parts of the city. His services are also in great demand as trustee, executor and agent for large estates.

Mr. TWIBILL's business is not confined to Philadelphia, being entrusted by eastern syndicates and investors with the placing of loans, mortgages, etc. in Chicago, Kansas City and other western cities. Properties in New York also pass under his manipulations.

Mr. TWIBILL gives every promise of attaining a high position as an authority in real estate law. His interests are varied, and the success he has already attained is the result of unusual thoroughness, and his well-established reputation for integrity and reliability cannot fail to bring him still greater fortune and an enviable name among those who uphold the City's fame for the stability and commercial honor of her business men. Mr. TWIBILL has expressed his usual good taste and judgment in the selection of his business office, as he occupies an elegant suite in the building of the Land, Title and Trust Company, 608 Chestnut Street.

was disposed of he turned his attention to country and suburban homes, and at Radnor station and Devon, on the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, he acquired various large tracts aggregating over one hundred acres of fine building sites, which are being plotted and will be offered to purchasers with extra inducements for the building of fine homes, and looking to the gathering together of a community similar to that described above, but on a much larger scale.

Brown and Day, architects, 1305 Arch street, Philadelphia, have planned a handsome country residence for Mr. TWIBILL, at Radnor. It will be of PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. NOV. 6, 1889.

OPENED.

The formal opening of the Building to be occupied as an Exchange by the Master Builders' of this city took place on Tuesday afternoon—October 29th, last.

The alterations to the old Gas Building on Seventh street below Market, have been made solely with a view to its usefulness as an exchange; as very little attention has been given to ornamentation of any kind, notwithstanding which, however, it presents throughout the whole of its interior a particularly cheerful and inviting appearance. The arrangement of the offices and meeting and committee rooms is all that could be desired for both convenience and privacy.

The Robert's Fire Proof Paint.

Another competitor for the consideration of those who desire to make the wood work about their buildings fire-proof, is the fire and water-proof paint, manufactured by Roberts, Taylor & Co., of this city, besides which, this paint comes particularly well recommended for painting iron work, tin roofs, bridges, etc. It is even recommended as a substitute for copper paint for painting the bottoms of vessels of every description. Messrs. Roberts, Taylor & Co., 137 N. Sixth street, will cheerfully furnish a volume of testimonials upon application.

A New Way to Secure Old Walls and Ceilings.

The latest scheme for the restoration of the plastering of houses is that recently adopted by James T. Allen & Son, plasterers, 212 S. Tenth street, this city. The method is so absolutely original as well as effectual that Messrs. Allen & Son are justly entitled to all the publicity that can be given to it. No matter how threatening or dangerous the old plaster may have become, the Allen process secures it for all time, without dust, dirt or trouble to the occupant or injury to the contents of a single room or every room in a building. The process is so simple that it seems a wonder it was not thought of before. In the first place woven wire is stretched with considerable tension over the surface of the old plaster, and is secured by wire staples or nails to the beams or studding, as the case requires, this practically makes a sure thing of the safety and future permanency of the old plaster. Over this woven wire a thin coat of adamant plaster is placed, which keys or impacts the wires so closely and soon becomes so hard that any further trouble from the old plaster is impossible. This process is much cheaper than the cost of replastering; and as an evidence of the absolute safety and cleanliness of the process it can be stated that the art gallery of the Caldwell & Co.'s jewelry establishment, on Chestnut street, this city, was treated over a year ago, as was also the ceiling of what is generally known as the "Leather Room" of the Union League building, on Broad street, this city, besides several fine old residences, in which cases the removal of the carpets was not considered necessary.

The Home Heater.

Scarcely a day passes without the public being given information and ideas of inventions or improvements in mechanical appliances, which prove exceedingly interesting, particularly, if bearing upon, or relating to, the necessities and convenience of the reader. Every day brings forth something new; something markedly in advance of that which we possess, and meriting our fullest consideration, either from a personal standpoint as directly affecting our convenience and pleasure, or from that of the public good, raising us to a commercial supremacy and scientific eminence. Domestic appliances are almost innumerable, and we have so many that have been constructed in a thoroughly scientific manner, that we do not hesitate in saying they are perfect, yet, at the same time, endeavor to discover the slightest imperfection. "The Home Heater" (the caption under which this article is written), in its present form, by the series of results obtained, has convinced the manufacturers that they have produced a truly scientific heater, and can, after the many improvements made, very aptly say: "No science doth make known the principles on which it buildeth." At no time during the production of this heater has the cost been a secondary consideration; indeed, it has been almost paramount, the endeavor being to produce a heater embodying every principle requisite to a perfect and thoroughly efficient heater, at a minimum cost, so that those of moderate means might enjoy benefits and comforts with goals of greater means. The "Home" most assuredly precludes every thought of luxury (in the sense we commonly use the word) and banishes every thought of extravagance. It is beyond all doubt a heater for the people.

Valuable facts for Architects, Builders and Contractors, Material Men and others.

The following summary and tables of Building operations in the city of Philadelphia for the building season of 1889, commencing on January 1st and ending on October 31st, have not only involved a great deal of labor and careful thought but they are probably as correct as it is possible to make them with the information as to values that is available. In fact we have been, throughout the year, largely dependent upon our own office notes gleaned through personal interviews with contractors, architects and others during construction, and we present the following statements with the almost confidence as to the correctness of general details and we believe our estimates to be considerable below the true values.

The statement shows that 6,630 new two-story houses were erected or commenced against 5,589 for the same period last year, showing an increase of 1,041 for 1889 against an increase of 1,020 in 1888 over the same ten months of 1887. The banner ward this year is as usual the twenty-eighth with 1,471 two-story houses. Although these figures show a falling off 184 in this ward when compared with the figures of last year, yet it must be borne in mind that the territory now known as the Thirty-second ward has since our report of last year been cut off from the Twenty-eighth ward, or, in other words there have been erected within the same area this year 1804 new two-story houses against 1655 for the same months last year, an actual increase in that territory of 149.

West Philadelphia comes up with 1006 new two-story houses and 399 three-story. Of these the Twenty-fourth ward lays claim to 628 two-story houses and the Twenty-seventh ward to 378. As to three-story houses West Philadelphia divides her portion by giving 219 to the Twenty-fourth ward and 180 to the Twenty-seventh, showing an absolute increase in West Philadelphia of 365 two-story houses and 193 three-story.

As to the three-story houses it will be noticed that we show a gain of 518 over our ten months' reports of last year. This immense gain can be better appreciated by referring to our tables of last year which showed a falling off from 1887 of 264. The largest gain in three-story houses has been in West Philadelphia which can justly lay claim to 293 of the increase, although the Twenty-ninth ward when it comes to a comparison by wards leads all others as its increase in these houses is 250.

A noticeable feature of this year's operations is the increase in four-story houses, our reports showing 34 against 13 last year.

There has been a great falling off in large office buildings compared with last year, as we have had but one of any decided proportions since January 1st.

During the 43 weeks extending from January 1st to October 31st, inclusive, there have been 13,355 conveyances of real estate recorded against 10,383 for the same period of last year. These represent a value of $66,410,746.62 against which there rests a mortgage incumbrance of $14,164,817.95 or 21.3 per cent. The further incumbrance of ground rents amount to $494,399.72, representing on a six per cent basis a further value of $8,239,935.33. Right here we desire to call attention to the fact that during the whole of 1888 the conveyances recorded amounted to 12,679, representing a value of $62,663,201.87. Consequently it will be seen at a glance that the transactions in real property for 1889 already exceed those of 1888 in its entirety by $3,747,544.75, hence it follows that the people of this good city not only continue to buy houses in the face of the woeful predictions of the small army of croakers but they are really buying more than ever before.

The sale of real estate at auction from January 1st to October 31st amounts to $3,225,736.82, on which there was an incumbrance of $448,663.34. These figures show a falling off in sales at auction of $124,568.69.

There is a singular unanimity of opinion as to the present extremely favorable outlook for 1890. Architects as a rule, are already filled with orders for plans for work to be executed next spring. It is evident that the confidence of investors as well as those who build for their own account remains unshaken. In fact, many of them in unmistakable terms have announced their determination to do even more building next year if the ground can be obtained at prices that will justify it.

We personally believe that the chances for next year are good. Although we think that much of the work of the coming year will be done nearer the central part of the city, both in renovating old buildings and in replacing the many old rattle-traps with modern structures in keeping with the ideas and wants of desirable tenants. In fact the owners of many centrally located properties will be compelled to modernize or rebuild altogether.

The following table of conveyances will be read with interest. The average weekly amount of conveyances according to figures is $1,544,435.96.

Total increase of Three-Story Houses over the same months of 1888..... 518

Angus S. Wade, Architect, 20 South Broad street when questioned on the subject, said: "1889 has been one of my most successful seasons, but from present indications the season of 1890 will equal if not surpass it in many particulars."

Thomas McAvoy, Brick Manufacturer, Point Breeze avenue, near Tasker street, thinks the year 1889 has been a fairly good one for his business. He has sold all the bricks he could manufacture and there is still a heavy demand. He believes the next building season will be a good one. He has produced about 350,000,000 bricks this season up to date.

J. T. Jackson, Real Estate Broker, 711 Walnut street, on being questioned, said: "I think there have been too many buildings erected in 1889, which has a tendency to depreciate values in outlying districts. Prices are maintained but sales are not active in those localities. Yet there are not as many vacant houses as one would imagine taking into consideration the number of houses built last year."

Allen B. Rorke, Builder, Drexel Building, says: "I think this year has been a good one for building operations especially outside of dwelling houses. My operations will reach about $1,500,000, perhaps more, and I believe 1890 will open well and continue prosperous. There have been a few failures in 1889, but these are always the accompaniment of great prosperity. On the whole the financial basis of building operations is very satisfactory."

Stacy, Reeves & Sons, 1611 Filbert street report: "We do not think the building season of 1889 has been as prosperous as former ones for the contractors in building, due somewhat to the elements and close competition. We have, however, no reason to suppose it in any way a failure. So far as the operators are concerned I don't think it. We think 1890 will not be much of an improvement over this year. We have had, however, our share of business and have no complaints to make."

E. W. Thorne, Architect, 1305 Arch street, reports: "Operations have been medium for 1889, but I think 1890 will be much better. I base my opinion on the fact that the early part of this year was wet and a great many did not start operations until late, some not at all. I have had a good share of work and a number of plans left over for next season."

W. S. P. Shields, Real Estate Operator, 735 Walnut street, says: "I believe the operations for the year 1889 have been decidedly successful. In general the supply has about equalled the demand. Operations, however, would be much benefited if the city authorities for highways would furnish the necessary street improvements for which we pay taxes and particularly such improvements as we are compelled to pay for in advance, but which in a majority of cases we do not get. Since the present regime has been in operation the administration of affairs seems to be somewhat chaotic. I have completed about 194 buildings of my own and have 128 now under construction, aggregating in value about one million dollars."

George W. Hancock, President Citizens' Trust Company, Real Estate Broker and Conveyancer, says: "Although the building operations for 1889 have been unusually heavy, there seems to be a demand for the supply now on the market. I do not think, however, that the condition of the operations is healthy, because builders, in order to dispose of their properties so as to realize something on their investments, are offering them on such terms as will induce people of small means to buy a $3,000 or $4,000 property, giving a mortgage, aggregating about 90 per cent. of the cost. While the labor market continues good, the monthly payments on such houses will be prompt, the success depending entirely on such a favorable condition. The outlook for 1890 seems to be good. We are cutting up large tracts of land in different parts of the city, preparatory to putting them on the market in the spring. Under the present law it is a difficult matter to obtain municipal improvements along properties assessed as rural, as the recent decisions of the courts have been that the owners of the property cannot be charged with such improvements. This is especially the case in the Twenty-fourth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth and other rural wards."

David S. Gendell, Architect and Builder, 2219, Chestnut street, writes as follows: "In answer to your question, it is too early to foretell the general building business of 1890 with any degree of accuracy. I can only speak of my own business. I have had a very prosperous year and I am very busy winding up the season's work. I anticipate an equally busy season next year. Have already under contract for next year an armory, one of the largest city churches, and a lot of other work of a semi-public and private character."

Robert Wood, Stone Merchant, Thirtieth St., below Chestnut, says: "While the early part of 1889 was somewhat dull we had all we could do during most of the season, and I regard it as a very good one. I have had a number of large operations such as the First National Bank of Chester, the Saint Vincents' Seminary of this city and many large house operations. Financially I regard 1889 as very satisfactory and I believe 1890 will be one of unusual prosperity."

Rush J. Whiteside & Sons, rear 2310 and 2318 Wallace street, builders, send the following: Replying to your postal card, the year about closing, weather considered, has been rather better than the average. The weather, which is one of the great factors in building, has been very decidedly against us, and has prevented many operations being done, which may possibly yet be done before the season closes. We know of several large operations contemplated for 1890, and look forward to a good spring opening; but it is too soon to predict with any degree of accuracy, as the season generally does not open up before February or March."

Frank Williamson, Stone Merchant, 2202 Chestnut street, says 1889 has been the best he ever had and that many contracts have been made already for the next year. "The use of stone is largely on the increase, and all our quarries are doing a larger business than ever before. Payments are more satisfactory than formerly and prices are fair."

Philadelphia Marble Co., Thirtieth and Walnut streets, reports: "We have had a fair share of the building work, but have not sold as much as during some former years. We regard the operations of 1889 as first class, and have had fewer losses than ever before. There is also a larger demand for marble. Our opinion is that next year will not see such a volume of trade. The greatest thing we have to contend with is competition, and a tendency to trade after estimates have been made on a cash basis. We think on the whole 1890 will be good."

William Gray & Sons, Stone Merchants, Thirtieth below Walnut, says: "We regard 1889 as the most prosperous we have had for two years. We have had a large number of large contracts many of which will run over into next season. 1890 we think will be good."

J. C. Worthington, Architect, 1305 and 1307 Arch street, thinks the past year has been a good one, and the prospects favorable for 1890. Has considerable work on hand, but thinks the erection of small houses somewhat overdone. The demand for a better class of dwellings is on the increase.

Addison Hutton, Architect, 400 Chestnut street, reports: "The past season of 1889 has been a remarkable one for the amount of building done in the city. For myself I have called all former years. Operations are on a good financial basis and profitable. I think 1890 will be a good year for building. I have as much business in prospect as can be expected at this season of the year. The suburban operations and those of country homes are on the increase."

John Maxwell, Stone Merchant, Thirtieth and Chestnut streets, says: "We have had a good year, indeed one of our best in three years. I think all things considered operations are on a good basis, though small operations are being forced too much. Plans for large buildings are not as yet sufficiently developed to speak confidently, but I think 1890 will open well."

Paul Brandler, Architect, 532 Walnut street, says there has been a falling off of substantial houses whilst the smaller ones have been on the increase. I have had considerable country work of fine character but I have noticed a cutting down tendency even after bids have been accepted. We have modified our plans very much. This, however, does not extend to the medium class of dwellings. I would say the savings have been on behalf of modern improvement and interior finish. I anticipate a great harvest in building operations in 1890, having already large orders in advance which surely speaks well for the coming season."

E. F. Durang, Architect, Twelfth and Chestnut streets, says he has had a very good year, and anticipates much work for 1890 unless there should be a decided rise in the cost of building material which would prove a drawback.

Hazelhurst & Huckel, Architects, say: "The year 1888 has been a very good one with us indeed, and we have had more heavy work during the past season than for several years previous. 1889 has been particularly good for expensive buildings, such as churches, suburban houses, and country homes; and there have been more exchanges of suburban properties than in the previous year. We think 1890 will see the erection of many churches and factories, and that the different operations will be carried on a sound financial basis with out any of the wild speculations which have characterized some former years' building operations. The outlook for our own special line of work is good and we have an abundance for 1890 already."

William K. Hawkins, Architect, 18 South Broad street, says the year 1889 has been one of the best for general building interests that he has known for years. Supply and demand seem about equally balanced. He has considerable work on hand and believes 1890 will surpass the last season.

D. E. Dallam, Real Estate Broker, 514 Walnut street, says that there is really as much demand for open ground, particularly for small dwellings to be erected next year, as there was at any time during last winter for operations for the present year, but there is very little enquiry for sites for buildings to be used for industrial purposes, in fact, firms that were greatly interested in the value of sites, and that were making enquiries which led to the belief that they contemplated, at that time, the erection of large buildings for manufacturing purposes, have withdrawn from the market altogether. This fact, Mr. Dallam thinks, justifies the conclusion that the outlook for manufacturing for 1890 is not regarded by these men to be so promising as it was in 1888 or 1889. He also notices that there are fewer enquiries, in fact less than at any time during the last two years, for expensive residence property, but there is, at the same time, a greatly increased demand for suburban properties, particularly for those located at Germantown and Chestnut Hill, and for properties ranging from ten to fifteen thousand dollars. Mr. Dallam also says that there is a decided demand for truly country properties located near the city, this he thinks arises from the water and typhoid fever scare. To sum up in a general way, he believes that small houses are about all sold, and that builders, generally, have very few remaining unsold. From present appearances houses of less than $3,000 in value will be as freely built, and will be taken as large a share of the operations for 1890 as any previous year, but there will not be so many higher priced houses built.

James H. Beverlin, Real Estate Agent and Builder, 1600 Passyunk avenue, says: The past year has been very successful at least for the lower part of the city, the supply and the demand being about equal. This augurs well for the coming year, which from indications will be even better for building operations than 1889. If nothing unforeseen happens I expect to begin the erection of one hundred and fifty or two hundred houses early in the spring as soon as the weather is suitable for such work.

R. C. Ballinger & Co., Engineers, Contractors and Builders, Lucas Building, Chestnut and Juniper streets, when interviewed on the subject, report that with them the present building season has been a great success, and that every thing points toward an increase for the coming season.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., Architect, Fourth and Chestnut streets, says: "I think 1889 has been an exceedingly good one in the way of building operations, and profitable to all. 1890 will be from present indications, fully as prosperous.

I. M. Green, Builder and Contractor, 14 South Broad street, thinks the building operations of the year 1889 have been more profitable to the operators and investors than to the builders and contractors. This is owing to competition, which being great, cuts the profit from the labor. "On the whole I think 1890 will be a better year for building operations than 1889."

Thos. H. Parks, Builder, Real Estate and Insurance Broker, Eighteenth and Diamond streets, says: "I do not think building will be carried on quite as extensively in 1890, as many of the most available situations have been occupied, but I do believe the demand for well built and attractive houses in good locations will continue good. As the public are getting more critical I think the quality and style of dwellings will undoubtedly improve whether builders wish it or not. Those who do not comply with this requirement will have their reputations ruined and their business with it. The houses now being built by me will be worth when completed about $500,000. In addition I am just having completed my own account about $600,000 worth of houses. Have $300,000 worth of ground, and $100,000 of other property of my own for sale, besides valuable property belonging to others probably $1,000,000 worth in all. The outlook for next season is good."

E. J. Paxson, Real Estate Broker, 1305-7 Arch street, says: "I can only generalize, but my idea is that the operations have been so far a success. Where sixty per cent of the houses are sold it is good work and profitable. Wherever municipal improvements advance, sales are good. Central properties are selling well, and the prospects for 1890 are good."

John M. Erickson, Real Estate and Builder, 3947 Lancaster avenue, says that he has erected thus far, during 1889, ninety-four two and three-story dwellings, out of which he has thirty remaining unsold, these could have been sold several times had the streets, on which they are located been paved. The fact is, people with such eye-sores as unpaved streets before them, are not disposed to invest. Mr. Erickson feels certain—and his impressions are based upon the present demand for houses—that the building operations of 1890 will exceed those of any previous year. There is, he says, a constant enquiry for houses, both for homes and for investment. There is also, he says, considerable demand for Lancaster avenue property, and that avenue promises to become a very important thoroughfare. Most of the buildings erected this year have been sold, those remaining unsold are either handicapped with bad location, bad construction, or by the want of the necessary street improvements. Mr. Erickson says he will erect more houses next year than ever. Prices are stiffening, and there is very little open ground to be obtained for building purposes.

Thomas P. Twibill, on being interviewed expressed himself as follows: "I have been asked my opinion. 'Has real estate improved materially in Philadelphia in the past year?' Well the answer is, yes. Philadelphians have shown a great desire to purchase good and substantial properties for investments. In many cases whole blocks being purchased by one party. Never has it been known in the history of our city's business that so many investors purchased in this wholesale manner. Properties well and desirably located in what might be called old Philadelphia proper, have advanced fully ten per cent within two years past and in some cases thirty per cent. Any lots with a frontage—say of over 20 feet on any of our main streets (of course allowing for sufficient and requisite depth), are eagerly seized upon and improved, and the same steady increase has been going on in the new Philadelphia as it is often called. And again this good feeling and appreciation of values goes beyond into the outer wards and the environs of Philadelphia. The future for real estate I predict will be a bright one and present prices and prospects help to bear out the assertion."

Harrison Albright, Architect, 308 Walnut St., says: "The past year has been a very busy one, my clients have been liberal in their investments and have had a like return. The work in hand for the coming year will keep me very busy and from what work I have, think that next year will be the largest known in the building line."

Benjamin F. Teller & Bro., Real Estate Brokers and Conveyancers, Sixth and Chestnut streets, says: "In our opinion the supply about equals the demand. We have sold more real estate in 1889 than in any previous year, and fully expect to do even better in 1890. We have invested largely in real estate for pure investment only, as it pays better than most any other legitimate way of placing money for profit."

R. G. Kennedy, Architect, Drexel Building, says: "I have been fairly busy during 1889 and consider it to have been prosperous, but can hardly say what the outlook for 1890 is at present. It seems, however, to be good."

W. B. Powell, Architect, 423 Walnut street, thinks that 1889 has been an exceedingly good one for building, and judging from present prospects 1890 will be equally as good. Much work has been projected, particularly in large buildings, but realization is quite another thing.

Wilson Brothers, Engineers and Architects, Drexel Building, reports: "We have been fairly busy during 1889, and as much of our business is expert in nature we can hardly give an opinion as to general building operations within the limits of the city proper. Much of our own work consists of large institutions, railroads and freight stations and work of a similar character, so that we cannot speak much in detail. A great number of large institutions are being erected and we have had our share of such work. Our present prospects for the next year are exceedingly good."

—At Braddock, Allegheny Co., at the last meeting of Council, it was decided to erect a town hall to answer borough purposes and to accommodate the fire company. Four lots have been purchased for $10,000, and three more will be obtained on which the building will be erected. It will be three stories high, 60 x 80 feet, of brick, with cut stone front, the cost to be about $15,000. The property committee was authorized to secure architects to furnish plans.

—At Chester, Delaware Co., at New Industry, a tool and machine foundry is about to be started. The incorporators are Messrs. Robert and Richard Wertheil, John B. Roach, J. F. Black, M. H. Bickley, W. S. Blakely, J. E. Cochran Jr., R. E. Ross and others of Chester, and Claus Vanhagen, B. F. Paiste and Edward Paiste, of Collegeville, Pa. A meeting was held at the office of George B. Lindsay, Esq., Chester, a short time since and the arrangements completed for the Company. Temporary quarters will be secured at present, and if the project prove successful, a large plant will be erected.

At Pittsburg, the Pittsburg and Mount Oliver Incline Company have about finished arrangements for the construction of a new incline plane from Carson street to the top of Mount Oliver. A handsome depot will be erected on Carson street, to cost about $20,000. Mr. C. J. Schultz is president of the Company. Oliver Bros. & Phillips' new building will be a brick structure and cost $125,000. Samuel Woods and D. P. Black will erect a two-story stone dwelling on Thomas street, cost $11,000. The Mission Sunday School will erect a one-story school building to cost $5,000. Mrs. Ellen Watson will erect two two-story brick dwellings on Forbes street, cost $8,000, James J. Laird, contractor. George Nickel will erect two two-story brick dwellings on Calvin street.

DON'T YOU want to subscribe for this Journal? Any single number may contain information worth ten times the cost of a year's subscription.

IF YOU ARE A REAL ESTATE BROKER, it may save you many Dollars in commissions.
Investigation will soon convince you that ours is the only correct list of Conveyances published.

IF YOU SELL BUILDING MATERIAL, Boilers, Engines, Belting, Elevators, or in fact anything that enters into the construction of a Residence, Mill, Factory, Church, School-House, or any sort of building you will find weekly in our columns, more information as to Who is going to build in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware, and Washington, D. C., than is contained in all of the Building Journals of the United States put together.

IF YOU ARE A MASTER WORKMAN, BUILDER, CONTRACTOR, PAINTER, CELLAR-DIGGER PLUMBER, RIGGER or ROOFER, of course you want to know who must employ some one in your line.

THE MAIN POINT is to know where to go. Competition is too hot to expect the contract to hunt you. There are many bright fellows who take the PHILADELPHIA REAL ESTATE RECORD, who get there before you do.

THE YELLOW SUBSCRIPTION BLANK is intended for YOU, write your address on it, and with $5.00, send or mail it to the office, No. 17 N. Tenth Street, and the paper will be sent to you for ONE YEAR.

Yours Respectfully,

JOHN N. GALLAGHER,

PROPRIETOR.

Of course there are styles of head-wear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs

The newest Heath Hats (London)
are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jun-ble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of
Hat goodness is passed how many of
you make up your minds after a look
in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to
man.

ON

FREE OF COST.

MERCHANT & Co., importers and dealers in roofing plates, sheet copper, sheet brass, etc., New York, Philadelphia and Chicago, are issuing to the trade a neat little illustrated descriptive pamphlet of twenty-four pages, entitled "A Tin Roof," descriptive of the manufacture, sizes, thicknesses, weights and brands of the various kinds of tin plate used in roofing buildings. The treatise fully describes the kinds of tin roofs, how to put tin together, and the special advantages of a standing seam roof, the allowances for a greater amount of expansion and contraction over that of the flat seam. Also treats of the gutters, fire-walls, soldering, painting, suggestions, as builders and carpenters' specifications, etc. This little work has already entered upon its fourth edition, evidencing the fact of its merit, and the favor it has met at the hands of the trade. These will be mailed on application to the head office or any of its branches—Industrial World, September 28.

We wish to call your attention to the above named Company and submit to you the merits of our Artificial Stone Pavement.

This invention is applicable in every instance where stone of any kind is now used, especially in Paving, Flooring and Roofing.

The Pennsylvania State Agricultural Society, in their tests of Artificial Stone in 1888, attested the excellence of this manufacture, by awarding the only Premium and Diploma for a block of Metalithic one foot cube, which sustained unaffected, a pressure of 150 tons. The reason for this, is in our chain binder and rock compound, the strength of which, is in the introduction of intermediate bodies.

There are only two prominent Artificial Stone Patents in America:—"Metalithic," and Granolithic, the latter known as Stuart's Patent, which is controlled in New York by Mr. Matthew Taylor. These are the only methods known which, so far as we are aware, use any sort of a binder.

This Patent controlled for the past five years in Philadelphia by the Portland Paving Company, has become universally established by giving entire satisfaction, and we rank among the endorsers of this particular kind of Artificial Pavement, many Scientific men and Organizations, and we believe it comes as near perfection as it is possible to attain.

We are now in a position to offer bids on pavements, floors, building stone, etc. We always give a written guarantee with our work, covering a period of not less than five years.

Letters of inquiry answered, correspondence solicited, and if desirable, our Superintendent, or accredited agent will call upon you personally and give figures and full particulars. Address as above, or 231 Drexel Building.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. NOV. 13, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE upper man in the Philadelphia Times' fight for its pipes on Eighth and Sansom streets, is the editor of that Journal after all.

It is stated in financial circles that Thursday, October 31st last, was the hardest day Phila. delphia banks have experienced for forty years. The cause assigned for the extraordinary scarcity of money on that day, it is said, was owing to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company sapping the money market to meet the payment of $5,000,000 of Camden and Amboy Railroad Company's bonds due November 1st inst.

DURING the first ten months of the present year, the people of this city purchased considerably over sixty-six million dollars worth of real estate, from this it is quite evident that Philadelphians have awakened to the fact that it is far better to invest one's surplus earnings in a home than in beer, but there is still too much beer drank, and too few homes purchased by the beer drinkers. If these lovers of this unwholesome beverage could comprehend that the money they fire over the counters of beer saloons would buy outright a respectable home for every workman in Philadelphia, we are sure that the present home buying tendencies of our people would not only increase, but would be continued indefinitely. It is a noticeable fact in this connection, that saloon keepers and brewers waste no time in planting their surpluses into real estate.

In spite of the protest made by many of the students, the University of Pennsylvania has adopted a modified system of co-education. This is, no doubt, the entering wedge, and, as such, the friends of co-education are to be congratulated on the success that has thus far attended the movement for the higher education of women in Philadelphia. The gift of Mr. Joseph M. Bennett, of the two adjoining properties at the south-east corner of Thirty-fourth and Walnut streets, simplified matters for the committee, and made it comparatively easy for its members to adjust matters in a way satisfactory to friends and foes of the proposed innovation. Nothing definite has as yet been determined, but it is understood that girls, who enter for a degree, will pursue the same course of study as the boys, and that in some branches, at least, the two sexes will recite together. The subject of a separate faculty for the new College for Women is yet undecided, as well as many other details, which cannot be settled until a Board of Managers has been appointed.

If the exhibition of Industrial Art, now being held in Memorial Hall, Fairmount Park, serves no other purpose than to convince the thousands of church zealots who think they must go abroad for their church furniture, that stained glass church windows of high artistic merit can be made in America, it will have served a most noble purpose. The fact is, the exhibition of stained glass work is particularly fine, and it's a question if better can be made anywhere. A little practical common sense expressed by church people in the purchase of glass work would save millions of dollars to our American workmen. The free listing of Church windows as works of art was a serious mistake in the first place, and now that the whole country has been filled with such work, under the influences of an empty sentiment the sooner the wrong is corrected the better. Congressmen Wm. D. Kelly, Charles O'Neil, A. C. Harmer, H. H. Bingham, together with our illustrious senior and junior United States Senators could not possibly exercise their influence to greater advantage for the benefit of thousands of American workers than by continually agitating the question of placing stained glass church windows on the list of dutiable goods, and at such a rate as to keep the foreign stuff out altogether.

DURING the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1888 Canada exported 342½ tons of asbestos to the United States, England, France and Germany, representing a value of $228,355. Two-thirds of this quantity was taken by the United States from 300 to 400 tons by England, the other countries taking the rest.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The Committee on Surveys, of City Councils, are considering the bill before that body for the opening of Union street through to Delaware avenue.

The corner-stone of the Church of the Good Shepard, at Collins and Cumberland streets, will be laid on the 16th inst., 3.30 P. M., by the Rt. Rev. Bishop Whittaker.

Messrs. Robert Wetherill & Co., of Chester, Pa., owners of properties Nos. 1725-27-29 Columbia avenue, have determined to remodel them, and place handsome stores upon the first floors.

Frank Piot, mason and builder, 4530 Henry street, Germantown, Philada., is negotiating for a site 150 by 300 feet at that place, and, if successful, he will erect, for himself, a handsome residence and stable.

W. S. P. Shields, builder and real estate operator, 735 Walnut street, has purchased a lot of ground on the east side of Hanson street, south of Woodland avenue, and will at once commence building ten dwellings.

The Equitable Brick Manufacturing Company have purchased a large piece of ground situated at Rabbit lane and Fifty-seventh street, and will at once commence the erection of sheds and houses for the purpose of manufacturing bricks.

Michael and Jno. J. Cassidy have bought of W. Linton Landreth, twenty-three contiguous building lots, at the junction of Fourth street and Snyder avenue, on which they will at an early day commence building a number of two-story houses.

The Reading Trust Company, Reading Pa., assignee of the Reading Iron Works, has sold to the Reading Iron Company the entire plant of the Reading Iron Works, consisting of lots of ground and buildings in Reading, Pa., Camden, N. J., and four squares of ground in Philadelphia, for $150,500, subject to a mortgage of $50,000.

Thos. H. Parks, builder, Eighteenth and Diamond streets, has purchased the lot on the northeast corner of Carlisle and Diamond streets, for $22,000, and will commence the erection of several fine residences at once, these buildings will be of stone, three stories in height, unique in finish, and the interior having electric appliances throughout, hard wood finish and best of sanitary plumbing. Each will cost about $20,000.

The congregation of St. Lucas German Reformed Church will erect, on their new lot, on Twenty-sixth street, between Girard avenue and Poplar street, a handsome chapel. The plans have been prepared, and the committee, or the Rev. P. Wienand, 1314 North Twenty-seventh street, will furnish any further information in relation to the matter. The structure will be Gothic in architecture. Pressed brick, Indiana lime-stone trimmings.

Mr. Jno. F. Betz, has finally decided to build at the corner of Broad street and South Penn Square, a large and imposing building of from ten to twelve stories in height, prominent architects, among whom may be mentioned Wilson Bros., Thos. P. Lonsdale, Willis G. Hale and William Gette, have prepared plans, the final acceptance of which being subject to the decision of Mr. Betz. The time of commencing operations cannot be definitely settled, as the present lease does not expire before October 1890.

Joseph M. Bennett, Esq., 258 South Eleventh street, has donated to the University of Pennsylvania, for the furtherance of the co-education of women, the two fine properties located at the S. E. corner of Thirty-fourth and Walnut streets. These properties being originally built for dwelling purposes will be altered and adapted to the necessities of the case by the faculty, who have just decided upon the admission of women students at an early day. The faculty have not yet decided upon the amount of alteration necessary, but will consider the matter at an early day.

Architects' Notes.

T. Frank Miller, owing to increased business, has removed from his office at 615 Walnut street, to more commodious quarters at 1221 Arch street.

Lindley Johnson, architect, 512 Walnut street, has plans completed for alteration building 512-14 Walnut street. It is proposed to rebuild these structures into larger and better offices than at present.

G. W. & W. D. Hewitt, architects, 310 Chestnut street, have completed plans for remodeling and frescoing the interior of the Church of the Holy Comforter. Rev. Horace F. Miller, rector in charge.

Wilson Bros., architects, Drexel Building, have prepared plans for a cottage for Dr. C. H. Williams, at Beach Haven, N. J., to be three-story brick, tin roof, electric bells, dumb waiters, plate and stained glass, steam heating, etc.

J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 804 Walnut street, has plans for a residence for Mr. T. Estel, 18 by 36 feet, three stories high, common and pressed brick, slate roof, electric bells, dumb waiters, plate and stained glass windows and wood mantels.

Willis G. Hale, architect, Lucas Building, Chestnut street, below Broad, has completed plans for a large store for Wm. Weightman, 34 by 105 feet, four stories high, to be of pressed brick, and stone, tin roof, elevators, plate glass windows, heated by steam, iron columns and iron front, speaking tubes and ventilators. Benjamin Ketchum & Sons have the contract for building.

Schaeffer & Co., architects, 512 Drexel Building, have in preparation plans for interior fixtures for bar and other rooms, handsomely fitted, for Mrs. C. Zimmerman, Sixth and Bridge sts., Camden, N. J.; also, plans for a two-story house for Jacob Hoffman, Sepvira street, near Vienna street, to be of built of press brick, brown-stone trimmings, hot air heating and electric bells.

J. P. Leach, architect, Indiana, Indiana Co., Pa., sends the following report: plans and specifications prepared for a double dwelling for J. C. Ellis, at Johnstown, Pa., to cost $4,075. J. B. Carnahan, contractor; also plans and specifications for a residence for J. H. Telford, Esq., of Indiana, Pa.; J. H. Givin, contractor, also plans and specifications for a residence for A. H. Chesley, at Pittsburg, Pa., no contracts let, bids will be received until November 15th.

Constable & Rogers, architects, 902 Walnut street, have prepared plans for a residence for J. W. WILLIAM BOOTHBY.

In these days of money getting, when to "get on in the world" is the legitimate ambition of everyone, the successful business man, who has attained the object of his desires, is frequently pointed out as the particular favorite of fortune, whereas, if the truth were known, success, in almost every particular, is due, not to some outside influence, distributing favors indiscriminately, but to close application combined with patient and continuous effort, and a determination on the part of the individual to build up a business, having for its foundation reliability and integrity in all things. This class of men, commencing without other capital than a good name, a strong arm, and an abiding faith in themselves succeed in building up a business, much in the same manner as the walls of a massive building rise brick upon brick until the completed structure commands the admiration of the passers by, who, perhaps give no thought to the fact that were it not for such minute details as the laying of each brick, no structure would have been reared to merit their attention. And so it may be found, upon investigation, that every business concern worthy of merit, represents the accumulated results of the patient, quiet, honest work and sacrifice of some one who worked and saved, while others, with less ambition, trusted to fickle fortune to help them through, and finding, when too late, that professional or business eminence is never reached save by the narrow way of a long apprenticeship, unmitigated labor, and the still more difficult struggle to adhere to the right, because right is right, in scorn of consequence. If any other way has been discovered to secure what may be named success in its true sense, it has not as yet been made known to the world.

The subject of this sketch is no stranger to Philadelphia, and that his business success fully typifies the foregoing statement is well known by a host of warm personal friends here and elsewhere, who recollect his small beginnings after his escape from Salisbury Prison. (See work by Albert D. Richardson, entitled the "Secret Service, The Field, The Dungeon and The Escape," pages 456, 468 and 473.) Step by step he has advanced, slowly to be sure, but steadily and surely, until the name of BOOTHBY and its identification with the oyster interests of this country as dredger, planter, shipper, retailer and wholesaler has been uninterrupted, except during the Rebellion, when the fortunes of war enforced his retirement for a season within the inhospitable stockade at Castle Thunder and Salisbury.

As a boy, when thirteen years of age, he was doing a man's work, dredging for oysters on Chesapeake Bay and other Southern waters; at sixteen, was master of a vessel, and had already earned for himself an enviable reputation as a capable skipper, possessing thorough business methods. Although, at the present time Mr. Boothby's business is mostly on land, he still retains his great love for things nautical, and nothing delights him more than to take the helm of a fleet craft, and with a stiff breeze and pleasant companions, pass long summer days fishing and sailing. He is a venturesome and careful sailor, and has been known to sail along the coast from Little Egg Harbor to Absecon in a 14 foot open boat rather than take the longer way through the thoroughfares. His advent into the oyster business in Philadelphia occurred about twenty years ago, at a time when the business itself was in the hands of a few men, and when wholesalers as well as retailers managed to get along well enough in the matter of keeping their accounts by means of small memorandum books, carried in their coat pockets. At the present time, although there is no business in which those engaged in a wholesale way are so few in numbers, yet it has reached such proportions that it is estimated that the present wholesale oyster business of this city alone, now amounts to between four and five million dollars yearly, and constantly employs thousands of men, besides hundreds of vessels, and embraces, as a distributing point, almost every State in the Union. Of this immense amount of business, Mr. Boothby has no considerable share. As to his business in this city, including his wholesale establishment at 307 South Front street, extending back to 306 South

Water street, together with the restaurants at 1235 Chestnut street, 810 and 812 Vine street, and 1718 Ridge avenue, one hundred and thirty-six men are constantly employed, including the clerical force engaged at the wholesale house, but it does not include the small army of consigners and buyers scattered along the Atlantic coast, who are permanently located at prominent shipping points from Providence, Rhode Island, and the easterly end of Long Island to Norfolk, Virginia. Of course, such a business involving, as it does, in the wholesale department, the hazards of planting and shipping, both as owner and consignee; and in the retail department, the catering to a critical and exacting host of patrons, to whom inattention and inferiority in quality would simply mean disaster and ruin, requires something more than large capital and experience, inasmuch as there are times when oysters of a fine quality are more difficult to obtain than the gold with which to purchase them. It is at such times as these that the mettle of the man is tested to its utmost, and it is Mr. BOOTHBY's pride that in all his vast business experience he has always proven equal to the occasion, and although his wholesale and retail customers number among the thousands, yet he retains at all times such a grasp upon the possibilities, and his range and reach for material are so great that he has yet to meet his first defeat in his efforts to supply his customers. Such a record has occasionally been a costly luxury to its owner, as he has more than once paid prices that would appal the average dealer, and send a shiver through the exchequer of a banker. Indeed, it is accepted among the trade of this city as an indisputable fact that Mr. BOOTHBY has paid the highest price ever paid, per barrel, for oysters of any quality or brand, or at any time or any place, and for no other reason than to meet the expectations of customers, whose faith in his ability to serve them was in itself a thousand times more dear to him than any monetary consideration the victory involved. Mr. BOOTHBY has been engaged in his present line of work, boy and man, for forty years, and consequently has had plenty of time, as well as the inclination, to become its master in every particular. His name is well known to every Philadelphian, and whether used as a shipping mark or as a sign over a restaurant door, has become so thoroughly associated with excellence and reliability that no Philadelphian would stop to question either, any more than he would doubt Mr. Drexel's ability to pay his own check when presented at his bank on Chestnut street. As a real estate owner, Mr. BOOTHBY is noted more for the quality of his possessions than for their number. His investments in Chestnut street property are not only considerable but they represent the self-same superior judgment that has guided and directed so successfully his other business interests.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. NOV. 20, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

A NEW and seemingly very sensible method of filtering river water for city purposes is to sink a shaft on the river bank, the water penetrating through the earth, it is said, becomes as clear as crystal.

THE Indiana Supreme Court, in the case of an appeal taken in the case of one Rinningham, convicted for an attempt and caught in the act of burning a barn, has decided that under the State law he could not be punished for merely trying to burn the barn, as an unsuccessful effort did not constitute arson under the law.

WE always believed that property owners had rights as well as railroad corporations, and we further believe that the Supreme Court of the State of Pennsylvania, in its decision in the Marchant case against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, uttered bad law as well as bad morals. It will be remembered that the learned Court, in that case, emphasized, what it regarded as the absurdity of Marchant's claim for damages, by stating that a party owning property on Arch or Spring Garden streets, and even further away from the nuisance, might, with the same consistency sue for damages. This idea, notwithstanding the fact that it was advanced by the highest court in the State, we regarded as mere sophistry, for it attempted to settle all such questions, not by law, but by contiguity.

The recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the Duncan case, sets at rest forever a long mooted question, for, under its decision, we believe that railroad corporations will be compelled to pay consequential damages, when proven, notwithstanding the attempts of Railroad lawyers to wriggle away from the meaning and purposes of the decision. We can discover no lawful reason why a property owner several blocks away cannot claim and sue for damages as well as one abutting the very tracks of a railroad company. Of course, such a claimant might run the risk of a non-suit, or find it difficult to prove his damage, but his right, as per Judge Sterritt's dissenting opinion, to bring suit, cannot, we think, be denied by any court in the land. We would be pleased to hear of the Marchant case going to the United States Supreme Court, if not too late, as we believe that an intervening street, although it might mitigate, yet it could not preclude damages.

A new system of water filtration has been submitted to the consideration of City Councils. It is known as the West System. It embraces galleries divided into compartments in which the water to be filtered is first placed, the upper division acting as a receiving or settling basin, and the lower as a filter, the filtering material resting on a lattice floor. Gate valves are introduced to control the supply to each compartment. The water, when filtered through the beds of the second gallery, is aerated by falling into gutters and pipes, and is conducted to the reservoir below for distribution. The mechanical arrangements for cleaning, etc., are said to be perfect.

We heartily agree with the proposition of the Board of Building Inspectors in their recommendation to the Director of Public Safety asking him to petition the Building Commissioners to place pneumatic tubes in the office of the Building Inspector, connecting them with the Tax Receiver's Department, this will not only facilitate the business between the two offices, but in a great measure enhance the comfort and convenience of the citizens having business to transact with either of the departments. As matters stand at present, many mistakes occur through being uninformed as to the location of the various rooms in the great structure. So that by the connection spoken of above, and asked for by those who know the needs of the department, the Building Commission should concede the request and thus remove the obstacles that stand in the way of transacting business, both expeditiously and satisfactorily to builders, and owners seeking building permits.

Handsome Wood Work.

THE wood work representing the offices, desks furniture, etc., of the Union Trust Company, is said to be the finest ever seen in this city. The wood is mahogany, highly polished and beautifully carved. The work was done by the Hale Kilburn Manufacturing Company, of this city, from designs prepared by Mr. D. L. Young, the Company's regular designer, whose great forte besides the elegance and beauty of his conceptions, is in the utilization of space to the best possible advantage, an item of no secondary consideration to either business or financial institutions. The public have been frequently invited to inspect the results of the Hale Kilburn Company's efforts in behalf of the Union Trust, and to the credit of the designer and workmen of that Company, be it said New York City, with all its boasted extravagance, does not contain a suite of offices in the least superior in point of magnificence to those of the Union Trust Company, of Philadelphia.

Miscellaneous.

At Grand Haven, Ottawa Co., Mich., a stock company, with a capital of $50,000, will rebuild the Cutler House.

Mrs. C. W. Wallace, of Chicago Ill., will have a handsome building erected at Dartmouth College, as a memorial of her son.

At Jackson, Jackson Co., Michigan, the school and library buildings at the Penitentiary recently destroyed by fire will be rebuilt at once.

At Woodville, (not a P. O. town), a handsome frame villa will be erected from plans prepared by architect A. P. Clark, 220 Four-and-a-half street, Washington, D. C.

At Holyoke, Mass., G. P. B. Alderman, has drawn plans for the new almshouse. It will be two stories high, with mansard roof, and will cost $13,000, exclusive of plumbing and heating.

At Springfield, Mass., Mr. Watson Ely will erect an apartment house, to cost about $15,000. It will be of pressed brick, tiled floors, slate roof, and hard-wood interior finish, wood mantles, electric bells, etc. C. A. Gridley, of Springfield, is the architect.

At Chicago, Ill., the late John Crerar has left over two million dollars for the erection and maintenance of a public library, to be known as the John Crerar Library. He also left one hundred thousand dollars for a colossal statue of Abraham Lincoln.

The Board, which has been considering the consolidation of a number of Naval stations at Newport, R. I., favors the plan of the erection of a "Naval School of Application," which will include the Naval Torpedo station, the War College and the Naval Training Station in one establishment. The Board also recommends that the $100,000 now appropriated for a war college building, on Goat Island, be expended for a structure for the new school of application. Secretary Tracy is said to favor the plan.

Recent Decisions.

IN RELATION TO MATTERS CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AND COMMERCIAL LAW.

Decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

ACCIDENT INSURANCE.—Where a policy of insurance against accident, provides that in case of an accidental injury "immediate written notice shall be given the association" the word "immediate" must be construed to mean within a reasonable time under all the facts and circumstances of the case.

A person insured under such a policy, whose eye was injured on September 4, but the injury was not considered dangerous until some days afterward, was held, under the circumstances of the case, to have complied with the provision requiring "immediate" notice, when he notified the association on October 1st.

Proofs of loss may be admitted to show that such proofs had been made in compliance with the policy, but they are not competent evidence of the plaintiff's claim. Accident Ass'n vs. Smith, April 24, 1889.

CONVERSION.—The share of the purchase money of real estate sold in proceedings in partition, which is charged upon the real estate sold in lieu of the widow's dower, is to be considered as real estate, so far as to vest in the person who would have been entitled to it had it remained unconverted. But after it has so vested in the person entitled, it is to be considered as money in his hands, and in case of his subsequent death it goes to his personal representatives as personal estate. Went's Appeal March 19, 1889.

FIXTURES.—In determining the question, whether articles attached as realty, are realty or personality, the articles being of such an equivocal character as to raise the question, as to their nature, the question, the object and intention of the owner is to be regarded, and is admissible in evidence. Benedict vs. Marsh, May 8, 1889.

HUSBAND AND WIFE.—Where a wife leaves her husband, and renounces all conjugal intercourse a considerable time before his death, she is not entitled to administer upon his estate after his death, nor to the exemption of $300.

The exemption provided for by the Act of 1851, is a pure gift by force of law, for the benefit of a decedent's family, and does not belong to a woman who did not, at least in contemplation of law, sustain a family relation to her husband at his death. Dower does not depend upon the existence of the family relation at the death of the husband, and is not barred by desertion. Nye's Appeal, March 6, 1889.

PARTNERSHIP.—Between partners themselves, land which is treated as partnership property, especially if it be purchased and paid for with partnership money, is regarded as partnership property only, although the property be taken in the name of the partners individually. Whether land conveyed to persons who are partners, in their individual names, is partnership property or not, is largely a question of intention, which may be shown by parol; it may be manifested in the acts and declarations of the parties. Warriner vs. Mitchell, March 21, 1889.

VENDOR AND VENDEE.—A bank held a judgment against X, for $625, to secure the payment of notes to that amount. X, sold land, against which this judgment was a lien, to Y. The bank afterwards issued execution on the judgment, and the sheriff paid the bank out of the funds in his hands a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgment as it stood on the record. Subsequently Y, brought suit against the bank, claiming that he had paid full price for the land, and knew nothing of the existence of the judgment; that before the execution was issued X, had paid the bank $300, which was to be applied on said judgment, and that, accordingly, there had been an overpayment, after allowing for interest, etc., of $126.35, which he claimed. He also alleged that he did not know of X's payments on account, at the time of the sale. The bank's affidavit of defence alleged that the money received from the sheriff was on account of X's indebtedness, and that the sum realized was not sufficient to satisfy this, but the balance had to be secured from X's endorser. The lower court gave judgment for want of a sufficient affidavit of defence.

Held: This was error. The bank was entitled to the money as against X, and Y, who claimed title to the land under X, was in no better position than X. There was no allegation in Y's statement that the bank had agreed to apply monies received on account of the judgment. Bank vs. Fair, May 9, 1889.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Councils have been petitioned to buy the property at York and Fourth streets as a site for a new station-house for the Nineteenth Ward.

The Evangelical Lutheran Church are about to erect a chapel on the West side of Kingessing avenue, North of Forty-sixth street. Size will be 30 by 72 feet, and cost $1,400.

Thos. P. Twibill, Esq., real estate operator, 608 Chestnut street, has sold thirteen properties on Fawn street, the consideration being $2,100 each; also No 1434 Tasker street for $3,600.

James H. Stevenson & Son, 140 S. Sixth street, has sold as a matter of investment to Mrs. Ida L. Blackhurst, ten properties in the neighborhood of Twenty-ninth and Diamond streets.

The Grand Opera House will undergo extensive alterations early in February from plans prepared by J. B. McElfatrick & Sons, 23 East Fourteenth street, N. Y. The work is to be finished by May 1st.

The Marks' Bros., Eighth and Arch streets, have purchased a property on the South side of Arch streets, near Ninth, as a matter of investment solely; at least for the present they do not contemplate otherwise.

The Italian Mission of the Episcopal Church, on Eleventh street below Christian, contemplate the erection of a parish building. Funds are now being raised for the purpose. Dr. William F. Nichols is interested in the mission. Rev. M. Zara is the rector in charge.

Dr. C. H. Bostock, of Upper Darby, has purchased a fine plot of ground seventeen acres in extent, near North Wales, Montgomery Co., from F. C. Ely, real estate agent, 621 Walnut street, and upon which he proposes at an early day to build a handsome country house.

A general committee of the Episcopal Churches met on the 14th instant and resolved to solicit contributions from the entire church diocese for the purpose of erecting a home for aged people. So far several fine contributions have been announced, but no location for the site yet arrived at. Bishop Whitaker is very active in the matter.

Mr. Charles H. Cochran, real estate operator, 5201 Lancaster avenue, has just purchased a fine tract of land six acres in extent at Morton, Pa., and will at once lay the same out in building lots, the buyers of which will be restricted to certain conditions as to kind of buildings. The property is known as the old Ramsden country seat.

Thomas Long, Twenty-ninth and Girard avenue, has purchased from Messrs. Elkins and Weidner, thirty lots on Thirtieth street and Myrtlewood avenue, between Thompson and Master streets, the consideration being $80,000, and on which he proposes to commence the erection of fifty two-story houses with brown stone trimmings, bath, hot and cold water, and to have artificial pavements.

Archbishop Ryan has just purchased of Joseph C. North the fine lot of ground situated at the N. E. corner of Moyamensing avenue and Reed street for the sum of $7,000. The purpose of purchase is for the erection of a parochial school to be attached to the Church of the Sacred Heart, on Moyamensing avenue, below Reed street. The time of commencing operations has not been definitely settled.

The question being agitated of establishing a theatre in the vicinity of the Fifth and Sixth streets railway depot, has assumed a somewhat tangible shape. Mr. George Gandy, the Secretary of the above Company, and others, are interested in the matter, and propose the re-modelling of the upper part of the present market-house, on the S. W. corner Kensington avenue and Cumberland streets. As yet no definite action has been taken.

In regard to the report that two new theatres are to be erected in this city, the architects named were addressed on the subject with the following result:

New York, November 12th, 1889.

John N. Gallagher,

Dear Sir:—Your communication is duly received. We have as yet made no definite arrangements about the theatres you speak of. When matters are arranged we will be pleased to give you all particulars.

J. B. McElfatrick & Sons,
23 E. Fourteenth street, N. Y.

Messrs. Alburger and Casceden, of Manayunk, have purchased the property at Baker and Centre streets, adjoining their present salesroom, and will erect an additional salesroom on the site, 11 x 40 feet. They also contemplate the erection of another conservatory.

Portland Paving Company, 231 Drexel building, has just received the contract for paving, coping and fancy walks around and about the residence of A. B. Richardson, Dover, Del., and for the new home of Robert Steel, U. S. Naval Constructor, on Springfield avenue, West Philadelphia.

Architects' Notes.

W. B. Powell, architect, 423 Walnut street, has plans completed for a house for Mr. George L. Cuthler, of N. Y., 40 by 50 feet, to be frame, three stories high, shingle roof, to have electric-bells, dumb-waiters, plate glass windows, lavatories, wood mantels and best of plumbing, etc.

Edward F. Durang, architect, 1200 Chestnut street, has plans prepared for a parochial residence for the Rev. Father Coghlan attached to the new R. C. Church, to be located at Broad street and Susquehanna avenue. It will be built of stone, three stories high, slate roof, fitted with electric-bells, gas fixtures, plate glass windows, hot air heating, wood mantels and best sanitary plumbing. The cost to be $15,000.

J. J. Deery, architect, 328 Walnut street, in addition to plans for the Athletic Base Ball grounds, has made plans for a riding school, which will be annexed and will be quite an elaborate affair; also plans for a club-house at Kenwood, Ill., which will be of stone and shingles, heated by steam and have all electric appliances and gymnastic apparatus. The same architect has made plans for sixteen railway stations, to be located on the new branch of the Phila. & Reading Railroad, from Winslow Junction to Sea Isle, N. J. These contracts have not been let, and will, when ready for bidders, be open to all who may be disposed to make proposals under the supervision of Mr. Deery.

Theophilus P. Chandler, Jr., architect, Brown building, Fourth and Chestnut streets, has plans completed for the erection of a large apartment house for William G. Warden, Esq., of the Standard Oil Company. The structure is to be located at N. W. corner of Eleventh and Pine streets. It will be of light colored granite, the upper stories to be built of Indiana limestone, the roofing to be asphalt, together with much of the flooring, iron beams and columns and stairways of the same material, perforated terra cotta brick for filling, special pumps for supply of water will be introduced. All kinds of electric appliances will be placed, elevators, passenger and freight, engines and all modern conveniences looking to the comfort of the tenant will be required by the specifications. The rooms will be so arranged as to let to renters in suites of from three to six, and so laid out as to be entirely of a private character. The building will be ten stories above ground, thus forming a grand and imposing feature of that neighborhood. Estimates are now being received for general contracts, and the same will be awarded in a few days.

Through Delaware.

At Newark, New Castle Co., The Kartavert Manufacturing Co., has begun to clear away the ruins of the Dean Woolen Company's building, preparatory to the erection of a factory on the site.

At Wilmington, the congregation of Grace M. E. Church, has appointed a committee to consider some important improvements to be made to the church edifice, new carpets will be purchased. John G. Baker is chairman of the committee.

Through Maryland.

At Baltimore, Messrs. Baldwin & Pennington, have made plans for a warehouse to be erected at Tremont and Pratt streets, the material will be sand brick with Seneca stone trimmings, the interior will be largely of iron. Steam heat will be used, and there will be three steam-power freight elevators. The cost will be $80,000. Charles L. Carson, 52 Lexington street, has prepared plans for a do mitory for the Female College at Fourth and Calvert streets, to cost $50,000, it will be 41 by 123 feet, and four stories high. Messrs. Baldwin & Pennington have finished the plans for the club house (previously reported) to be erected at Charles and Eager streets, at a cost of $150,000. It will be heated by steam and contain the latest improvements. Cardinal Gibbons has directed Rev. M. J. Walsh, pastor of Saint Augustine's Roman Catholic Church, to take steps toward the erection of a pastoral residence. Mr. Baldwin, the architect, is now preparing plans, and work will begin early next summer. An Episcopal Chapel will be erected at North and Tenth streets. A handsome memorial window will be placed in the P. E. Church of the Epiphany, in memory of Dr. Samuel H. Giesey. Edward J. Gallagher, will erect eleven two-story brick dwellings on south side of Fayette street. Carl Henderson will erect twenty-four two-story brick dwellings on north side of Biddle street. George W. Ellender, will erect two two-story brick buildings on Forrest street. James C. Dowling, will erect nine two-story brick dwellings on east side of Byrd street, also ten two-story brick dwellings on west side of William street, between Heath and Barney streets. Samuel T. Shipley, will erect twelve two-story brick dwellings on west side of Cedar avenue. Charles Milske, will erect twelve two-story brick dwellings on west side of Maderia avenue. William J. Arminger, will erect three two-story brick dwellings on north side of Heath street, also fourteen two-story brick dwellings on east side of Goodman street. Charles W. Huntington and others, have incorporated The Electrical Construction Co., and will manufacture electrical machinery. Messrs. Faile & Young, now located at 309 North street, have bought the property at 67-18 north Calvert street, and will erect a factory in the Spring. This structure will be of brick and stone, and will be 30 by 100 feet, four stories in height. It will be fitted throughout with the most improved machinery.

Washington, D. C.

Mr. R. A. Phillips will erect seven two-story dwellings on Seventh street from plans prepared by architect A. P. Clark, 220 Four-and-a-half street, N. W. Mrs. C. E. Freeman will erect a dwelling on Thirtieth street, West Washington, to cost $5,000. Leon Dessez is the architect. N. T. Haller, 931 F street, N. W., has prepared plans for four dwellings to be erected at Le Droit Park. The material will be pressed and franco brick, trimmed with stone and galvanized iron cornices. The cost will be about $16,000. Oliver Cox will erect a dwelling to cost $23,000, from plans prepared by Edward Woltz, 934 F street, N. W. Sub contracts to be let. Owen Donnelly has received the contract for the erection of the residence of Dr. C. A. Max Wyble, on Connecticut avenue, between Q and R streets, N. W. The cost will be about $30,000. D. J. McCarty has the contract for the erection of the Inter ocean building, on Ninth street. This structure will be of pressed brick, with stone trimmings, copper cornices, steam heat and plate glass windows. The cost will be $75,000. R. O. Holtzman has sold to John B. Lerner, Esq., sub lots 30 and 31 of square 377, on the South side of F street, between Ninth and Tenth streets, N. W., for $46,000. In reply to a communication on the subject, Thomas J. Fisher & Co., real estate brokers, 1224 F street, writes that over five hundred thousand dollars worth of lots have been sold at Kalamazoo, a tract of land lying between Washington proper and West Washington, and owned by Messrs. Don Camerou, of Harrisburg, and J. C. Bullitt and Anthony Drexel, of Philadelphia. The price paid for lots ranges from 40 cents to $2.75 per square foot. No buildings have been erected yet, but the probability is the lower portion of the property around Massachusetts avenue, which is one of the principal avenues of the city, will be handsomely improved within a short time. Massachusetts avenue is now being improved, and as soon as water and sewerage are introduced, building will likely begin.

Through New Jersey.

At Plainfield, Union Co., it is proposed to erect a soldier's monument to cost $15,000.

At Berlin, Camden Co., Charles Trapp, of Philadelphia, will erect a three-story dwelling.

At Sea Isle, a tower will be erected 150 feet high, on which will be placed a 600 candle power electric light.

John Moulton, of Kirkwood, Camden Co., has received the contract to erect a hotel and a station at Laurel Springs.

At Plainfield, Union Co., an effort is being made to raise funds for the erection of a Y. M. C. A. building.

At Westville, Gloucester Co., Mrs. Knight has bought a lot on which she will have a dwelling erected at once. C. B. Smith has the contract.

At Haddonfield, Camden Co., ground has been broken by Americus Underdown, for the erection of a handsome residence. Henry Albright has received the contract from Elwood Braddock to erect several dwellings.

At Williamstown, Gloucester Co., the Glassblowers' Union has concluded to purchase a site and to erect a factory. H. K. Bugbee has been selected to draw plans for the building and to furnish estimates of cost, etc.

At Pleasantville, Atlantic Co., Risley & Farr, real estate agents, are preparing to erect about twenty-five dwellings on their property for renting purposes. William H. Fenton and Frank Reeve, of Atlantic City, have broken ground for new dwellings.

At Cape May, Cape May Co., George Ogden has received the contract for furnishing the lumber for a four thousand dollar cottage to be erected very soon. Nelson Griffin will make extensive alterations and additions upon property recently purchased by him on Ocean street.

At Jersey City, Mr. F. M. Meyer will erect a handsome row of four dwellings to cost $20,000. The material will be pressed brick with galvanized iron cornices and red slate mansard roofs. They will be heated by furnaces and the interiors furnished in soft woods. No contracts let. The architect is John G. Meyers, National Safe Deposit building, Washington, D. C.

At Interlaken, Monmouth Co., an entire triangular block, fronting on Deal Lake, has been purchased by Mr. Thomas M. Montgomery, of Philadelphia. Two handsome dwellings will be erected on the site from plans prepared by architect T. A. Roberts & Son, 748 Market street, Newark, N. J. The cost, including carriage-house, will be about $15,000. The same architects have prepared plans for a residence at the same place on an adjoining lot for Mr. John L. Hamilton of N. Y. Mr. Hamilton will also erect a number of smaller cottages next season.

At Atlantic City, Messrs. Schlect & Mehrer, of Schauflier's hotel, will begin extensive alterations in a few weeks. Work will begin at once upon remodeling the United States hotel building. The building will be cut up and moved to Maryland and Pacific avenues. One wing will extend along State's avenue. The main building will face on Pacific avenue. A brick basement will be put under the entire structure. F. A. Souder has the contract for the carpenter work. Extensive improvements will be made by the Camden & Atlantic Railroad at the Inlet next season.

At Camden, C. W. Cox, builder, has purchased a tract of land on which he will erect one hundred dwellings in the spring. The Sigale Manufacturing Company contemplate further improvements. Mr. Wilson Ernest has purchased the frame boat-houses at the head of Second street. These will be removed and Second street opened to the riparian line, and the adjacent land will be used for building purposes. It is said that the West Jersey Title and Guarantee Company, Third and Market streets, together with the lately chartered South Jersey Finance Company, have secured the market-house property, southeast corner of Third and Market streets, and will alter the same for their occupancy as soon as possible after January 1st, at which time the present lease expires.

The Brigantine Railroad Company, a separate and distinct organization, is constructing a line of road from Pomona, N. J., on the line of the Camden and Atlantic to Brigantine and Island Beach. About nine miles of the new road has been built. Under this impulse the stock of the Brigantine Land Company has increased, it is said, to $30 per share. The Hon. A. C. Harmer, William Gladding, John Rittenhouse, ex Gas Trustee, having had a controlling interest in the Land Company, have disposed of the same to the new Railroad Company. It is stated that the new road will be completed and in running order by January 15th next. The officers of the Brigantine Railroad Company, office in the Peoples' Bank, are Ganen Van Nostran, of New York, President; Moritz Lippman, Vice President; James B. Van Waert, Treas., and E. Clarence Miller, Secretary. The Philadelphians said to be interested are Chas. W. Packer, H. S.

Louckheim, Benj. F. Houseman, L. W. Miller and Wm. Hacker. Contracts, it is stated, have already been let for two fine hotels to cost $30,000 each, which are to be erected on the Island Beach, East of Brigantine. Holcomb's old hotel is to be remodelled and improved in order to make it first class in every respect.

Through Pennsylvania.

When any of the following are not post office towns they will be so designated.

—At Mount Joy, Lancaster Co., a new cigar factory will be erected.

—At Berwyn, Chester Co., Alec. Montgomery will erect three dwellings.

—At Scranton, Lackawanna Co., the Meadow Brook Water Company will enlarge its reservoir.

—At Ardmore, Montgomery Co., Mrs. C. V. Collyer, will erect a dwelling on Wyoming avenue.

—At West Chester, Chester Co., James Carreda will erect a brick stable. Williams & Burns are the contractors.

—At Uniontown, Fayette Co., extensive improvements will be made by the Columbia Iron and Steel Company.

—At Wyoming, Luzerne Co., George Yates, has broken ground for a new dwelling, to be erected on Eighth street.

—At Leechburg, Armstrong Co., it is reported a new Steel Works will be erected. Joseph G. Beale can give information.

—At Kutztown, Berks Co., the addition to the Normal school, which will be begun in the spring, will require half a million bricks.

—At Wilkinsburg, Allegheny Co., a building lot has been purchased by Dr. Norcross, of the Pittsburg Female College, for $2,500.

—At Washington, Washington Co., a new Bank, under the title of the Farmers' and Mechanics' National Bank, will be organized Nov. 26th.

—At Scottdale, Westmoreland Co., the congregation of the Episcopal Church has purchased eight lots, upon which a new church edifice will be erected.

—At Ridley Park, Delaware Co., The Ridley Park Athletic Association, will erect a handsome Club house, two stories in height, 48 x 72 feet and cost about $10,000.

—At Ambler, Montgomery Co., The Ambler Improvement Co., has awarded the contract for seven new dwellings and one store, to be erected near the Chemical works.

—At Norristown, Montgomery Co., it is reported that the congregation of the Episcopal Church has purchased 120 feet of ground near Marshall street, on which a chapel will be erected.

—At Moore's, Delaware Co., J. L. Galloway contemplates using about five acres of the Trainer farm for an artificial lake. He will also run a road from that place to meet Ridley avenue or Dupont street.

—At Delta, York Co., the National Bank of Delta, with a capital of $50,000, will begin business on January 1, 1890. The President is C. R. McConkey and the Cashier Lewis K. Stubbs. A new bank building will be erected in the spring.

—At Titusville, Crawford Co., the Titusville Iron Company have decided to increase the capital to $100,000. Extensive improvements will be made in the spring, including the erection of a new machine department and an addition to the boiler department. Much new machinery will be put in.

—At Chartiers, Allegheny Co., it is reported and generally believed that a large rolling mill to cost $300,000 will be erected near the town by W. J. Hammond & Co., of Pittsburg, whose plant was destroyed by fire about a year ago. Negotiations are known to be pending for a tract containing about fifteen acres.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny Co., the store-room adjoining the First National Bank will be remodeled in the spring and used by the Bank. A hall will be erected by the Turner Society.

—At Bellevernon, Fayette Co., the Clark farm, on the Monongahela river, about a mile above Bellevernon, and containing about fifty acres, has been purchased by W. C. Schmetz, of Pittsburg, representing a syndicate of Pittsburg gentlemen. It is said that a tank window-glass plant will be erected on the site.

—At Jeannette, Westmoreland Co., the North Jeannette Improvement Co. has about concluded negotiations for the sale of twenty acres in what is known as the Peerce plan, a tract but a short distance from Jeannette proper. The purchasers purpose erecting a steel making and finishing plant, and the works when in operation will employ about 700 men.

—At Lock Haven, Clinton Co., a special committee has been appointed, consisting of Messrs. C. S. McCormick, Esq., H. C. Evans and L. Haberstroh, to act with the manufacturing committee in making arrangements for a new enterprise about to locate at Lock Haven. A large building will have to be erected and large number of hands will be employed throughout the year.

—At Reading, Berks Co., a lot 30 x 110 feet, at the corner of Front and Exeter streets, has been purchased by C. K. Rothenberger, who it is said, contemplates the erection of a handsome Summer hotel. John H. Rhoads, Real Estate Agent, 24 North Fifth street, has sold 46 lots to Stevens & Co., elegant private residences will be erected on the site. Edward S. Kremp, has bought three acres of ground for a private park.

—At Easton, Northampton Co., an effort is being made to establish a hospital. A meeting was held a few days since, at which it was decided to hold a grand bazaar in the spring to raise funds for the erection of the necessary buildings. Committees will be appointed in all the churches of Easton, South Easton and Phillipsburg to solicit money for the building fund. The State will also be appealed to for a contribution. The last meeting was presided over by Mrs. Frank Reeder.

—At Allegheny, Allegheny Co., at the last meeting of Council Council, an ordinance was passed to purchase a lot for the erection of an electric-light plant. The lot is on Braddock street and cost $15,000. At a special meeting of Council a sub-committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. Speer, Lowe and Hendricks, for the purpose of securing a corps of engineers to make surveys and plans for extending a main line to Nine Mile Island and Logan's eddy for a supply of pure water; also for the erection of a reservoir and filter plant.

—At Allegheny, Mrs. Margaret Lowry, will have a two-story and attic brick dwelling erected, from plans prepared by Messrs. McBride & Gray, of McCintock, building, Pittsburg, Pa. Mrs. S. P. Kennedy, will erect a two-story, twelve room residence, of white marble, trimmed with chocolate colored granite. It will be finished throughout in hard wood and will have every convenience. It will be heated by steam, the cost will be about $15,000; contract for the stone has been awarded. Thomas Boyd, of the Eisner & Phillips building, Pittsburg, is the architect.

—At Pittsburg, Edward House, Jr., will erect four brick dwellings on Boquet street, from plans prepared by architect J. W. Offerman, Verner building. A permit has been granted for the erection of the Westinghouse Electric Company's six-story brick factory, to cost $200,000; also to the Shady Avenue Presbyterian Church, to cost $12,000, before reported. WANAMAKER'S

Of course there are styles of head-wear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

A REAL ESTATE CO.

A Corporation that is Broker and Lawyer in One.

The Real Estate Investment Company's Successful Career.

Among all the companies and corporations this is unique. There is no other organization like it in the country.

The charter, a most elastic and comprehensive one, covering the greatest diversity of business transactions, was granted prior to the adoption of the Constitution of 1874, which imposed restrictions that have made the granting of such extensive privileges to a single company an impossibility. No such concession has been granted by any charter since this one was granted, and in the scope of its provisions it stands entirely alone.

The charter provides that the company, among other franchises, "shall have the right and privilege to lease, hold, buy, sell and exchange all description of property, real and personal." It has, therefore, under this the right to buy, hold, sell and exchange any commodity or property. The charter, in addition, provides that "it may make loans upon the same," and also "erect buildings and hold, sell, lease or exchange them." It was the extensive privileges conveyed in this section of the charter that led the present owners to organize it and direct the operations of the company in its present channels. The company is fashioned somewhat after an English one in London which devotes itself to real estate improvements and investments. Its scope is such that it transacts the Philadelphia business of a large law firm in New York and at the same time takes charge of the promotion of large and small real estate operations and financial enterprises.

It does not execute trusts, or act as guardian, or insure titles, or go security for officials or others engaged in a financial capacity. In no way does it enter the field against any of the numerous corporations chartered for any of these purposes. It moves in a distinct orbit and has no rival. Some one has well described it as a corporation, real estate agent and broker and lawyer.

Besides its real estate operations it conducts a general law business, and such is the scope of its privileges that it is empowered to buy, hold and sell property of every kind, from the smallest quantity of the simplest commodity to a railroad.

These of course are extensive and extraordinary privileges, which under discreet direction and proper management should in this progressive age, with all its tendencies toward co-operation and multiplicity in interests, secure a large return to the stockholders.

In the purchase and sale of real estate the company has been particularly successful. In operations where the principal desires to remain hidden the company has facilities that are of the greatest advantage. Buying up large tracts and sections of the city, tearing down old and erecting new buildings and making such extensive improvements can easily be done by the company by means of syndicates or through individual enterprise. The company has already carried some projects of that character in which some important improvements have been accomplished and the necessary property secured without the prime movers being brought forward, which might have interfered with the project or at least have resulted in causing a fictitious value to be placed upon the properties desired. The company never recommends any investment in any locality that has not been thoroughly examined and considered. The officers do not intend that there shall ever be a foreclosure of any mortgage taken by their advice.

Undoubtedly the success that has attended the company is in a great measure, if not wholly, the result of the men who are managing it. They are almost without exception gentlemen long familiar with and thoroughly posted about real estate or else skilled in law and finance.

THE PRESIDENT.

Mr. John J. Ridgway, the president, is so well known as to almost make any reference unnecessary. He was admitted to the bar in 1864 and practiced as an attorney for several years. He was a member of Councils from the Eighth ward from 1884 to 1886, in which year he took charge of the real estate department of the Sheriff's office. In 1887, on the death of Sheriff Rowan, the Governor appointed him Sheriff for the remainder of the term. Mr. Ridgway's administration of the office was such, that almost the entire bar, Democratic and Republican, asked for his nomination by the Republican party in a card published in all the newspapers and commenting upon the excellent and intelligent management of the office under his administration. William R. Leeds was, however, nominated and defeated by his Democratic opponent, the present incumbent, Sheriff Krumbhaar. Mr. Ridgway is one of the best posted men in Philadelphia on real estate. All his family had an inclination that way, and the late Jacob Ridgway left large landed possessions in this county. His experience and ability, as well as his very large acquaintance, give him valuable qualifications as the president of such a company.

The announcement recently of the appointment of Mr. Ridgway, as Surveyor of the Port was a complete surprise to himself. He had made no move or effort to secure the position and it came to him voluntarily and in the most complimentary way. Aside from his popularity, his valuable judgment and familiarity with valuations of every sort peculiarly qualify him for the position.

EXPERIENCED MANAGERS.

Mr. J. Parker Norris, the secretary and treasurer, is the son of Isaac Norris and grandson of Joseph Parker Norris, almost the largest real estate owner in Philadelphia. The Sepviva and Faithfull estates, owned by him and descended to the family, almost take up the Nineteenth and Twenty-fifth wards and are extensively built over. There are over forty miles of streets in these estates. Mr. Norris' father has managed these estates for the last forty years, and J. Parker Norris has been his counsel. His acquaintance with real estate transactions is very extensive.

Mr. Edwin L. Mintzer, Jr., in particular charge of the real estate department, is a well-known real estate agent and broker of this city, and this has been his business for many years.

Mr. Robert Alexander, the solicitor of the company, has been first assistant to City Solicitor Warwick for six years. He is a very prominent lawyer and is talked of for the next vacancy in the Common Pleas Court of this county. His official position has given him much knowledge of real estate and municipal matters.

THE DIRECTORS.

The directors present an array of well-known names. Mr. Francis H. Thole and Mr. Henry R. Hatfield are two promising young lawyers. Mr. Thole is conducting several building operations in connection with his practice, the last of which, at Angora Station, in this county, is very successful. Mr. William M. Singler, the proprietor of the Record, is well known for his extensive building operations in the northwestern part of the city. Mr. Allen B. Rorke is perhaps the most prominent builder in Philadelphia and has erected some of the structures that are the pride and ornament of the city. Mr. Benjamin A. Van Schaick is an extensive and prosperous merchant who represents the Lorillard's in Philadelphia. Mr. William B. Gill is the superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company for the district from New York to Washington and Harrisburg and the Atlantic Ocean. His association with the leading building societies of this city is well known and his investments are confined almost entirely to real estate.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZATION.

It was while the old chartered concern was pursuing a languid career, flickering now and then into activity, that in 1887, when it was nearly extinguished, the present management took hold. Seeing the great advantage of such a charter the present management purchased the stock and changing to the present title gave it a vigorous and successful existence.

The capital stock was made $250,000 and when that was paid in the stockholders were so pleased that in July of the present year they resolved to double their subscriptions and the capital is now $500,000.

This money is invested in the modest but tasty building of the company opposite the Philadelphia Saving Fund and in other real estate and securities and has been so well managed that the stockholders received 5 per cent. dividend the first year and 6 per cent. the second—an unprecedented proceeding so far as known in a new company and due wholly to the very economical management from the start, including its modest quarters.

Acting in the capacity of real estate agent and broker the company offers as security for the transaction of the multimillion business of its patrons, its paid-up capital in addition to the well-known integrity and ability of its officers.

In its two years of large activity it has given a great deal of attention to the collection of rents and last year had a rent roll of over $80,000.

It is the custom of most real estate agents and brokers to make quarterly settlements with owners for rents collected—in some cases at longer intervals. The Real Estate Investment Company makes monthly settlements with its clients. By this arrangement all items of expense are fresh in mind and can be questioned if there is any dispute. Besides it gives the owner the benefit of the money instead of the agent. Bills for repairs and all the other annoying incidents attending long settlements by this method do not require the same scrutiny and business can be conducted much more satisfactorily. Prompt monthly set-

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. NOV. 27, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

Too few people understand the value of a kitchen boiler as a filtering apparatus. Boiling is a great purifier of water, as well as a microbe killer. Heavy impurities, such as lime, clay and other inorganic substances held in solution are precipitated by boiling. Microbes and disease germs have their constitutions very much shattered after going through a kitchen boiler, and are rendered incapable of harm. Hereafter take our advice and draw your drinking water from the hot water spigot in the bath-room. If on the third floor so much the better, the higher up the purer the water. If too warm let it cool, or use ice. Keep your boiler clean, money spent with a plumber for cleaning it, is well spent.

PUBLIC sentiment demands the removal of the present, costly railroad embargo upon the commerce of Philadelphia. The Belt Line road, if built, will open the way for the coming of more railroads bringing passengers, freight, money and influence and no end of benefits to residents and property owners. If not built it will be through Councilmanic opposition engendered through threats and favors, the odium for which the Pennsylvania Railroad Company must father. Yet the question will not down, it is too thoroughly engrafted into the minds of a patient and long suffering community that has fully awakened to a realization of the wonderful power this single corporation possesses, and which for some mysterious reason it exercises to the detriment of the entire State. The Belt Line failing, steps should be taken to organize a Peoples' Company to build a road from this city to Pittsburg, the stock to be sold at no more than five dollars per share; it would be an easy matter in this way to raise sufficient capital for the construction and equipment of such a road.

Miscellaneous.

At Akron, Summit Co., Ohio, O'Neil & Day will erect a business block to cost $250,000.

At Canton, Stark Co., Ohio, the John Danner Manufacturing Company will erect a large factory next spring.

At Middleton, Butler Co., Ohio, a new Methodist Church will be erected at a cost of about $30,000.

At Findley, Hancock Co., Ohio, Jacob Gassman will erect a business block of brick, with stone trimmings, to cost $10,000. Plans not yet arranged for.

At Jacksonville, Fla., a lot valued at $10,000, has been donated by the I. O. O. F., on which to erect a Home for members of that order, who seek that climate for their health.

At New York City, plans and specifications have recently been completed for a suspension bridge 7000 feet long, with a river span of 2850 feet and two shore spans of over 2000 feet each. The height to be 140 feet above the river, and the estimated cost is $40,000,000.

Lot-Buyers.

Architects and others had better correspond with the following lot buyers, as many of them contemplate building.

Henry K. Fox of Daniel Fox & Sons, Bullitt Building, has purchased a large part of the block of ground bounded by Swanson, Prime street and Washington avenue, in the Second ward, as a matter of investment.

Wm. P. Thomas, of West Chester, Pa., lot at Newtown, Pa., $233.

Wm. W. Scott, of Chester, Pa., lot on Second street, at same place, $1,500.

Harry H. Black, Darby, Pa. lot on Oak Lane, at same place, $300.

John H. Twaddell, of Birmingham, Pa., lot on Fourth street, Darby, Pa., $1,200.

Hannah A. Taney, of Ridley Park, Pa., lot on Springfield road, at same place, $1,700.

William P. Sibley, of Philadelphia, Pa., lot on Andrew's avenue, at Darby, Pa.

Mills to be Built.

At Collinsville, De Kalb Co., Ala., W. H. Denson, has organized a company to erect an iron furnace and rolling mill.

At Bessemer, Jefferson Co., Ala., the Bessemer Land Company can give information as to a rolling mill to be erected.

At Powderly, Jefferson Co., Ala., E. Lesser can give information as to an iron furnace and rolling mill to be erected.

At Gadsden, Etowah Co., Ala., the Etowah County Farmers' Alliance, will erect an oil mill.

At Danville, Boyle Co., Ky., Funk & Anderson, will erect a seventy-five-barrel capacity flour mill.

At Pineville, Bell Co., Ky., a roller flour mill will be erected. S. D. Parrish will give information.

At Rosedale, Belirer Co., Miss., Chas. Scott can give information as to the erection of a cotton mill.

At Watertown, Wilson Co., Tenn., it is reported Messrs. Bryan, Wood & Hale, will erect a flour mill.

At Pulaski, Giles Co., Tenn., T. Abernathy, and others, will erect a saw and grist mill.

At South Pittsburg, Marion Co., Tenn., a $300,000 stock company will erect a rolling mill.

At Millview, Escambia Co., Fla., W. S. Wittich, will erect a saw mill with 25,000 feet capacity.

At Pocahontas, Randolph Co., Ark., J. Schoonover, will rebuild his grist mill and cotton gin, recently destroyed by fire.

At Judsonia, White Co., Ark., the Wheelers, of White Co., have incorporated a company, with a capital of $25,000, and will erect a mill.

At Jacksonville, Duval Co., Fla., a stock company has been organized to erect a cypress shingle mill. Capital, $50,000.

At Tallahassee, Leon Co., Fla., a sash, door and blind factory will be erected by C. L. Barry, of Mansfield, Ohio.

At Bostwick, Putnam Co., Fla., Messrs. Webster & Davis, will rebuild their shingle mill recently destroyed by fire.

At Decatur, Morgan Co., Ala., W. W. Hedges, president of the Exchange Bank, can give information as to the erection of a roller flour mill.

At Princeton, Caldwell Co., Ky., it is reported that a woolen mill will be erected. The Secretary of the Board of Trade can give information.

At Friar's Point, Coahoma Co., Miss., a stock company has been organized to erect a cotton-seed oil mill. A. B. Rozell, can give information.

At Greensboro, Guilford Co., N. C., a $100,000 stock company has been organized, and will erect a mill. H. W. Cobb can give information.

At Fort Worth, Tarrant Co., Texas, the Fort Worth Manufacturing Company has been organized with a capital of $100,000, and will erect a cotton mill. Robert McCart is president.

DEPOSIT ACCOUNTS.

For the convenience of the business neighborhood in which it is situated, and especially to accommodate the lawyers who fill the adjacent offices, the company has opened a deposit account, where money is received and checks paid from 9 o'clock A. M. until 4 o'clock in the afternoon daily. This gives persons two hours longer for banking than usual, and it is surprising how convenient this extra hour in the afternoon appears to be to depositors, who would otherwise be annoyed by the impossibility of cashing checks after the regulation hour.

Without any special effort this banking account has grown to over $150,000, and if it continues at the same rate in the future as it has already, will become a distinct feature of the business of the company.

Facts such as these show that the Real Estate Investment Company is an organization of the greatest usefulness and value, giving convenience and a sense of security in the transaction of real estate business and operating directly, as well as indirectly, to facilitate and develop not only business in general, but that basis of real estate prosperity upon which so many other interests rest.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The quarters of Company F, First Regiment, are to be refurbished.

W. S. P. Shields has sold to J. M. Peters twenty-seven houses in West Philadelphia as a matter of investment, the consideration being $5400.

J. E. & A. L. Pennock, 305 Walnut street, have received the contract for the erection of W. G. Warden's apartment house at Eleventh and Pine streets.

Mr. Hamill on D street and Magistrate Thomas South will in the coming spring erect about 70 new houses at Wissanoming on the Pennsylvania Railroad, Twenty-third Ward.

The congregation of All Saints' Episcopal Church, Fitzwater and Twelfth streets, expect to erect a parish building in the spring. Rev. Herman L. Duhring is the rector.

H. Victor Gause, of the Metaithic Paving Co., Drexel Building, was thrown from his horse at Wilmington, Del., last week and somewhat severely injured.

The School Board at McKeesport, Pa., has just decided to use the Smead system of heating, ventilating and dry closets in the new school buildings to be erected next year.

The Sharpless Brothers will commence the re-building of their premises burned on the night of the 23d instant, as soon as their insurance matters are adjusted.

Mr. James Swope has purchased a fine piece of ground on Main street, Frankford, and will at an early day erect several fine dwellings and stores which he will fit with all modern conveniences.

H. B. Leskie, real estate, Thirteenth and Walnut streets, has just sold to A. & R. Quinn the property 106 S. Thirteenth street for $18,000. It will be remodeled for business purposes by the purchasers.

John Loughran has just commenced the building of 140 two and three story houses on lot bounded by Seventeenth, York and Cumberland streets, these will be of brick and fitted throughout with all modern conveniences.

John M. Kennedy, Jr., brick maker, Hart's Lane and Tioga street, has just purchased a large plot of ground on the Northwest corner of Hart's Lane and Boudinot street. This ground will be cut up for building purposes by the purchaser. $36,000 is the consideration paid.

It is positively denied at the Baldwin Locomotive Works that they have an intention of removing any portion of their present works to another part of the State, or that they contemplate organizing another plant in any locality at present.

An attempt has been made by the tax-payers of Roxborough to have Councils appropriate enough money to place a fire and police patrol station in that locality, but the request was denied for the present, because the funds for that purpose had been exhausted in the station at Manayunk.

The Western M. E. Church, Twentieth and Walnut streets, have resolved to re-model their building early in the coming year, and are now considering their plans for so doing, they expect to expend about $40,000 in this work, as yet no contracts for either architect or contractor have been considered and are therefore open.

William E. Messick, builder, has purchased of William Durfor a lot of ground 120 by 400 feet, bounded by Jackson street, Snyder avenue and old Second street road, on which he will erect about one hundred new two-story houses of brick, brown stone trimmings and fitted with all modern conveniences. It is proposed to open a new street through this ground.

The Board of Managers of the Women's Hospital, Twenty second and College avenue, has just concluded the purchase of Nos. 2122-24-26 Henrietta street, in the rear of the present College buildings and propose to adapt the space thus acquired for hospital purposes by re-building them. Information in detail will be given by the managers of the institution as to time of commencing operations.

Thomas H. Parks, builder, Eighteenth and Diamond streets, will erect about 150 new houses on property he has acquired on Graiz, 18th and 21st streets, which will be two and three stories high, brick and fitted throughout with the best of materials, they will have electric appliances and most improved sanitary plumbing, together with fine pavements and streets, they will range in value from $2500 to $8000.

Mr. John J. Cassidy, builder, has made a purchase of ground in the lower part of the city extending from Second to Fourth streets, and from Snyder avenue to McKean street, of the William Brooks estate, and of the William Paul estate, Front to Second streets, McKean to Snyder avenue, on which he will erect about 100 fine two story houses, fitted with every convenience, consisting of bath, gas, electric bells and lighters, fine artificial stone pavements and streets.

The Overbrook Land Improvement Company on the P. R. JOHN J. CASSIDY.

Any one who takes time to look a little below the mere surface of events must often be struck by the similarity of the means by which a great city grows. The mere picker up of floating opinions and ideas too often supposes that the progress of a city is commensurate to the liberality of the municipal government, or the philanthropy of a few wealthy individuals, who rear massive institutions to perpetuate their names, and ostensibly to benefit mankind, but which, in many cases, never reach or leave the great mass of the people whose condition gives to a locality its dominant characteristics. While both of the above are potent factors in the prosperity of any city, it is a well-known fact that a city which contains a large proportion of house owners seldom or never experiences those paralyzing upheavals known as strikes. The reason is so obvious as scarcely to need explanation. The home owner has too much at stake, and consequently is not influenced by the same flimsy sophistries that sway men who have nothing to lose, but perhaps something to gain by the upsetting and unsettling of business and trade. Viewed in this light, a city is certainly under great obligations to that class of solid, clear-headed business men who have grasped this idea with characteristic energy, and, without further ado, have gone quietly to work and reared this impregnable bulwark of happy homes against which the restless tide of disaffection and anarchistic ideas beat in vain. Of this body of men, no one has done more for the advancement of a certain section of Philadelphia than the subject of this sketch, JOHN J. CASSIDY. Mr. CASSIDY is a Philadelphian, and was born in the southern part of the city on December 19, 1862, and is, consequently, our youngest builder. His education was obtained in the public schools, and after being graduated from the Mount Vernon Grammar School, he entered the employ of the Hagner Mill Company for the purpose of receiving a thorough mercantile training. After four years of steady apprenticeship with this firm, during which he acquired a knowledge of business methods, which proved invaluable to him in after years, he left this firm and began business for himself. The locality chosen by Mr. CASSIDY at the beginning of his career as an operator in real estate was not one to strike the ordinary observer as calculated to insure success in the undertaking, being in the First ward, and known as Southwark. Southwark, as every Philadelphian knows, was settled by the Swedes, and occupies a strip of ground along the river, beginning below South street, and running down to the neck. Here some centuries ago, lived the ancestors of some of the best families, but the tide of trade and fashion setting in another direction, Southwark rapidly deteriorated, and for the past forty years it has presented a sight little calculated to appeal to the capitalist with money to invest in improvements. To Mr. CASSIDY, however, this piece of unattractive ground presented great capabilities for improvement, and an opportunity to bring success out of predicted defeat. In 1882 he began his first building operation in the First ward, this transaction involved the erection of five dwellings valued at $7,500, and the venture proved successful in every particular. From this time until 1887 his operations were confined to the buying and selling of real estate, the business gradually increasing as his strictly business methods became generally known. He began the season of 1887 with the sale of three houses, and at the close of the season of '87 and

'88 had sold one hundred and fifty dwellings, valued at over a quarter of a million dollars. This was an increase of which he had every reason to be satisfied and led to the formation of plans based on a larger scale, and which have since been more than fulfilled. Early in the year 1889, recognizing the opportunity in the neighborhood for the erection of a better class of dwellings and the consequent improvement in the value of real estate in that locality, Mr. CASSIDY purchased the tract of ground fronting on McKean street, between Fourth and Fifth streets, and both sides of Fourth and Fifth streets, from Dudley to McKean street. On this tract of ground Mr. CASSIDY erected fifty-seven dwellings valued at $132,000. This operation was followed by the purchase of additional ground on the west side of Moyamensing avenue, from Mifflin to McKean street, on which he erected twenty-one excellently finished modern dwellings valued at $63,000. All these operations proving eminently successful, Mr. CASSIDY's determination to further increase the extent of his operations was strengthened, and the same year (1889) more ground was purchased. This tract—which was bought of George A. Twibill—comprised the block bounded by Eleventh and Twelfth, Moore and Mifflin streets, and in a short time was ready for improvements, which consisted of the erection of sixty, two and three-story dwellings, fitted with every convenience for comfort and safety, and valued at $96,000. Such was the popularity of these properties that they were disposed of to single buyers and investors on and in some cases before completion, and Mr. CASSIDY at once decided to seek more ground on which to build yet more extensively. At this time the estate of William Paul and the Flanagan estate were thrown upon the market, and Mr. CASSIDY at once seized the opportunity to buy them, as a basis for another improvement. This tract is bounded by Front, East Second, Mifflin and McKean streets. On this property one hundred and twenty dwellings were erected during the present season at a cost of $210,000. This operation was followed by the purchase of twelve lots on the west side of Twelfth street, south of Moore street, on which twelve dwellings, valued at $24,000, were erected. This excellent showing at the close of the present season, involving the erection and sale of between four and five hundred dwellings, with an aggregate value of over three-quarters of a million dollars, was one calculated to lead to further operations of a like nature, based on broader and more extended lines. With this in view, Mr. CASSIDY has just completed negotiations and obtained possession of one of his largest purchases of ground for building purposes. This tract is also in the First ward, and embraces a territory of sufficient size to accommodate the erection of at least four hundred dwellings. It includes part of two estates, known as the William Brooks and William Paul estates. The first extending from Second to Fourth street, and from McKean street to Snyder avenue, the second tract, from Front to East Second street, and from McKean street to Snyder avenue. The erection of the four hundred dwellings on this tract will involve an outlay of $650,000, and will be probably the most extensive operation undertaken next year, and together with those previously mentioned, will make a grand total of eight hundred houses, valued at nearly $1,500,000. Mr. CASSIDY has a natural liking for building and real estate matters, which, added to

The friends of Mr. Nelson F. Evans, will be pleased to learn of his re-election as President of the Spring Garden Fire Insurance Company, of this city, among the other changes is the election of Mr. Geo. B. Armitage, as secretary, and Mr. Samuel B. Huey, as solicitor.

♦♦♦

The view of the South front of the new Public Building is greatly impaired, in fact from Chestnut street but a small section can be seen at all. On the Southeast corner of Broad street and South Penn Square, Mr. John F. Betz contemplates the erection of a ten-story office building. This building, if erected, will further shut off the view of the Public Building. Before it is too late, the Southeast as well as the Southwest corner of Broad and Penn Square, should be purchased by the city and the approaches to the Public Building widened. This idea will be carried out sooner or later, and it could be done now at twenty-five per cent. of what the cost will be five years hence.

THE Fire Insurance Companies should get down to solid facts, as to the condition of every house great and small, in the whole city. In every case where occupants and owners refuse to make such changes as will enhance the safety of the building against fire, the insurance policy, if there is one, should be cancelled at once. We cannot afford to take unnecessary risks just now, for big fires seem to have become epidemic, carelessness as to electric wires and heaters often precipitate ruin upon the innocent. The man who will not personally interest himself, in order that the safety of his property may be increased, justly deserves to lose whatever indemnity his policy may represent. Heroic measures just now may prevent a serious conflagration in the near future.

It is a pity that American inventive genius cannot find a way to construct a kitchen boiler, with a sort of blow-out or cleaning hole at the bottom in order that it might be cleaned as easily as the present steam boiler connected with steam engines. The kitchen boiler is bound to become, sooner or later, an important factor in our water question. It is conceded by our best medical men, that boiling presents a solution of the drinking water problem. If this is so, it is easy to be seen that radical changes must be made in the construction of kitchen boilers in order that practical use, for purifying purposes, may be made of them. It would require no great expense to connect a small steam condenser with each boiler, with a receptacle to catch the condensed vapor, which, after cooling, would become delicious drinking water, as pure, perhaps, as it is possible to make it.

It is a serious mistake that some provision has not been made for those of our firemen who become injured in the line of duty. The most of the men engaged in this business, owing to their small pay, and although living in an humble way, are unable to save, from their earnings a sum of sufficient importance to assure even for themselves—leaving their families out of the question altogether—bread and butter for any considerable time, if through injury and consequent inefficiency they should be compelled to leave the department. This is not right. A fireman's duty is a risky one. Their chances of death and injury are much greater than those of policemen, in fact they must represent the maximum, and it must be disheartening as well as discouraging to these men to realize that, with broken limbs and honorable burns, they can now be turned off, without even the consideration a kind man would give a dog.

There is no way to recall the life of poor McCuen, but the poor bairns he left behind should be made the honorable wards of the city, for their father was as much a hero as any who fell upon the field of battle.

FIRE insurance, through competition, has become too cheap. Its cheapness in fact has decreased care and vigilance on the part of both owners and tenants. A policy for a round sum equal to the cost of the building, and another more than equal to the cost of its contents, give such an assurance of safety to both holders, that rigid examinations are now relegated to irresponsible employees, with absolute indifference as to whether even they look after the safety of the premises. The fact is, there are too many fires, and too many large fires. Much has been done by the inventor to furnish fire preventive materials, but for the sake of cheapness not one builder in ten is allowed to use them. Concerted action on the part of fire insurance companies, instead of the present throat-cutting competition, with the view of enforcing premium penalties where fire preventive materials are not used, would very soon make its influence felt among owners. So much can be accomplished in the way of rendering a building fire proof at a trifling cost over the old way that it seems strange that more attention is not given to the subject, particularly by those who erect large buildings for investment. We personally witnessed a short time ago the wonderful fire preventive qualities of such a simple thing as woven wire lathing. For hours we gazed upon a small brick structure, filled with light wood and shavings, making an intensely hot fire constantly fed by the attendants, solely for the purpose of demonstrating the scientific principles of a Davy lamp as applied to the lathing of a building compared with the old style wooden lath. In this case at least the entire contents of the building were consumed, while the wood-work covered with the woven wire was found after personal inspection to be not even scorched, while at the same time the adjoining building lathed with wooden lath, succumbed to the flames in about five minutes. We refer to this incident solely with the view of expressing our own views upon a subject that has become so serious as even to threaten the future existence of some of the weaker companies; at the best it is a serious question, with all of them, in fact, a serious question with every large community. The loss of ten or fifteen millions of dollars, even if the loss is well distributed over the whole country, is demoralizing to business, and if it is possible for two such fires to occur during a single month in two cities miles apart, why is it not possible for a dozen of them to occur in a single minute in a dozen different cities? Such a catastrophe would be more than demoralizing; it would mean paralysis to business, bankruptcy to more than half of our companies and ruin to thousands.

GENERAL M. C. MEIGS, of the U. S. Army, says that we shall be found by the census of 1890 to have 67,240,000 people in the United States. How does he know.

sound judgment, plenty of nerve, and a genius for getting through with an immense amount of work in a very short time, accounts in a great measure for the success that has crowned an undertaking which none but the most courageous would have dared to attempt.

Messrs. Merchant & Company have again put their friends under great obligations by presenting them with several beautiful cuts of the great Cantilever bridge over the Forth in Scotland. This wonderful structure, a monument to the mechanical science and skill of Sir John Fowler and Mr. Benjamin Baker, ranks in point of human ingenuity with the pyramids and the Eiffel tower, and in architectural skill and beauty with St. Peter's, at Rome, and St. Paul's, at London. As the opportunity does not come to every one to see this structure, "the counterfeited presentment" sent out by Merchant & Company is the next best way by which one can gain some idea of what man has done to overcome obstacles when blocking the way to the development and progress of a nation.

The inventor of wood paving is a Russian.

After all, the new steel wire combination is to be organized. Farmers who use barbed wire for fencing will regard it as a steal trust.

Up to October 31st, 1889, there were 339 National Banks in the United States, with an aggregate capital of $620,174,365.

A system of building houses entirely of sheet iron has been communicated to the Society of Architecture in Paris. The walls, partitions, roofs and wainscoting, are composed of double metallic sheets, separated by an air mattress, which is surrounded by different non-conductors of heat.—New York Telegram

A new process of hardening plaster so as to make it available for the construction of floors in place of wood, has been brought before the French Academy of Science, by M. Jute, says an exchange. A mixture of six parts of plaster of good quality and one part of finely sifted, recently slaked white lime is employed like ordinary plaster. After it has become thoroughly dry, the object manufactured from it is saturated with a solution of any sulphate whatever, whose base is precipitated in an insoluble form by lime. The sulphates especially recommended for the purpose, are those of iron and zinc. In order to obtain the maximum of hardness and tenacity, it is necessary to temper the limed plaster well in as brief a space of time as possible, and with no more water than is strictly necessary.

The New South.

There is great activity in the organization of enterprises in the South. Florence, Ala., has led with investments by Philadelphia and New England capitalists, including a $500,000 cotton mill, a furnace to cost $200,000, to be built by Philadelphia parties, and to be known as the "Philadelphia furnace," and a $300,000 loan and banking company, while $1,000,000, in cash has been invested in the stock and land of two local improvement companies in Florence, by these northern capitalists. In Florida, a contract has been made for constructing a 300-mile canal to furnish a waterway nearly the entire length of the state.

At Bessemer, Ala., two new furnaces to cost $400,000, are to be built. At Briarfield, Ala., iron works are to be re-organized with $500,000 of bonds and $700,000 of preferred stock. At Rome, Ga., a $125,000 furnace is to be built. A steel plate mill is to be built in West Virginia and extensive fertilizer works, at Norfolk, Va.

An eloquent tribute to Terra Cotta.

Davis, in his "Bricks, Tiles and Terra Cotta" says: "I cannot pay a more eloquent tribute to terra-cotta than by making a free translation from a few sentences of the French of Jacquemart:

"In the grandeur of the expiring Roman Empire, when the people were wrapped in fine silk and purple, and when, to their sandals, they were covered with rich embroidery, pearls, and other precious stones, even when vessels of gold, jasper, sardonyx and onyx, had superseded the earthen pottery for ornaments of the temples, and with the powerful, and there was symmetry in every line of the commonest form employed in architecture, when golden-grounded mosaics illuminated the domes, and the rich columns were formed of many-colored spirals, and when magnificent veils of the most costly silk were spread before the altar, then the humble terra-cotta introduced itself among all this splendor.

"The bold cupolas, which the eye hesitates to measure under their dazzling images, which if constructed of stone would have sunk of their own weight; these cupolas owe their existence still, to excite our admiration, to the judicious employment of terra-cotta in hollow form. The ceramic art was drawn upon in a way not usually employed, and the ingenious masonry of these masterpieces of architecture was formed by kinds of truncated bottles, strung one into the other, and disposed in parallel curves.

"Other branches of pottery, excepting brick-making, had so entirely disappeared as to leave us no mark of their having been employed at all; but in the expiring civilization of the period, a grand and noble part is bequeathed to terra-cotta to perform in the often exacting portions of architecture, and help perpetuate the achievements of man to the far distant coming ages."—The Brickmaker.

At Macon, Georgia, the Mercer University will be enlarged by an addition to cost $20,000.

At Salem, Essex Co., Mass., a new church will be erected, for St. John's parish, to cost $90,000.

At Savannah, Georgia, the School Board has decided to erect a new school building to accommodate about 1200 pupils.

At Jamestown, Newport Co., R. I., a new school of house, to cost $10,000, will be erected in school district No. 1.

Postoria, Seneca Co., Ohio, the Butler Art Glass Works, recently destroyed by fire will be rebuilt.

At Savannah, Georgia, the School Board has decided to erect a new school building to accommodate about twelve hundred pupils.

At New Britain, Hartford, Conn., a Woman's Home is to be erected. William H. Hart, David N. Camp and John B. Talcott are the trustees.

At Richmond, Va., the City School Board has decided to demolish the building known as the Jeff. Davis mansion, and to erect a large school building on the site.

At Chicago, the National University will erect an annex to cost $50,000, to be used as a library, museum and lecture hall. S. A. Keen, Banker, 147 Throp street, Chicago, can give information.

At Waterbury, New Haven Co., Conn., H. W. Scoville, of the Scoville Manufacturing Company, of Waterbury, has given the Y. M. C. A., of that city, $10,000 for a site for the society's proposed building. The gift is made on condition that $50,000 is raised by January 1, 1891.

At East Liverpool, Ohio, the large pottery works of Knowles, Taylor & Knowles, recently destroyed by fire, entailing a loss of nearly $300,000, will be rebuilt at once. Work has already begun in removing the rubbish to make way for new buildings.

At Tazewell, C. H., Tazewell Co., Va., the Clinch Valley Coal and Iron Company contemplate the erection of a hotel to cost about 40,000, and also the erection of forty dwellings at Richmond, a new town which the company is building about twenty miles west of Tazewell Court House.

At Charlotte, Mecklenburg Co., N. C., the congregation of the Congregational Methodist Church will erect a church edifice. The Lutheran Synod has decided to spend $10,000 in additional buildings for the Concordia College, Catawba Co., and contemplate the erection of a female seminary at Charlotte.

At Memphis, Tenn., the congregation of the Second Presbyterian Church will erect a handsome church edifice, and Mr. J. M. Goodbar, who is chairman of the building committee, has been authorized to solicit competitive drawings for a church building to cost about $80,000. His address is 319 Main street, Memphis, Tenn.

At Louisville, Ky., J. L. Frazier is the architect for the Union depot to be erected by the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern Railroad Company. The cost will be about $500,000. The Louisville Safety Vault Company will erect a six-story building to cost $250,000, from plans prepared by Curtin & Campbell. There is talk of erecting an Insurance Exchange building, to cost about $300,000. The Board of Trade will erect an addition to its present building from plans prepared by McDonald Bros.

At Bridgeport Conn., the Building Committee of the Board of Education, has invited architects to compete in preparing plans for a new school house to be erected at the corner of Arctic and Noble streets. It is to be of brick, 250,000 feet, containing sixteen rooms, and to cost $75,000.

At Hartford, Conn., at a recent special meeting of the Corporation of Yale University, plans for a new gymnasium were submitted by Thos. C. Sloane, of New York, and were approved. The work of erecting the building will commence at once.

At Warwick, Orange Co., N. Y., articles of incorporation have been filed by the Montelac Park Company. The company is formed by James F. O'Shaughnessy and John C. Lloyd, of N. Y.; Neil Macdonald, George A. Evans, and Franklin Allen, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; George L. Hutching, of Englewood, N. J., and Chester Huntington, of Flushing, L. I. The purpose of the company is to lay out lots and villa plots in Warwick and other places, and the erection of buildings. The capital is $600,000. The main office will be in New York city.

At Boston, Mass., a new Episcopal church will be erected in the Back Bay district. Subscriptions amounting to $40,000 have been received, and the Church of the Messiah will contribute the proceeds of its real estate, assessed at $20,000. The location is at Falmouth and Gainsboro streets, on a site worth $30,000. The cost of the new building is not yet decided. At a meeting of the Common Council, Mr. Keenan offered an order for the appropriation of $65,000 for the purchase of land and the erection of a police station in Division No. 1.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

Mr. Morrell, near Torresdale, has purchased the farm of Mr. Thomas Mooney, at Cornwells, and will establish a school on the property.

As noted in our issue of November 6th, 1889, the Philadelphia Fencing and Sparring Club is considering the erection of a new and magnificent club house.

The City Trust Safe Deposit and Surety Company has bought the property now occupied by the Inquirer for $100,000. The site will be used for a future addition to the Company's present quarters.

Mr. Samuel Diston has purchased of the City Trust Company, the lot 1609 N. Broad street, for the sum of $9,000, on which it is understood he will erect a fire residence. The property originally belonged to Dr. J. M. Anders.

Archbishop Ryan has purchased a property on the South side of Pine street, east of Eighth street, which he will have remodeled into a home for bootblacks and newsboys.

W. L. Atkinson, contractor, 2132 Race street, will begin at once the erection of a large paper mill, at Twenty-fourth and Vine streets. It will be of brick, five stories high, fitted with the necessary machinery, elevators and electric work.

J. A. Wade, the ex-liquor dealer at Twelfth and Vine streets, has purchased the property at the Southwest corner of Ninth and Sansom streets, for $46,000. The present buildings will be demolished and a large hotel erected on the site. Work will begin at an early date.

At a recent meeting held by the committee having in charge the location of the John George school, it was decided to report on the final selection of a site in about two weeks. The committee has been requested to locate the school as near to the city as convenient, which sounds somewhat favorable to the selection of West Grove.

Huntingdon Water Company, limited, of Huntingdon, Pa., has given an order to the Gordon Steam Pump Company for a large duplex compound condensing engine, capable of drawing and supplying daily one million gallons water, drawing it through 1,000 feet of pipe and forcing it to an altitude of 235 feet.

Ground will be broken during this week for the new parochial school attached to Church of the Sacred Heart, Moyamensing avenue below Reed street. The new building will be located at the N. E. corner Reed and Moyamensing avenue, will be built of brick, trimmed with stone, three stories high.

A movement is on foot to form a syndicate to purchase the land bordering upon the cone of the horseshoe on the Delaware river below and adjoining Greenwich piers for the purpose of constructing a number of deep water docks similar to those in English tidal waters. It is said the agents at this port of the North Atlantic Steamship Company are largely interested in this movement.

Miss Kate Drexel, or now known as sister Katharine, has purchased sixty acres of ground at Andalusia, near Torresdale, on which it is stated a convent and school will be erected to educate and train a sisterhood for work among the Indian and colored races. Rev. Father Stephan of Washington, D. C., now in charge of the Indian Bureau of the Catholic Church in that city, will be the spiritual adviser and supervising manager of the new institution. Although Miss Drexel will not finish her novitiate for two years, work will probably begin on the new buildings in a short time.

Architects' Notes.

Constable & Rogers, architects, 902 Walnut street, have prepared plans for a large additional wing to the home of H. M. Warren, at Devon, Pa., size will be 40 x 50 feet, three stories high, will be of stone, slate roof, dumb waiter, electric work and gas fixtures, plate and stained glass windows, wood mantels, etc.

Charles W. Bolton, architect, 1510 Chestnut street, has completed plans for a Reformed church, of which Rev. Mr. Romberger, is pastor, at York, Pa., 57x152 feet in size, two stories high, built of brick, stone trimmings, slate roof, frescoed inside, electric work and gas fixtures, stained glass windows, steam heating, wood mantels, and have a pipe organ.

Rowe & Dagitt, architects, 122 south Second street, have completed plans for an Engine-house for the Philadelphia Fire Department, to be located at the corner of Seargent and Jasper streets, it will be three stories high, built of brick and terra-cotta trimmings, tin roof, fitted throughout with electric work, gas fixtures, galvanized iron work, iron beams, to have tower clock, cement floors, etc.

F. Miles Day architect, 238 south Third street, has completed plans and specifications for a house for Mr. W. P. Ellison, 1526 Walnut street, to be constructed of Long Meadow stone and Perth Amboy brick, four stories high, interior of hallway and grand staircase, to be hard-wood finish, wood mantels, heated by hot air and to have stained and plate glass windows and doors, all electrical appliances, best of sanitary plumbing. Much of the paint work, to be of China gloss.

In accordance with our notice in this Journal of the 20th inst., plans are being now prepared, by Mr. George Plowman, architect, 1017 Chestnut street, for alteration of the large market house at the corner of Kensington avenue and Cumberland street, opposite the Fifth and Sixth Streets Depot. The contract will be let under the supervision of Manager C. A. Bradenburgh, Ninth and Arch streets and the above named well-known theatrical architect. This contemplated change will not, in any way, we understand, interfere with the present places of business now occupying the ground floors. It is proposed to build a theatre that will seat about 3,000 people. Electric lights and all the latest improvements will be introduced.

The T. Square Club, of this city, has been unofficially informed by telegraph that its exhibit has taken the Hinkle gold medal at the Cincinnati Architectural Exhibition. This medal was the highest prize offered, and is awarded to the best exhibit of club work. That the T. Square Club has won it is all the more noteworthy, from the fact the exhibition just closed at Cincinnati was a thoroughly national one and the largest ever held in this country. In the number of drawings sent the T. Square Club, was, it appears, far surpassed by the Architectural Sketch Clubs of other large cities. The T. Square Club has been in existence for about eight years, and numbers many of the younger architects and the best draughtsmen of the city.

Otto C. Wolf, architect, N. E. cor. Broad and Arch streets, has prepared plans for a new office building for the E. A. Foth Brewing Company, 42x45 feet in size, and two stories high, to be of brick, stone trimmings, electric works, plate glass windows and doors, steam heating and wood mantels. It will be finished on the interior with oak finish, and furnished with all conveniences. Same has prepared plans for brewery and storehouses for Herman Straub & Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa., to be built of brick six stories high, tin roof, brown-stone and terra-cotta trimmings, iron construction. A. B. Rorke has secured the contract for the erection. Also plans for a cold storage and ice machine house for a brewery at Cincinnati, Ohio, 50x60 feet, three stories, to be of brick, slate roof, iron work for beams, columns and stairs; to have electric work, and best of plumbing. The same architect has just completed the plans for a brewery for August Koch & Bros., at Williamsport, Pa., 62x69 feet, to be of common and pressed brick, slate roof, with terra-cotta, electric work, plate glass, improved heating, plumbing, etc.

Through Maryland.

The Western Maryland College will erect an annex 104 feet long to the main building for recitation rooms and dormitories.

At Annapolis, Secretary Tracy has recommended the erection of a new built house and additional quarters for instructors; also the purchase of a new expansion engine. Commodore George Brown, of Norfolk Navy Yard, can give information.

L. O. Cameron, Zion, Cecil Co., reports the completion of considerable work, among which are two school houses, a church and a bridge, and is now beginning the construction of a bridge for the commissioners of Cecil County, and has finished designs and plans for the remodeling of the M. E. Church, at Cherry Hill, Cecil Co., Md.

At Baltimore, Wm. F. Weber, 39 Lexington street, has finished plans for sixteen dwellings, to be erected on Druid Hill avenue. The cost will be $40,000. Mrs. Sarah T. Shipley has the plans prepared for twelve two-story dwellings, to cost $16,000. Mr. James C. Dowling will erect ten two-story dwellings. Charles L. Carson, 52 Lexington street, has prepared plans for a residence for Mr. T. Hooper, to cost $30,000. The same architect has plans ready for a $40,000 residence. Hiltz & Kratz are the builders. A. A. Reinhart has plans for a dwelling for Matilda Forbes, to cost $25,000.

Washington, D. C.

The boundaries of the proposed Zoological Garden along Rock Creek have been settled, and the report is now ready for the approval of the President. The tract contains a little over one hundred and sixty-six acres, and the price will be about $1,000 per acre. As $200,000 is the appropriation, a sufficient surplus will remain for the erection of some of the contemplated buildings. Messrs. McLaughlin and Bachelder, in connection with Messrs. Waller & Repelli, have sold the Security Investment Company, lots No. 4, 5, 6, 14, 15, 16 and some others in square 1028 for $27,000. These lots have a fine frontage on Maryland avenue, Fourteenth and F streets, N. W. The Catholic Columbian suggests that the Archbishop's chair be moved from Baltimore to Washington, and a Cathedral be erected that should be a masterpiece of architecture, second only to Saint Peter's at Rome. John Chamberlain is preparing to erect a hotel at old Point Comfort, opposite the Hyegia. The cost will be about $450,000. About five hundred guests will be accommodated. Mrs. Mary Stanley Brown has purchased two lots, Nos. 16 and 17 block 20, in the Kalorama tract. M. M. Parker has also purchased two lots in the same tract. A Board of Trade has been organized and the following officers elected: M. M. Parker, President, S. W. Woodward, Vice President, Beriah Wilkins, Secretary, B. H. Warner, Treasurer, and A. T. Britton, Counselor. D. S. Sanderson has purchased the property on the east side of Twelfth street, North of Pennsylvania avenue, adjoining the Palais Royal for $55,250. A corps of engineers with headquarters at Luray, are making preliminary surveys for the new railroad from Luray to Washington. The Blue Ridge will probably be crossed at Beahm's Gap, seven miles from Luray. Architect Gannett & Co., 916 F street, N. W., have prepared plans for a two-story cottage at Arlington Heights, to cost $3,000. No contracts let. Fred G. Atkinson has prepared plans for three three-story dwellings, to cost $15,000. John G. Meyers, National Safe Deposit building, has prepared plans for a row of handsome dwellings to be erected on New Hampshire avenue. There will be eight in all. The material will be pressed brick, trimmed with Hummelstown brown and Serpentine green stone. Each house will contain a hand power elevator and new kind of fire proofing will be used. The roof will be red slate and tile mansards. The entire cost will be about $120,000. The same architect has plans for four four-story dwellings, to contain all modern improvements, to cost $25,000. N. T. Haller, 816 F street, N. W., has plans for five dwellings for L. A. Barr and F. T. Sanner, to cost $30,000. Harvey L. Page, 45 Corcoran building, has finished plans for a large apartment house at Richmond, Va., to cost $95,000. Mr. Louis Ginter, of the firm of Allen & Ginter, is the owner. Steam heat will be used. The District Commissioners in their report recommend appropriations for the following: $1,200 for one hundred horse-power boiler, with connections for steam heating; $1,500 for steam fittings, steam pipes and radiators. Woodward & Lothrop will improve the space in the rear of their present building by the erection of a five story addition, 20x50 feet. James G. Hill, 1424 N. Y. avenue, is making the plans. The First National Bank, of Stewartville, Mo., capital $50,000; the Dawson County National Bank, of Lexington, Ky., capital $50,000; the Second National Bank, of Elkton, Md., capital $50,000; the Citizens' National Bank, of Marietta, Ohio, capital $50,000, have been authorized to begin business.

Through New Jersey.

At Gloucester, Camden Co., it is reported that David M. Chambers, of Camden, has been offered two acres of ground, near the water works on which to erect a machine shop.

At Hampton, Warren Co., it is reported that the New Jersey Central Railroad Company will erect new shops and abandon the present ones at Elizabethport.

At Millville, Cumberland Co., the flint glass works of T. C. Wheaton & Co., which were destroyed by fire last week, will be rebuilt as soon as possible. The works consisted of six buildings, and employed about one hundred workmen.

At Newark, Amos H. Van Horn has purchased the ground on the north side of Campbell street, having a frontage of fifty feet, and will demolish the present building and erect a handsome five-story brick business building.

At Jersey City, Mr. Van Horn, representing the Central Railroad of New Jersey, has made a proposition to erect an elevated road from the ferry to Jersey City Heights. The estimated cost is $750,000.

At Pleasantville, Atlantic Co., Messrs. Frauk and Harry Kearn, will erect dwellings. Moore Bros., of Atlantic City, have the contract. John C. Risley, of Atlantic City, will erect a dwelling on Adams avenue.

At Bloomfield, Essex Co., a factory will be erected by the Consolidated Safety Pin Company, 33 Bleeker street, New York, from plans prepared by Schweitzer & Diemer, 84 West Broadway, New York. The cost will be about $20,000.

At Englewood, Bergen Co., the Sisters of Peace will erect a large three-story building 62 by 128 feet, to be used as a home for working girls during the summer. There will be a chapel, club rooms, dining room, offices, &c. The material has not yet been decided on. Thomas H. Poole, of New York City, is preparing plans.

At Moorestown, Burlington Co., a meeting has been held by the citizens, and a committee appointed to wait upon Superintendent Bannard to submit a proposition for the railroad to erect a new station at Mill street, or to enlarge and improve the present stations at East and West Moorestown. The committee is composed of Messrs. Joseph T. Sullivan, P. E. Daruell and Edward V. Perkins.

At Bayonne, Hudson Co., plans have been prepared by Architect A. F. Leicht for a two-story frame dwelling to cost $4,000. The same architect has also prepared plans for a residence, to cost $5,000, for Rebecca L. Van Buskirk; also plans for two dwellings, to cost $3,000 each, for Samuel C. Mount; also a dwelling, to cost about $6,000, for Mrs. M. A. Hamilton; also plans for a dwelling, for Joseph D. Hanson, to cost $3,500.

At Camden, steps are being taken to obtain a new water supply. The National Water Supply Company of Cincinnati has sent for maps of the country in order to submit plans. George Munger has taken out a permit to erect a large brick building, on Delaware avenue, next to Van Seiver's furniture store. It will be 40 by 144 feet, and five stories high. C. W. Sayers will erect the new school house, at Ninth and Linden streets, the dimensions will be fifty by sixty feet. August Kemler and M. E. Harden, will erect dwellings. It is reported that the Pennsylvania Railroad will erect about one hundred brick dwellings adjoining its shops at East Camden.

At Cape May, Cape May Co., the new Short Line Railroad, has asked permission to come into the city just east of the West Jersey railroad. The names of the directors of the new company are Morris Doney, Charles W. Potts, Edward R. Wood, John Deery, Geo. H. Becker, and William Gorman, of Philadelphia; Michael J. Kelly, Thomas E. Ludlam, George U. Urquhart, of Sea Isle City; Theophilus Weeks, Anthony Stillman, Tuckahoe; James McCray, Jas. M. E. Hill, Cape May City; Robert D. Cox, Mount Laurel; William R. Vangilder, Petersburg and Andrew Bourgeois, of Estelleville. The company has a capital stock of $500,000, divided into 18,000 shares of $50 each. It is said that the new railroad company have purchased the property owned by Mr. F. L. Fetherston, on Lafayette street, and the Delaware House property, and propose locating their depot on Washington street in the location now occupied by Halliwell's fruit store, E. Johnson's shoe store, the cigar store adjoining and McCray's grocery store, which buildings have been bought and will be removed soon. A prominent man who does not desire to mention his name says: "The Philadelphia Seashore Short Line Railroad will certainly be running trains to Cape May next season. The iron, ties and other materials have been contracted for, and the work will be commenced in a few days and pushed to completion as rapidly as possible."

—At McKeesport, Allegheny Co., Mr. Wise, of Pittsburgh, has purchased the Dravo property, on Fifth avenue, for $16,000. Mr. Wise will make alterations in the building.

—At Downingtown, Chester Co., negotiations are in progress for a lot on Lancaster avenue, on which to erect an engine-house for the Alert Fire Company. S. A. Bickings will enlarge his mill.

—S. C. Slaymaker has been appointed engineer in charge of the new railroad to be constructed between Lancaster and New Holland, Lancaster Co. Keller & Crossen are the contractors.

—At Oil City, Venango Co., a resolution instructing the ordinary committee to prepare an ordinance providing for the issue of $20,000 of bonds for the erection of a new city hall, was unanimously concurred in by city council.

—At Parkersburg, Chester Co., a bountiful supply of water will soon be assured from two artesian wells. Pumping engines of a large capacity will be placed in position as soon as the reservoir is finished.

—At West Chester, Chester Co., Judge Thomas S. Butler's future law offices in the Farmer's National Bank building, Market and High streets, will be remodeled from plans now being prepared by architect Williamson. Chamber's Bros. are making arrangements to erect a large green house.

—At Rutledge, Delaware Co., the congregation of the Calvary Presbyterian Church held a meeting last week to consider the purchase of a lot and the erection of a church building. Messrs. O. G. Withorn, of Linden avenue, and George W. Frazier, of President avenue, can give information.

—At Coatesville, Chester Co., Messrs. George & Company will make extensive improvements to their boiler works. E. H. Graves and C. N. Speakman have purchased lots on Chestnut street and will erect a double frame dwelling. Sotter, George & Company will erect an extension 48 by 42½ feet to their boiler works.

—At Wayne, Delaware Co., at a recent meeting held by the Wayne Title and Trust Company, a resolution was passed authorizing the President, Dallas Sanders, Esq., to purchase the lot at Wayne and Lancaster avenues as the site for a bank and safe deposit building, and also to invite architects to furnish sketches and plans for the same. A building committee was appointed, consisting of Messrs. James C. Pinkerton, 907 Chestnut street, Stuart Wood, 626 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, and Frank Smith, of Wayne.

—At Allegheny, at a recent meeting held by the United Hebrew Benevolent Societies, a communication was received from Mrs. J. M. Guskey, offering to purchase three acres of ground, and to erect a building to be used as an orphan's home. The conditions are that the societies shall sustain and support the institution, and that it be called the J. M. Guskey orphan asylum. The gift with ground and building will amount to nearly $50,000.

—The State Department at Harrisburg has issued a charter to the Wilkesbarre and Williamsport Railroad Company, cost $1,500,000. The road will be eighty miles long, from Wilkesbarre through Luzerne, Columbia and Lycoming counties to Williamsport. The Directors are: W. P. Ryman, President, J. R. Bedford, Ira E. Hartwell, F. C. Sturgis, H. A. Fuller, F. W. Wheaton, E. Troxell and A. S. Orr, of Wilkesbarre; George F. Nesbitt, of Kingston, and Gustave E. Kessel and Joseph W. Ogden, Morristown, New Jersey.

—At Erie, Erie Co., the plans for the new residence of Hon. W. L. Scott are being prepared by architect Joseph Frank, No. 30 Scott block, Erie, Pa. The cost is supposed to be about $150,000. The material will be brown stone, and the Romanesque style of architecture will be used. Every improvement and convenience known will be introduced, including electric-lights, elevators, etc. The mantels will be made to suit each room, and the fire-places will be very handsome. An elaborate system of steam heating and ventilation will be introduced. Mr. Scott is having a mausoleum erected at a cost of $40,000. The old Erie City Foundry property has been bought by C. H. Strong, and will be fitted up for an electric-light station.

—At Ambler, Montgomery Co., Dr. R. V. Mattison has received a letter from Mr. Du Barry, construction master of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, stating that the cut-off road to run from Morrisville to Downingtown, would not reach Ambler, but that the Company is considering the construction of a branch line to Ambler and vicinity, should the business of that locality warrant it. The extension or branch will probably be an extension of the Chestnut Hill branch to Ambler, with a probability that it will be built to a point North of Ambler, likely Downingtown, or possibly the Delaware river.

—At Pittsburg, there seems to be little doubt that the Pennsylvania Railroad will erect a new and handsome depot, perhaps on the spot where the Hotel Duquesne now stands. Black & Baird, real estate agents, 95 Fourth avenue, are supposed to be buying up property for the Company, the first purchase being made a few weeks ago of the Hagan property on Sixth avenue. It is said to be the intention of the Company to build an elevated track from the Company's yards, on Seventh avenue, to Spangler's corner, where the station will be located. When the Southeast corner of Sixth avenue is reached the route will be towards Smithfield street and across Virgin alley to the rear of the hotel Duquesne and Mellon's bank building, which will be the terminus of the road, and on this site a passenger station will be erected. Another plan is to purchase the old post office building and use it for a general ticket office and passenger department. Charles A. Wolf will erect a two-story and attic brick dwelling, 40 x 44 feet on Forbes street, to cost $9,700. T. C. Sauer, Sixth and Liberty streets, is the architect. The same architect has completed plans for a brick shop for Messrs. Morris & Haas, on Carson street, a frame dwelling for the Aspinwall Land Company, to be erected at Aspinwall station; also three frame dwellings for Joseph P. Urben to be erected on Shady avenue Allegheny. G. D. Simon will erect twelve new dwellings on Simon avenue in the boulevard plan. N. J. WANAMAKER'S

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

By SAM'L J. CRESWELL, Sr.

STIFFENED FIRE-PROOF WIRE LATHING

In use in over 300 buildings in the Principal Cities of the Country.

Recommended and used by the Leading Architects.

Pays for itself in decreased cost of insurance—will not "sag" under the heaviest coats of mortar—ensures a perfect ceiling, free from cracks. Its fire-resisting qualities have been demonstrated in three public tests—detailed accounts of which will be mailed to any address upon request.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. DEC. 11, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE merchants' and manufacturers' associations, of Baltimore, Norfolk and Richmond, have committees at work making efforts to induce the burned out manufacturers of Lynn and Boston to locate their new plants in those cities. The Philadelphia manufacturers' club may have taken some steps toward that end, but we have not heard of it.

We learn from an exchange that the directors of the Street and Sewer Department of Wilmington, Delaware, contemplate a journey to Philadelphia to inspect some of our streets and sewers. It is to be hoped that who ever has the visiting gentlemen in charge will see that they have an opportunity to view the Cocksink sewer as well as the one on Brown street, where a number of houses have to be propped up to keep them from falling in. These are only a few instances, and the paving is equally worthy of close inspection by any parties from a distance, who wish to know what not to do in the matter of street improvements.

Now, that Postmaster John Field has determined to make it somewhat pleasant for women who are obliged to visit the big building at Ninth and Chestnut streets, will he not continue the good work, so auspiciously begun, and devise some heroic measures by which the steps and pavement near the building can be kept passably clean, and free from the tobacco fiends who seem to take particular delight in soiling our public buildings? This condition of affairs at the Post Office, as well as at the Public Buildings, at Broad and Market streets, has long been an eyesore and source of discomfort to women having occasion to enter either building, and not to women only, but to that large class of men who have a healthy regard for the eternal fitness of things.

THE death of Jefferson Davis must be accepted by the nation as the removal of the last prominent feature of the Southern Confederacy. As a national event, it is of no importance whatever. The esteem with which Mr. Davis was held by the Southern people was natural, he was their ideal patriot, soldier and statesman. Now that he is dead the northerner can well afford to be generous, in at least refraining from expressions that can do no good, and which will only tend to prolong sectional hatred between those whose business interest are growing closer yearly. While we of the North may not be honestly able to recognize a single trait in the character of Mr. Davis as worthy of our commendation, yet, we must not forget that a large part of our countrymen will cherish his name with a veneration equalled only by that bestowed by the people of the North upon the revered name of Lincoln.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

A movement is on foot to enlarge the present edifice of the Lehigh avenue Baptist Church. Rev. Walter Calley is the pastor.

B. F. Glenn & Son, real estate brokers and conveyancers, have opened an office at room 208 Builder's Exchange, 24 S Seventh street.

The Knickerbocker Ice Company has purchased six fine lots at Westmoreland street and Delaware river, and will at an early day erect buildings thereon.

Saint George's Methodist Episcopal Church, Fourth and Vine streets. Rev. R. J. Corson, pastor, will enlarge the infant department of the Sunday school, so as to accommodate fifty per cent. more scholars.

Thomas P. Twihill, real estate dealer and operator, has just sold to John F. Kelly, Esq., of Philadelphia, three and-a-half acres of land at Weirwood Park for $3,900, on which Mr Kelly will at an early day erect a fine house.

The Luberg Manufacturing Company have just purchased an additional property to that acquired some time since from J. T. Jackson, real estate agent and broker. The new property is 39x150 feet, and will be used for their purposes in erection of their factory on this site.

The property known as the Weaver homestead at 1932 North Seventh street, has been sold by Alfred Fidler, conveyancer, 51 North Sixth street, to William Montgomery, who will demolish the present building and erect a handsome residence in the spring.

The Master Plumbers' Association of the City of Philadelphia, has issued a very convenient little hand book, containing its constitution, by-laws, list of members, etc., as well as a great deal of information of interest to the general public.

Colonel Joseph Bennett, the well known philanthropist who has already given $50,000 to the Methodist Episcopal Orphanage during the year 1889, has just contributed quite a fine piece of ground on which to erect additional small buildings for training purposes.

E. O. McHenry, E. S. Graham, Calvin Smythe and a number of prominent gentlemen of Germantown are about to renovate Harper's dam in order to utilize it as a skating rink. They have at present $250 in hand, but have determined upon a board walk and electric-lights as an addition, which will cause them to increase the fund somewhat.

John S. Serrill, builder, 1413 N. Broad street, has purchased from M. Rementer a large plot of ground at Twenty-eighth and Diamond streets, measuring 500 x 200 feet, on which he will erect 100 buildings, two and three stories high, brick, with stone trimmings, electric bells and best of sanitary plumbing.

Sharpless Bros. have leased the old stand of Young, Smythe, Field & Company, 812-14 Market street, and will, after the 1st of January, 1890, remove their wholesale department into this place, which they will fit up with electric appliances and elevators to suit themselves, and also make such other repairs and additions as they may find necessary.

Miss Eliza Levering will erect on Green lane below Wood, Manayunk, a fine residence, and has given Sylvester Yardley the contract for the erection. The new building will be of stone, rough cast, ornamented corner blocks, three stories high. It will be built in Queen Anne style, having a grand staircase rising from a central hallway. The interior will be finished in the most elegant style.

John Loughran, builder and operator, has just purchased a large piece of ground from Henry Shoch, at the N. E. corner Seventeenth and York streets; also York and Willington streets, and on Cumberland and Sixteenth streets, on which he will erect at an early day a large number of two and three-story houses. A number of small streets will be cut through and paved with artificial pavement. The above houses will be of brick, brown stone and marble trimming, electric bells and all modern conveniences.

A new move is being made on behalf of the U. S. Mint, located in Philadelphia, which we believe will be taken advantage of by the Treasury Department, at Washington, and a special recommendation made to Congress for an appropriation sufficient to accomplish the desired purpose, which is to sell the present structure and to secure the site at the Northwest corner of Broad and Pine streets, now occupied by the Pennsylvania Deaf and Dumb institute, and on this site to erect a new building of sufficient dimensions to meet the present and future requirements of the Mint in this city. The above mentioned property is now in the market and is offered at a fair valuation to the authorities and possesses many advantages as a site for the proposed new Mint. An early move in the matter is expected, as there is now available about $1,250,000, including the sale of the old property and appropriations made by the last Congress for the addition to the present structure.

Architects' Notes.

W. Bender, architect, N. E. corner Market and Thirteenth streets, has plans completed for a stable located at 911 North Broad street, 40x100 feet, two stories high, built of brick, stone trimmings, slate roof, electric bells, iron beams and columns, galvanized iron skylights, stable fittings, elevators, etc.

Furness & Evans, architects, 209 South Third street, are at present busy upon the elaborate plans and specifications of the "Isaiah V. Williamson School," which will be located near Elwyn, Delaware Co., Pa., these plans are not advanced sufficiently yet for the awarding of contracts, or soliciting of proposals, which, under the supervision of the trustees, will be open to competition.

J. W. B. Fry, architect, Forrest Building, Fourth street, below Chestnut street, has prepared plans and specifications for a Reformed Church at Silver Run, Md, it will be 64x75 feet, brick, stone trimmings, slate roof, wood altars, plain tint decoration, plate and stained glass, hot air, iron beams, columns and crestsings, pipe organ, pews and school seats, and will seat 700 people.

J. Elvin Jackson, architect, 804 Walnut street, has plans for a country residence, 32x34 feet, three stories high, slate roof, electric work, dumb-waiters, stained and plate glass, wood mantels. The same architect has plans for a country residence for S. T. Exey, located at Langhorn, Pa., 40x50 feet, three stories high, stone, slate roof, electric bells, dumb-waiters, stained and plate glass windows, steam heat, wood mantels, etc.

Wilson Eyre, architect, 927 Chestnut street, is at work on plans for dwelling house and stable, to be built at Detroit Mich., 50x70 feet, three stories high, to be stone and shingle, electric work, dumb-waiters, plate and stained glass windows and doors, steam heat, and all the best modern improvements. Same architect has plans for a city residence, to be brick and stone, three stories high, electric bells, frescoed work, plate and stained glass, and best sanitary plumbing.

Messrs. Nixon & Zimmerman, of the Broad street Theatre, have concluded arrangements with Architect Kemble, of N. Y., and Rudolph Aronson, for an elaborate addition to the present new and complete structure opposite the Academy of Music. The improvement will consist of a grand garden being placed upon the roof of the building, and the construction of stage, orchestra and general auditorium, together with a plentiful supply of fountains, flower-beds, scenery, walks and promenades, the whole to be lighted by electricity. Architect Kemble is at present engaged upon the plans and specifications for the above work.

McKim, Mead & White, architects, 57 Broadway, New York, have prepared plans and specifications for the new club house for the "Country Club," an organization formed by the cricketers and friends of the club living in Germantown and the vicinity. This society is really the amalgamation of the Young America and the Germantown Cricket Clubs. The place selected for the new house of the above club is the Price and Littell property, on Manheim street, and the work of grading and ornamenting the grounds is in progress under the supervision of Mr. George N. Bell, civil engineer. The contract for the erection of the stone walls and fencing has been awarded to Mr. John Shingle & Son, there being a very number of contracts which will be let under the joint supervision of the building committee and the architect. It is proposed to erect a number of club houses for the accommodation of both ladies and gentlemen, stables for stock and quarters for proper attendants. Space occupied will be ten and a half acres, and front upon four principal streets, and will be the largest and best equipped establishment of the kind in this country. Officers of the club are Edward W. Clark, president; F. B. Reeves, vice president, and John R. Fanshawe, secretary and treasurer.

James H. Windrim, architect, 132 South Third street, has completed plans and specifications for the erection of the additional building to the Academy of Natural Science, situated on the S. W. corner of Nineteenth and Race streets, and operations will be commenced as soon as details are considered and contract is awarded, which will be done under the supervision of the Building Committee of the Board of Trustees. The structure will be 155x175 feet, and will be connected with the present building by a transept two stories high, which will be made useful as an auditorium on the first floor, having a seating capacity for 650 persons; the second will be fitted in separate rooms. Material for the exterior walls has not yet been decided upon because of the scarcity of serpentine stone. A tower will be located on Nineteenth street, and the main entrance will be central between the two edifices. Main building to be six stories high, while the tower will have two additional stories. The centre of main building will have a glass dome, adapted to radiation of light throughout the interior; the building will be fire proof, and have special means of ventilation. Electric work will be introduced and gas fixtures, as well as best sanitary plumbing, best of plate glass for windows and roof, the support of which will be iron columns and girders; stairways, balconies and fire escapes also of iron. The whole—the new and the old structure—will be the largest and most complete institution of the kind in this country or Europe.

Washington, D. C.

It is reported that the Sisters of the Visitation have sold their convent and academy property on Connecticut avenue first to H. E. Flagler, of Florida, for $650,000. This tract contains about 114,000 square feet, and it is understood that Mr. Flagler, who is the proprietor of the well-known Ponce De Leon Hotel, at St. Augustine, Florida, will utilize his newly purchased site on which to erect a large and handsome hotel. Mrs. Elizabeth Drexel Dahlgren has purchased a building site at the southwest corner of Sixteenth and P streets. The lot is 60x125 and the purchaser will erect a handsome residence. The ground on Connecticut avenue, south of Dupont Circle will be improved by the erection of two new residences, by Alexander Graham Bell and Charles J. Bell. Mrs. Chandler, widow of ex-Senator Zach. Chandler, will soon erect a residence on Connecticut avenue. Representatives Milliken, of Maine, 1017 Fourteenth street, will probably be the chairman of House Committee on Public Buildings and Grounds, and there is every indication that the matter of securing a site and erecting new post office buildings, will be pushed to a successful issue. Mr. Milliken is also spoken of as favorably impressed with the plan of selling the present mint, at Philadelphia, and securing another site in the same city on which to erect a building suitable for the increased work of that department. Architect Appleton C. Clark, Jr., 220 Four-and-a-half street N. W., has prepared plans for three dwellings to cost about $14,000. Frederick G. Atkinson, 910 G street, N. W., is preparing plans for fifteen dwellings for Senator Sherman. Leon E. Dessez, 414 Concordia building, has prepared plans for an apartment house, for W. C. Hill, to cost about $100,000. The material will be brick and stone, and fire-proofing material will be used. Elevators, steam heat and other modern improvements. Edward Woltz has finished plans for an apartment house, to cost $50,000, of brick and stone, steam heat and elevators. Pitney & Bradford, 1305 F street N. W., have prepared plans for three dwellings to cost $16,000, all modern conveniences, cement sidewalks. Mr. A. A. Thomas has purchased a large tract of suburban ground, known as the Bloomingdale property, formerly known as the Beale Place. It will be cut up into lots for building purposes. The price paid was $162,000. It is likely that some active measures will be taken regarding the erection of a National University. Attorney General Miller, in his report on District affairs, has recommended that a separate wing be erected for the female prisoners of the county prison, and a wall be erected enclosing the whole; also, that some provision be made for a United States Penitentiary and Reformatory. Edward Woltz, May Building, is preparing plans for a three-story and basement dwelling, to cost $12,000. The front will be of Hummelstown brown-stone, with copper cornices, oak interior finish and furnace heat. No contracts. The Comptroller of Currency has authorized the following banks to commence business. The First National Bank of Rockwood Tenn., capital $50,000, Morton Fouché, president. The First National Bank of Southern Oregon, at Grant's Pass Oregon, capital $50,000, J. C. Campbell, president. The First National Bank of Grant, Neb., capital $50,000, F. R. Johnson, president. The First National Bank of Fair Haven Washington, capital $50,000, Edward Merton Wilson, president. The First National Bank of Salida, Cal., capital $50,000, Louis W. Craig, president. The Farmers' and Merchants' National Bank of Abilene, Texas, capital $50,000, F. W. James, president. The Citizens' National Bank of Texas, capital $50,000, B. A. Ludlow, president.

At Trenton, Senator McPherson has introduced a bill to appropriate $30,000 for the erection of a monumental column to commemorate the battle of Trenton. The new railway station to be erected by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will cost about $200,000.

At Elizabeth, Union Co. Mrs. Elizabeth Dean, of London, England, has presented to Grace Episcopal Church six valuable building lots at Elizabethport as a site for a new church and rectory. She has likewise contributed the stone to be used in the construction of these buildings from a quarry which she owns at Esopus, on the Hudson river. The buildings will be a memorial of her two children who were born at Elizabeth.

At Camden, at a meeting held on the evening of December 2nd, 1889, by the congregation of the First Presbyterian Church, it was decided to purchase ground at the corner of Eleventh and Cooper streets for $4,000 on which to erect a chapel. Articles of the Longbridge brake and car Company have been filed with County clerk Burrough. The capital is $5,000,000. S. H. Grey, Esq., is one of the incorporators.

At Atlantic City, Atlantic Co., William E. Hawkins, of the comptroller's office, of Philadelphia, Pa., has purchased a lot on New Jersey avenue, and will erect a cottage. Joseph Thompson has purchased a lot at the corner of Indiana and Pacific avenues, 70 by 110 feet. Mr. Thompson will erect a handsome residence on the site. Mahlon C. Frames has purchased the lot adjoining Mr. Thompson's on Pacific avenue. The Atlantic City Water Works Company has offered to furnish fire protection to Chelsea, if the citizens will furnish and lay the pipes and plugs.

At Bordentown, Burlington Co., a meeting was held a few days since by prominent business men, and Mr. King, of the King Locomotive works, at which it was proposed to give the citizens of Bordentown an opportunity to become stockholders in the company. Mr. King stated that the company was organized with a capital of $1,000,000, and that the present shops in Bordentown had been leased for twenty years, with the understanding that a plant to cost $150,000 would be placed there. About 100 locomotives will be turned out annually and four hundred men employed. The Bordentown Water Company proposes to put in a first-class system of filtering.

Through Pennsylvania.

—At Uwchland, Chester Co., the directors of Fairmount Creamery have decided to put in an artificial refrigerator and build a butter room and storage room. The improvements will cost about $3,000.

—At Pomeroy, Chester Co., it is reported that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company contemplate the erection of a handsome station to take the place of the present structure, which will be used for a freight station.

A Company has been formed for the erection of a suspension bridge over the Lehigh river between Hokendauqua, Lehigh Co. and Catawissa, same county. A charter will be applied for at an early date.

—At Pottstown, Montgomery Co., the President of the Cornwall and Lebanon Railroad Company has begun the erection of a magnificent residence, the roof of which will cost at least $50,000.

—At Lansdowne, Delaware Co., Mr. Dickerson is said to have sold the lot of ground north of Baltimore avenue and west of Lansdowne avenue to some parties in Media for $100,000. The tract contains about forty acres.

—At Allentown, Lehigh Co., Messrs. Schwyer and Schrader have made excavations for fifty dwellings to be erected on Jordan street, between Allen and Washington street. As soon as the cellars are dug, work on the buildings will be suspended until spring.

—At Altoona, Blair Co., at a recent meeting of the Board of Trade, a special committee was appointed on markets, consisting of Messrs. Peter McTamany, John Flanagan, W. W. Rudisill, C. W. Moore, Hon. E. H. Turner, William Stokes and Frank M. Morrow. The plan suggested is to erect two substantial buildings, one on each side of the city.

—At Swedeland, Montgomery Co., the farm of Mrs. Reese P. Davis, containing seventy-eight acres and lying between Swedeland and Swedesburg, has been purchased by Messrs. A. & P. Roberts, of the Pencoyd Iron works, and it is said two furnaces will be erected on the site. The office of the Company is 261 S. Fourth street, Philadelphia.

—At York, York Co., the York City Passenger Railroad Company has purchased ten acres of ground along the Codorus, near High Rock, and will convert the same into a beautiful park. A pavilion and band stand will be erected, tennis and ball grounds laid out, boat and bathing houses built; also refreshment stands, etc. Work will begin on the grading at an early day.

—At Lansdowne, Delaware Co., Mr. Homer C. Stewart, real estate conveyancer, will have in charge the recent purchase of Mr. Edward A. Price, which consists of the farm of George Dickinson, containing forty-three acres, within two minutes walk of Lansdowne station. The tract will be divided into building lots and improved.

—Colonel Theodore W. Bean, of Norristown, Montgomery Co., has sent Senator Cameron and Representative Yardley copies of a bill which he wants passed by Congress, appropriating $25,000 to the Valley Forge Memorial Association for the purpose of purchasing additional ground and restoring Washington's headquarters and making the same a national park.

—At Harrisburg, the building committee appointed by the School Board has been instructed to take immediate steps towards making preparations for the erection of a central high school. The Mansion House hotel property has been purchased by Joseph Eby, who will put a new roof on the present structure and improve and alter the interior, and also erect an addition in the rear.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne Co., at the last meeting of the Third District School Board, Mr. Hand presented a resolution, which was adopted, taking the preliminary steps for the erection of a new school house. Colonel G. Murray Reynolds and John J. Labagh were appointed a committee to procure and submit plans for a suitable building to be erected on Carey avenue.

—At Wilkesburg, Allegheny Co., the National Electric Company will erect a factory on Wood street. This Company will manufacture speaking tubes, buttons, annunciators and other electrical appliances used in stores, dwellings and offices. Mr. George Webber, of Allegheny City is the President of the Company. Among the buildings that will probably be erected next year are a bank and a hotel. There is also a movement to establish a large planning mill.

—At Greensburg, Westmoreland Co., the Greensburg Banking Company has decided to erect a handsome new bank building. It will be a two-story structure of granite, with stone trimmings. The second story will contain two large plate glass windows, the interior finish will be of the finest kind and of hard wood. Messrs. Pitcarin, H. Sellers McKee and Chambers have located the site for the sand mill previously mentioned. The site will be about one-and-a-half miles from the town.

—At Easton, Northampton Co., there is some talk concerning the erection of a municipal building in the circle. A resolution introduced into Councils to have plans and specifications made for a proposed building, was defeated in Select Council, but friends of the measure now say that they feel confident a similar measure would now stand a better chance, and a resolution to that purpose will doubtless soon be introduced. The plan proposed is to erect a circular building to conform to the shape of the site, to be three stories in height, surmounted by a tower containing a large four dial clock, the first story to be at least twenty feet high, with a floor of asphalt and driveways to run under the building in lines with Northampton and Third streets

The second and third floors would be used for offices for the city officials and secret societies. The cost has not as yet been estimated.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny Co., James E. White will soon go to Pittsburgh to consult an architect about preparing plans for an extension to the Hotel White flats on Fifth avenue. The cost of this improvement will be about $40,000, and the new building will be as high as the Bank of McKeesport and extend to Sinclair street, a depth of one hundred feet. The frontage on Fifth avenue will have four stories, fitted up very handsomely with plate glass windows. At a meeting recently held by the Turners the committee appointed to see about the erection of a new hall, reported favorably, and the same committee was converted into a building committee and was instructed to see architects, and have plans and specifications for the proposed building prepared so that it may be erected in the spring. The National Tube works will erect a two-story brick building. The Company owns a number of small buildings lying between the site of the new building and the Fourth avenue department of the National Galvanizing plant, which will be demolished and other buildings erected. From $30,000 to $50,000 will be spent on improvements in the burial park.

—At Reading, Berks Co., Messrs. Crofode & Saylor, the bridge builders have leased the P. & R. rail mill on Ninth street and will convert it into a structural iron works. The Carpenter Steel Company has been notified to locate its present works within seventy days. The Company has not yet decided where to locate, but the old Manhattan foundry has been offered the Company. It is more than likely that Reading will erect an electric-light plant at an early day. The committee appointed to consider the matter has been in communication with a number of cities regarding the matter and will present a report at the next meeting, recommending that one of two systems be adopted, one consisting of arc lights entirely, the other of arc and incandescent lights. The estimated cost of the plant is $100,000. The committee consists of select Councilman Jonathan G. Leinbach and common Councilman John C. Hepler and Abraham Briel. Mr. Lehr, of the late firm of Lehr & Clark, has purchased a property on Penn street, which he will remodel to suit the purposes of a cigar factory. A large four-story brick addition 22x40 feet will also be erected in the rear.

—At Pittsburgh, J. W. Offerman, Fifth avenue and Market street, has prepared plans for two three-story dwellings and a stable for Dr. A. Blumberg, to be erected at the corner of Thirty-third street and Madison avenue. Contracts not yet let. The congregation of the Forty-third street Presbyterian church has decided to enlarge the present building by tearing out the rear end and carrying it out thirty feet further. The interior will also be entirely remodeled and the seating capacity increased by two hundred. The cost of the alterations will be about $6,000. The managers of the present newsboys home are about to have an entertainment for that institution, and if sufficient funds are obtained, a new location will be selected on which to erect a larger building than that now occupied. Kitchens, bath-rooms, gymnasium and laundry will be included in the new institution. Mrs. H. H. Byram is interested in the project. Mr. Anderson, one of the proprietors of the Monongahela House, which was partially destroyed by fire last week, says work will begin at once to repair and restore the building. A number of Pittsburgh capitalists are perfecting arrangements for the formation of a company under the name of the Kingsland Steel Company, with a capital of $1,000,000. James V. Drape & Company have secured options on several sites for the new plant, and details will be settled in a few days. It is said that the Pittsburgh Locomotive works will move its plant to the square bounded by Water, Ross, Grant and First avenue. Architect George S. Orth, 43, Sixth avenue, has finished plans for a stable for Mr. John Eaton, to be erected in the Twentieth

Ward The cost will be $3,500. Architect J. W. Offerman, Verner building, is preparing plans for a three-story brick dwelling, to be erected on Madison street for Dr. Albert Blumberg. Architect Chancery W. Hodgdon, Ninth and Liberty streets, has completed plans for three two-story brick dwellings for Mrs. E. Bradley. The houses will contain all modern conveniences. The Linden Club will erect a frame two-story club house on the Northeast corner of Linden avenue and Meade street, Boulevard place. The building will cost $10,000, and contain many handsome appointments. Mr. D. M. K. Lloyd is President of the club, Mr. F. M. Laughlin, Secretary, and Mr. D. P. Black, Treasurer. The Directors are Messrs. T. A. Gillespie, C. A. Chipley, H. E. Collins, A. M. Jenkinson, J. R. McClintock and E. M. O'Neill. Isabella C. Sargent will erect thirteen brick dwellings on Beatty street, to cost $35,000. Eight frame dwellings will be erected on Simen avenue by G. D. Simen, to cost $28,000. W. N. Sloan will erect two brick dwellings to cost $5,000. Mrs. C. L. Barrett will erect a two-story brick and mansard roof dwelling to cost $4,200. The Thirty-third street Mission Sunday school will erect a building of frame to cost $2,500. Louis K. White, builder, has the contract for a two-story and mansard dwelling for H. W. Wilker, to cost $4,000. Black & Baird, 95 Fourth avenue, have sold a property on Penn avenue for $80,000, the purchasers, it is said, intends to build. Ira M. Burchfield has sold twenty-four lots in North Homestead. Nine of the purchasers of these lots will build as soon as the weather permits.

Refers with permission to William M. Slingerly, Proprietor of Phila. "Record."

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. DEC. 18, 1889.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

PRESIDENT H. C. Webster, of the Garden Brick Company, upon the occasion of the visit of the delegates to the Brick-makers' Convention, to that Company's yards, entertained his guests with a royal prodigality.

THE standard size of a good hard common brick is to remain the same as that adopted by the National Brick Manufacturers in Convention, at Chicago, in October, 1887, viz.: $8\frac{1}{4} \times 4 \times 2\frac{1}{4}$ inches, and that of a pressed or front brick, $8\frac{3}{4} \times 4\frac{1}{2} \times 2\frac{3}{4}$ inches.

THE surprising feature of the National Master Builders' Convention as well as the Convention of National Brick Manufacturers, both of which were recently held in this city, was the wonderful natural oratorical powers of the members, many of them were not only forcible speakers, but they expressed an ease and grace, and control of language not supposed to belong to men who have wrestled with the practical problems of life.

A Pointer For The Board of Health.

The Arch street Theatre requires the attention of the Board of Health at once. It is without exception the worst ventilated place of amusement in the whole city. On Saturday evening the air was stifling as well as nauseating. For an audience to sit through a performance breathing the same air over and over again until it becomes fetid, is too disgusting to be tolerated even in the interest of popular theatrical management.

THE following interesting facts were read before the Convention of National Brick Manufacturers, they were carefully gleaned by Mr. F. B. McAvoey, a prominent brick manufacturer of this city:

"There were in 1888, 560 gangs of two men and one boy each, who made 350,000 each, during a season, or a total of 195,000,000, which were made entirely by hand. There were thirty-one different kinds of brick machines used, which made 154,000,000 brick, making a total of hand and machine-made bricks of 350,000,000. The value of this product was about $3,500,000, and the capital invested amounted in 1888 to $3,000,000, and the number of employees was over 4,000."

THE city of Lynn, Mass., has awakened to the fact that it is a poor policy to be the victim of such fires as have swept a number of cities within the past few weeks. The citizens have taken the matter in hand, and at a meeting held not long since, at which the Mayor and chiefs of public departments were present, a petition to the City Councils was drawn up, urging that new restrictions be required for all future building operations. The petition urges that all electric light and district telephone wires be placed under ground, that buildings six stories high and over, be forbidden unless built with iron flooring, and are in other ways made as safe as possible by the use of fire-proof material. The example set by the city of Lynn in this matter is one worthy of imitation, and should be followed by other cities without waiting for a similar experience.

IT is very evident that the safety of the school children of this city is in very unreliable hands, it is also very evident that the gentlemen on whom this sacred trust has been imposed are either indifferent to their responsibility or incapable of appreciating the full measure of their duties. The possibility of a public school filled with children being destroyed by fire through the faulty construction of the heating apparatus is enough to precipitate a panic among parents. Who is to blame? Do the members of the Board of Education understand the full meaning of the risk? Is a janitor who would stupidly work about a heater in the condition of that of the Wharton street school a fit person to fill the place? Where does our system of fire inspection come in? How many more large buildings, private and public, are there in this city on the verge of destruction by fire? Where are the fire insurance companies? Do they learn nothing from experience? Are the fires at Lynn, Boston and Minneapolis to be repeated in Philadelphia?

The Industrial issue of the Colorado Exchange Journal, published at Denver, partakes largely of the nature of the country whose interests it represents, and we are more than ever convinced, that there must be something in the climate of that portion of the United States, inclining its people to vast enterprises. This spirit is discernable in the above mentioned issue of the Exchange Journal, which covers one hundred and forty three large pages, containing matter of interest to real estate and business men, and in fact, to every one interested in the growth and prosperity of the wonderful country beyond the Mississippi. The retail price of this special issue is one Dollar and it is well worth the money.

Removal of the Philadelphia Wrought Iron Company.

To meet the largely increasing demand for ornamental iron work for the purpose of interior decoration, artistic and beautiful lamps, gas fixtures, andirons, fire screens and many other articles for decorative purposes, the Philadelphia Wrought Iron Company has left its old quarters and sought more commodious factory, offices and warerooms at 262 Bingham court, this city. The change enables the company to do justice to an increased demand on the part of architects and builders for artistic iron work in a number of shapes and forms, which were unknown and undreamed of a few years since. Special attention is given to grill work, designed for churches, banks and dwellings.

Luck is waiting for something to turn up. Labor with keen eyes and strong will, will turn up something. Luck lies in bed and wishes the postman would bring him news of a legacy. Labor turns out at 6 o'clock and with busy pen and ringing hammer, lays the foundation of a competency. Luck whines, Labor whistles. Luck goes to the poor-house. Labor to independence.

Miscellaneous.

At Tiffin, Seneca Co., Ohio, the managers of the Heidelberg College, will erect a museum building to cost $15,000.

At Dayton, Montgomery Co., Ohio, a company has been organized to erect a large hotel. Colonel E. Pryor is one of the company.

Congressman Arnold will introduce bills in the House for appropriations of $125,000 and $75,000 for the erection of Public Buildings at Pawtucket and Woonsocket, R. I.

—The County Commissioners of Cambria County will ask the Court for authority to issue bonds to the amount of $50,000, the money to be used in building bridges. The Indiana County Commissioners will ask for $42,000 for the same purpose.

—At Scottsdale, Westmoreland Co., Mr. J. B. Stauffer, president of the Scottsdale Bank, has purchased a controlling interest in the Water Company. A site for a reservoir has been secured at Mt. Vernon, and mains will be laid at once.

—At Duquesne, Allegheny Co., it is stated that the Allegheny Bessemer Steel Company will increase the capacity of the present works and add a brass foundry and moulding department. The Plate Glass Company will also enlarge its works, and the Tube works will be enlarged.

—At Bryn Mawr, Montgomery Co., President James S. Rhoads, of Bryn Mawr College, in his annual report to the faculty, recommends and urges that additional buildings be erected to accommodate the students resident at the institution, and that it be undertaken at once, so that they be finished before the year 1891.

—At Boyertown, Berks Co., the Board of Trade and a number of business men are urging the Pennsylvania Railroad Company to construct a branch line from Phoenixville to Limerick Square and Boyertown, thence to Allentown. Dr. Thomas J. B. Rhoads, J. M. H. Walters and W. H. Young were appointed to lay the matter before the Railroad Company.

—At Homer City, Indiana Co., a large tract of land containing 2500 acres, has been purchased by J. W. Moore, of Greensburg, Westmoreland Co. It is said a large number of coke ovens will be constructed, as a seven foot vein of coking coal underlies the property. It is expected that a connecting line from the Indiana branch railroad will be built to the field.

—At Wilkesbarre, Luzerne Co., the subject of the erection of a new Court house is being agitated. The present structure is inadequate and out of keeping with the progress made by the city in the last few years. There will be an estimated surplus of $100,000 for 1890, with the prospect of it being largely increased in 1891, so that there is no good reason why a handsome structure should not be erected and finished within the next two years. The estimated cost for the new building is $200,000.

—At McKeesport, Allegheny Co., if all the railroads projected and promised are constructed, there will be over $1,000,000 expended in the erection of bridges in and about McKeesport. These bridges will be six in number, counting the bridges for Dravosburg and Reynoldton, two across the Youghiogheny, by the McKeesport and Bellevue Railroad, and two across the Monongahela, one by the McKeesport and Duquesne bridge Company, the other by the McKeesport Connecting Company.

—At Easton, Northampton Co., the Easton and Northern Railroad has decided to adopt the plan of tunneling under the town for the distance of nearly half a mile, to reach a connection with the main line of the Lehigh Valley road. This tunnel will cost about $85,000, exclusive of track, and to reach the Lehigh Valley depot, a bridge will be required, the estimated cost of which is $65,000. The Lehigh road has agreed to build the bridge. The citizens of Easton will be asked to take $50,000 worth of stock, the money to be used in the construction of the tunnel.

—At Pittsburg, the Saint Nicholas hotel property, at Fourth avenue and Grant street, has been sold by C. H. Love, 93 Fourth avenue, to Hon. John Dalzell for $60,000. The purchaser will erect a large office building adapted particularly to lawyers. The Pittsburg Company, limited, has sold a lot in the Breen & O'Neill plan on Wandless street to George M. King. The purchaser will build in the spring. The Pittsburg Bridge Company will erect a building in the spring 5 x 200 feet, to be used as a machine and pattern shop. The City Council has passed a resolution to appropriate $30,000 for engine and hose houses in the Thirty-first and Thirty-fifth wards. The American Club contemplate the erection of a club house. Saint Adalberts Roman Catholic congregation has taken out a permit for the erection of one-story brick church 76x127 feet, to cost $30,000. F. C. Sauer, Sixth and Liberty streets, is the architect. L. Benz & Bros. are the contractors. Theodore Doerflinger will erect ten two-story brick dwellings to cost $30,000. The new Armory of the Eighteenth Regiment, to take the place of the Fifth avenue market house, will cost about $50,000. C. L. Magee, A. F. Keating, Colonel McKibben and Colonel Smith are trustees. Mark Lydon will erect three frame two-story and mansard dwellings to cost $2,900. W. D. Harris will erect a two-story brick dwelling to cost $3,000. D. M. McMasters will erect two frame two-story dwellings to cost $6,000. A dwelling to cost $3,000 will be erected by Frank Tompelbuck, two-story and mansard, slate roof. Joseph F. Normeucutt will erect a dwelling to cost about $5,000, of brick, with slate roof. George Schaefer will erect a two-story brick dwelling on Oakland avenue to cost $4,000.

Of course there are styles of head-wear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

NEW BUILDINGS had been erected, or were under way in this City, at the end of the Building Season, ending October 31st, 1889. The persons to whom building permits had been granted, for the erection of these Buildings were directly, or indirectly, the buyers of the BUILDING MATERIAL, ELEVATORS, RANGES, HEATERS, MANTELS, PUMPS, MACHINERY, BELTING, etc., etc., that were used in constructing and completing them.

In the interest of the advertisers, a copy of this journal was sent by Mail, to every one of these persons, at a time when their minds were full of the question of selection and they wanted to buy the Wares you sell. These persons who obtain building permits, together with the army of buyers whom we report in this journal, weekly, as going to build in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Delaware, Maryland, Washington, D. C., Miscellaneous and Lot Buyers, to whom we send this journal, are the READERS of ADVERTISEMENTS, and the real buyers of Material.

In making up your list of Papers in which you will advertise during 1890, we trust that you will give these facts due consideration. Your advertisement in the columns of the Real Estate Record and Builders' Guide, would represent the minimum of risk as to cost and the maximum of profit as an investment. If you desire it, we will send our Representative to you, with particulars.

So GREAT have been the improvements in brick making, that very soon the old-time brick yard, with its long rows of dilapidated sheds, its quaint grinding wheel and raw-boned, starved-looking steed, will have become a thing of the past. The romance of the brick yard, beautiful only in its mud frescoes on everything; quaint and homely enough to suit even boyish eyes, will soon pass into oblivion, as has everything, in this age of improvements, that interested boyish fancies years ago.

The term brick yard will soon become a misnomer, a fraud and a delusion; it will be wiped out of the long list of euphonious names that have greeted American ears ever since the first American brick was made. A brick foundry, with all the dignity the words imply, a plant representing big capital, big machinery, all securely housed under costly build'ings containing miniature railways, patent dryers, patent gas ovens, and Heaven only knows what else, is bound, ere long, to supersede the old-time brick yard with all its pleasant recollections. And why not? The making of brick has become a science. It now represents brains, capital, art, skill, beauty and effect. It means broad-gauge men who read and think, and experiment. It means business enterprise and the aggregation of capital entering into millions. If you doubt it, interest yourself enough to visit such a plant as that of the Jarden Brick Company, of this city, or some other of equal character and proportions.

The sudden disappearance of Mr. Joseph G. Ditman is sufficiently painful in itself, but the loose manner in which he has been talked about by men who once claimed his friendship and acquaintance is simply disgraceful. The straight-forward business life of Mr. Ditman, right here in Philadelphia, is well known to thousands, and those who, by sneaking innuendo and contemptible insinuation have sought to besmirch his good name, must already feel that to them belongs the shame of having slandered a helpless man without a shadow of reason or justification.

That reputation for business integrity, which is only acquired by following straight-forward business principles and honorable dealing for years, seems in Mr. Ditman's case, at least, an empty honor, a thing to be torn and scattered by every one, or any one having an old score to settle or a grudge to pay.

He was neither a bankrupt nor a criminal. There was no sum that he owed that his estate will not pay thrice over. True, he issued a few small checks, and failed to provide for them, but even these were to those whom he called his friends; and it is more than probable that dementia even then had seized him, at least this was so unlike Mr. Ditman, that it is only charitable to suppose that he was mentally incapable of transacting business of any kind, in fact it is well known that he has been laboring under great mental strain for some time back, said to have been caused by the poor business of his bank, for which he was blamed, and the fact that he was to be crowded from its presidential chair. This, acting upon a naturally sensitive nature, impaired by poor health and nervous trouble, culminated in a loss of reason. He no doubt, aimlessly stepped from his carriage a mental wreck.

Building and Real Estate Notes.

The property at the S. E. corner of Columbia avenue and Twenty-eighth street, has been sold to the City as a site for a new Station-house.

The Martha Knight Farm, near Torresdale, has been purchased by the Leathertown syndicate. George L. Parker, 2019 Fairmount ave., represents the company.

The apartments occupied by the Central Station detectives and the Electrical Bureau, at Fifth and Chestnut streets, will be vacated on Thursday, after which, the rooms will be altered for other purposes.

The Board of Directors of the Twenty-first school section of Philadelphia, has passed a resolution asking Councils for $30,000 to purchase additional ground for a four division annex to the Schuylkill school.

William H. Berger, 237 Arch street, has purchased three acres of ground at Cheltenham Hills, Pa., upon which he will build a fine residence. As yet neither architect nor contractor has been engaged.

The purchase of a piece of property at Twentieth and Berks streets is contemplated as a site on which to erect a police and fire station. The price asked is $12,000.

The congregation of Cookman Methodist Episcopal Church, Twelfth street, and Lehigh avenue, Rev. George S. Broadbent, pastor, has secured about $18,000 towards the erection of a new church edifice.

John O. Broadbent, carpenter, 314 Haines street, Germantown, will erect four three-story houses on Duval street, Germantown. They will be fitted with heaters and all modern improvements.

John McCouaghy will erect about one hundred and thirty, two and three-story houses on various streets in the First Ward of Philadelphia. These will be of brick, fitted with electric-bells and good sanitary plumbing.

Ross & Lilly, carpenters and builders, 2025 Oakford street, will erect a large number of houses on Tree and other small streets in the First Ward. Brick, fitted with electric-work, the facings of the fronts to be of brown stone and marble.

Mr. Robert Fitzell, real estate operator, 520 Walnut street, has purchased of C. H. Cochran, broker, on behalf of John Wanamaker and others, a large tract of land at Master and Fifty-fourth streets for the purpose of building thereon a number of fine houses of improved design and fitted with modern conveniences.

Funds are being raised by process of fairs, subscriptions and otherwise for the purpose of erecting a fine setting of granite steps to the chapel attached to Saint Vincent, on East Chestnut avenue, Germantown. It requires about $6,000 to complete the measures in view, which will be in charge of a special committee.

George C. Boldt, proprietor of the Bellevue and Stratford hotels, Broad below Walnut street, has purchased of John Wyeth, druggist, the property on the South side of Brighton street, rear of the Stratford hotel, and will alter the structure into a first class laundry for the purposes of his hostelry. It will be fitted with all the machinery necessary for the business.

The Board of Directors of the Operative Builders' Association has formed plans to submit to the general body to admit to membership master builders' material men, sub contractors and all other persons directly interested in the building industries of Philadelphia. W. S. P. Shields, Esq., is the secretary of the general organization, 735 Walnut street.

It has been decided by the committee on city property to offer an ordinance to Councils directing Mayor Fittler to dispose of all ground contiguous to the P. R. R. in West Philadelphia, below Locust street, where it is upon a level with grade crossings, by offering the same at public sale. This ground has been rejected as a proper place for a public park, hence the resolution cited above.

A site having been recently selected by the North Philadelphia Medical Society for the location of a hospital at Broad street and Germantown avenue, a special committee was subsequently appointed to consider the subject, and they have reported to the general committee, stating that they have secured the refusal of a better locality and recommended the change, but at present refuse to name the place until ratified by the society, which will be at an early day.

The Germantown Junior Club, at the corner of Rittenhouse and Green streets, Germantown, have just purchased the property at the corner of Green and Harvey streets, owned by Edgar H. Butler, bookseller, Thirteenth and Arch streets. It is their intention at an early day to rebuild the house to suit their own purposes, and will do so, as soon as plans have been matured. As yet no contract has been awarded to the committee in charge; it is their intention, however, to make it one of the finest club houses in that vicinity.

A large corporation called the Germantown Spinning Company and formed as follows: Frank E. Mary I. and Roberta Patterson, Oscar N. Wood and Henry T. Dechert, all of Philadelphia, have purchased ground on High street, Germantown, near the Chestnut Hill branch of the Reading Railroad, and will soon begin the erection of a large establishment for the manufacture of cotton and woolen yarns and textile fabrics. The dimensions of the buildings will be 200x130 feet, and will be fitted with electric and other appliances; also with the most approved machinery, elevators will be introduced; also fire escapes. Over 12,000 spindles will be operated.

A syndicate has been formed by a number of morocco manufacturers of Philadelphia to erect near that city at Torresdale, on the Delaware river, an immense plant for the manufacture of leather, morocco being the leading feature. Standing at the head of the movement is the Keen-Sutterlee Company, Third above Vine streets, and the active power in the new movement appears to be Fred Sutterlee, of that firm. It is proposed in connection with the erection of the factories to build quite a large number of houses to accommodate those who may perform the labor for this great organization, and to surround the place with every comfort for their convenience. They propose to have a force of workmen numbering about 2,000 or 2,500, and to build the entire place much after the manner of Pullman, Ill. At the present no plans fully developed or contracts let.

Architects' Notes.

Charles W. Bolton, architect, 1510 Chestnut street, is at work on plans for a new Reformed Church, to be located at Hazleton, Pa., and will be commenced as soon as details and plans are completed.

WANAMAKER'S

Of course there are styles of head-wear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.

VOL. IV.—No. 52. PHILADELPHIA, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1890. PRICE 15 CENTS.

JANUARY, 1st, 1890.

MR. ADVERTISER, a few words if you please:

In making up your list of papers in which you will place your advertisements for 1890, you want at least an assurance of probable return in the way of profits, to justify the expense, this holds good, whether as Manufacturer, Dealer or Contractor; you advertise to catch those WHO MUST BUY.

The great army of buyers for American products, are not Dealers, by any means. Their relations to the wares sold, is that of distribution only. The Dealer aims to sell the goods that sell readily; there is little sentiment in the question with him. To popularize his wares should be the objective point of every advertiser. The Dealer soon tires of goods that find no sale, dead stock, soon becomes a dead-loss. It is better that the demand should push the Manufacturer, than the Manufacturer should push the Dealer.

BARTLETT, the manufacturer of "Crumbs of Comfort," says: that through advertising he can force the people into stores to buy anything he desires to sell them. It is a simple question as to whether the profit will justify the expense.

During 1890, there will be many thousand new buildings erected in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland, Delaware and Washington, D. C., which will be reported in the way of advance news in the columns of this journal. No proper estimate can now be made of the cost of the Building Material, including Heating Apparatus, Boilers, Pumps, Engines, Machinery, Elevators, Electric Work, Decorations, Glass and all other accessories that must enter into the construction and completion of these buildings, representing Factories, Ware-houses, Churches, School Houses, Dwellings, &c., &c., but it will certainly aggregate many millions of dollars.

We want your advertisement for 1890, we want to place it in the hands of every one of these persons reported in our columns weekly, as going to build, in the above sections, this includes of course, persons obtaining building permits in Philadelphia and Camden, it also includes our Lot buyers and Miscellaneous builders.

If your advertisement is read by this army of buyers at a time when their minds are full of the question of selection is it not even more than probable, that at least a fair percentage of them will be attracted by it and become purchasers of your goods? We think so, and we are sure that after you have tried it for a year, you will also think so.

We will send advertising rates to all who want them.

PHILADELPHIA, WED'Y. JAN. 1, 1890.

For the convenience of members of the Master Builders' Exchange, we have secured Box No. 199 at that place, where any communications for publication may be left.

THE articles of agreement by which the islands in New York Bay west of the deep water channel become a part of the State of New Jersey, were signed December 23, 1889 by the Boundary Commissioners. The new boundary lines give New Jersey control of about two-thirds of New York Bay, and adds 1,500 acres of land to that State. The date of the agreement stands memorable with the treaty of 1834, which lost Staten Island to New Jersey.

SECRETARY of the Treasury Windom need anticipate no very serious difficulty in case Supervising Architect Windrim should conclude to resign his position, for, notwithstanding the fact that Mr. Windrim has proven himself a very capable and conscientious public officer, yet there are many Philadelphia architects still left who are quite as capable as Mr. Windrim if the good sense of the Secretary of the Treasury will only enable him to make his selection from the number in case a selection becomes necessary.

THE recent report of a committee which had been appointed to investigate the cause or causes of the outbreak of typhoid fever at one of our largest and best conducted colleges, is an appeal for sanitation in house building that cannot afford to be overlooked. The time will come, without doubt, when proper sanitary conditions will receive as much consideration in the construction of a building as the style of architecture to be employed and the material to be used. The house of the future will be built on the principle that plumbing consists of something more than an intricate system of pipes and traps, supplemented by fancy fixtures calculated to please the eye, and that monstrosity of modern dwellings, the disease breeding cellar will disappear. Future generations will wonder why their ancestors ever consented to live over badly ventilated pits dug out of the soil and filled, in most cases, with decaying and musty vegetables, together with the odds and ends for which room cannot be found elsewhere. Bad plumbing and carelessly constructed cellars are only two of the evils to which the dweller in the house of the present day are subjected. The germs of disease arising from these two causes might be rendered comparatively harmless did they not meet such favorable conditions as soon as getting into the house proper; but here again another enemy to health and long life is called into play. In the construction of the great majority of dwellings little or no attention has been given to the matter of ventilation, so that now the poisonous atmosphere of the cellar and the sewer gas from the pipes used in plumbing meet with no counteracting volume of pure air from the outside, and disease and death is the result. This is no exaggeration, as an examination of many of our modern dwellings will show.

FROM present appearances it seems probable that building next year is to be greatly handicapped for the want of gas, water, sewers and street pavements. Of course, in most cases, construction work could go on without these, but no sane man would plan the erection of a square of houses without there was at least the shadow of a possibility that there would be customers to buy them. There is not likely to be a scarcity of house buyers during 1890, for it is even now predicted that the sales of real estate, during next year, will considerably exceed the aggregate of 1889, neither is there likely to be a scarcity of houses to meet the demand, but there will certainly be impediments that are likely to prove disastrous to many builders, both as to the difficulty in construction, and ready sale after completion, owing to the sad inability of our city government to place the new streets in a proper condition to justify the enterprise and energy of our builders. No man can feel safe in undertaking an operation of considerable magnitude with such chances against him. If all our builders were millionaires, and could get along without borrowed capital, such a trifling matter as unpaved streets, etc., might not prove such a serious drawback, although considerable loss would even then be entailed; but to borrow money and face the incalculable demands of an unconscionable lender on the one hand, and the apathy of city officials and a score or more of unsold houses, with customers waiting for them on the other hand, presents such a combination of discouragements to builders, that the crop of 1890 may be seriously lessened. An organized effort is now being made to remove, as far as possible, a large share of the difficulty; but, the fact is, the trouble is general. It exists wherever building is pushing itself outward. It may yet prove a costly mistake that the tax rate was not increased to $2.00 after all.

IF ALL the proposed permanent improvements for 1890 are carried out, by the end of that year, Philadelphia will have made considerable strides in the right direction. It remains to be seen, however, how far these proposed permanent improvements will be realized. Among the benefits to accrue to the citizens of Philadelphia will be the repaving of some sixteen or eighteen miles of streets; a number of new main sewers will be begun, and work will continue on those already under way, besides which $100,000 will be used on thirty or forty miles of branch sewers; the gas works will be extended and about $100,000 will be spent on improvements to Fairmount Park. A number of the public squares will also receive attention in the way of remodeling and being made more attractive. About $200,000 will be spent upon the new County Prison, and additional electric lights will be placed on the streets of the city, together with one thousand or twelve hundred new gasoline and gas lamps. The new City Hall will use about $750,000 during 1890, and a number of new school houses will be erected at a cost of $300,000, exclusive of the purchase of lots and fire-escapes. The Blockley Almshouse and House of Correction will come in for a share to the amount of $25,000. The Fire Department has not been forgotten; a number of new fire and police patrol houses will be erected in various parts of the city, and some new engines will be purchased. Below will be found a statement of the appropriations for permanent improvements for the year 1890.

Public Building.....	$750,000
Fairmount Park.....	100,000
County Prison.....	200,000
Education, New School Houses, Lots etc.....	320,000
Charities and Corrections.....	25,000
Public Works, Extension of Gas Works, Highways, Lighting, Surveys and Water.....	1,900,000
Public Safety, Police, Fire, Electrical, City Property.....	210,000
Main Sewers out of Temporary Loan.....	210,000
Total permanent improvements.....	$3,755,500

Since 1800, the population of Europe has just doubled itself. Then the population was 175,000,000; in 1850, 216,000,000; in 1860, 289,000,000; in 1880, 331,000,000; in 1888, 350,000,000.

The total coinage at the mints during November aggregated $5,400,912. Of this amount $1,788,900 was in gold pieces and $3,484,812 in silver. Three million three hundred thousand standard dollars were coined during the month.

We are in receipt of a most convenient and unique desk calendar, issued by the Pope Manufacturing Company, of Boston, Mass. It is called the "Columbia," and is a valuable adjunct to any office.

We are indebted to Mr. A. J. Bicknell, 115 Broadway, New York, who is the Eastern advertising, representative of a long list of building and architectural papers for a very handsome calendar for 1890. Mr. Bicknell, by fair dealing and straight business methods, has gained a large clientele among advertisers, besides maintaining the respect and confidence of publishers all over the country. This is just as it should be, and the country would be much better off if their were more Bicknells and fewer of the other kind dreaded by advertisers and publishers generally.

The Spanish method of fire-proofing the floors of large buildings is said to be making headway in this country. Well burned clay tiles laid flat and cemented together with a cement, the ingredients of which are kept secret, are used, the joints being broken as in the laying of brick; the mortar is said to be very adhesive and becomes as strong as the tiles, the arches between the beams weigh but a trifle more than half the weight of brick as usually constructed. A great saving is made in the number of beams used, owing to the greater span made with the tile arch.

An average of five feet of water is estimated to fall annually over the whole earth, and, assuming that condensation takes place at an average height of 3,000 feet, scientists conclude that the force of evaporation to supply such a rainfall must equal the lifting of 322,000,000 pounds of water 3,000 feet in every minute, or about 300,000,000,000 horse power constantly exerted. Of this prodigious amount of energy thus created a very small proportion is transferred to the waters that run back through rivers to the sea, and a still smaller fraction is utilized by man; the remainder is dissipated in space.—New Orleans Picayune.

NINE "Don'ts" taken from the circular of the City Trust Safe Deposit and Surety Company, and worth a place in every man's hat:

- "Don't buy Property without a guaranteed Title.
- "Don't accept a verbal guaranty—require a Bond.
- "Don't build without a written Contract.
- "Don't accept a Contract without sufficient Security.
- "Don't rent property without a written Lease.
- "Don't withhold Rent for lack of repairs.
- "Don't make alterations without consent of Owner.
- "Don't remove Fixtures without replacing them.
- "Don't assume that either party to agreement has all the legal rights on his side."

Sir Edwin Chadwick delivered an address recently before the Sanitary Institute of Great Britain, which contains several interesting suggestions. In general, he agrees with Dr. Richardson in thinking that "cleanliness, practiced in its entirety, would banish all disease from the world," but he believes that mankind has another enemy besides dirt, in the shape of dampness, which will destroy even clean people if it gets a fair chance at them. In illustration of this he quotes again from Dr. Richardson, who says that in a row of twenty new houses in suburban London, which were occupied so soon after completion that the condensed moisture stood on the walls and mirrors, he was called to two fatal cases of consumption in one family, while, within two years after the houses were finished, there were six more cases of consumption in them and fourteen of acute rheumatic fever, and comments upon this by saying that in new settlements, upon undrained land, one-half of all the children die before they are six years old, while experience has shown that the simple sub-soil drainage of the land reduces by one-half, the annual death-rate from consumption of the undrained district.

Water, that element of life, has proved an element of wealth to the fortunate proprietors of the New River Company of London, which furnishes half the people of the English metropolis, with this simple beverage. The par value of the shares of this corporation is £100 per share; but so wonderful has been their appreciation, that recently, when one of these rare gems was offered at auction, it brought the almost fabulous price of £122,800—$614,000. It may be explained, however, that this Company is the owner of land as well as water, and has some very valuable estates and last year these two elements of profit enabled the administration to declare a dividend of £2,600 per share.

[Communicated.]

The Joseph Dixon Crucible Company, Jersey City, N. J., closes 1889 with satisfaction. Our business has been larger in every branch than in 1888. Our chief new departure in 1889 has been in the large increase of equipment at our Graphite Mines at Ticonderoga. We have laid the lines there for a five years' continuous run—tearing down and rebuilding almost everything much larger than before.

The specially large increase in the sales of Graphite Paint, Graphite Grease, Graphite Oils and other Graphite lubricants, has pushed us to this. The sales of our standard and well known Dixon Stove Polish, Dixon Crucibles, and Dixon "American Graphite" Pencils have also largely increased.

Our plant now includes 5 steam engines with a total of 375 h. p.; 9 steam boilers of 600 h. p. together, and the use of 150 h. p. water power.

We employ 550 persons and our pay roll averages $4,500 per week. We have direct connections with the Telegraph companies and the Long Distance Telephone Company.

So far as we can see the prospect for 1890 is bright.

JOHN A. WALKER,
Sec'y and General Manager.

The Latest Pipe Line Scheme.

Pipe lines seem to be the rage. Petroleum, gas, electricity and steam are now piped, but it remained for an Orange county, New York genius to conceive the idea of sending milk to New York through pipes similar in every respect to the pipe line of the Standard Oil Company. It is stated that several capitalists are already interested. It is proposed to raise a capital of $600,000. The idea is to collect all the milk within a hundred miles of New York and rush it through the pipes in a half frozen condition. The scheme meets with ridicule only. The proposition is regarded by New York milk dealers as being absurd, as the milk would surely be churned to butter, the pipes at the New York end delivering nothing but butter and buttermilk. The greatest objection raised by experts is the impossibility of keeping the pipes clean, as it would require a river of boiling water under high pressure daily to give them the necessary scalding, as all traces of decomposition must be removed, besides which the method would conflict with the inspection State laws, which in New York are very severe. The proposition embraces the forming of a stock company, with the view of unloading on farmers and New York milk dealers. The development of the scheme will be watched with considerable interest.

Vibration in Buildings.

One of the most perplexing problems that confronts the engineer is the vibration in buildings caused by running machinery. The character of the building, the ground on which it rests, the weight, power and speed of engines, are all factors which must be considered, some of which are very indefinite, or at least their effect is hard to predetermine, combined with which, is the very important influence which is involved in the relation which the speed of the engine bears to the natural time of vibration of the floor beams. It is evident that if the slight motion which that every engine has, is exactly in time with the natural vibration of the floor beam, each pulsation of the engine will increase the scope of the vibration of the floor, resulting in a most disastrous shaking, while if the pulsation of the engines are in discord with the floor, comparative quiet will obtain. As floor beams are usually long and their time of vibration correspondingly long, it is usually found that a fast running engine will give less of its vibration to the floor beams than a slow running one. It is also worthy of note that the vibration of a fast running engine are more numerous and less forceful, hence more easily resisted by the mass of the floor.

The Pittsburg Dispatch relates an interesting example of preventing vibrations by discord in the case of a 4-horse power engine, which on the upper story of a silverware manufactory created such a commotion as to rattle the silverware on the shelves a hundred feet distant. A change of twenty-five revolutions in the speed, which change was in the direction of increasing the speed, entirely stopped the vibrations.

Novel Method of laying a Floor.

The "National Builder" says that a curious method of laying down floors has been adopted in France and has obtained a wide application. It consists in putting down flooring, not as hitherto on sleepers, but in embodying the boarding in asphalt.

The new floors are used mostly for ground stories of barracks and hospitals, as well as for courts of law. Very little is known of the method outside of France, and as its usefulness is evident, it should have a wider application; therefore, we append the following description:

For the floors in question, pieces of oak, usually two and a half to four inches broad, twelve to thirty inches long and one inch thick, are pressed down into a layer of hot asphalt, not quite half an inch thick, in the well-known hering-bone pattern.

To insure a complete adhesion of the wood to the asphalt and obtain the smallest joints possible, the edges of the pieces of wood are planed down, beveling towards the bottom, so that their cross-section become wedge-like. Nails of course are not necessary, and a perfectly level surface may be given to the flooring by planing after laying down. The advantages of this flooring, which only requires an even bed on which to rest, are said to be the following:

1. Dampness from below, and its consequences, rot, are hereby prevented.
 2. Floors may be cleaned quickly and with the least amount of water, insuring rapid drying.
 3. Vermen cannot accumulate in the joints.
 4. Unhealthy exhalations from the soil cannot penetrate into living rooms. Asphalt being impermeable to damp, rooms become perfectly healthy, even if they are vaulted underneath.
- In buildings with several stories, as in hospitals, the vitiated air of the lower rooms cannot ascend, an object which it has hitherto not been possible to attain by any other means known.

Staining Wood.

Mahogany.—To stain wood mahogany, take logwood and boil until you have a strong decoction. When cold, add some apple cider vinegar, say one-third of the quantity required. A simple application to the wood will give a good imitation; but if a fine job of staining is required, have some burnt umber mixed with just enough glue to bind or fasten the color on the wood, being careful not to put on any more than just enough to accomplish that, as too much glue will spoil the next operation and make the whole job a botch. Try it on a piece of wood first; and if, after this umber is dry, the wood takes the stain of logwood, it is right; if it does not absorb quickly, then it has too much glue in it. Mucilage is a little more expensive, but I prefer it to glue, using it in the same manner. When this is applied, or while wet, wipe with a rag; when dry, stain very freely with the logwood, using a sponge or rag to wipe out what the wood does not take, but do not rub so strongly as to work the umber. Then shellac and varnish or polish, as the case may be. The idea of the umber treated in this manner is to have it enter the grain of the wood, and lines seen through the logwood staining show the darker shades the wood as the natural wood.

Cherry Wood.—Take common yellow ochre, getting the dark shade. Break it in water, add a little stale beer, and stain the wood with this for the first coat. Sandpaper lightly, to cut where the ground may have risen; then have some good red lake—ground in distemper for common work, but for better, work in turpentine only—and add a few spoonfuls of drying japan, according to the quantity to be used, merely to bind it to the wood, and no more, wiping away all surplus; then shellac and varnish or oil. If you need something very fine, use a common grade of Munich lake. This will make the cherry now being used so extensively on furniture and house trimmings. Try it and you will like its richness, especially when polished.

Oak is clearly the favorite wood among the furniture manufacturers at the present time. Immense quantities of it are being used, and the entire output of many factories is furniture made of this wood, which is well adapted to every class of furniture. The rage for antique and sixteenth century oak has had something to do with this demand, but in variety of grain, warmth of color, and durability, oak is a king of woods. It is creditable to the public taste, that it finds so much of favor.

Recent Decisions.

IN RELATION TO MATTERS CONCERNING REAL ESTATE AND COMMERCIAL LAW.

Decided by the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

AGENTS.—An agent who neglects to obey the instructions of his principal, renders himself liable for any loss occurring to the latter by reason of such neglect.

Where an order to an agent is plain, and there is a reply from the agent that it will be attended to, proofs of disobedience to former orders, and forbearance by his principal, will not relieve the agent from his legal liability for his failure to comply with such order, and proofs of such particular act will not be admitted in a suit by the principal against the agent, to recover for a loss caused by the agent's neglect to obey such order.—Crabey vs. Ins. Co., May 24, 1889.

COVENANTS.—When a parol agreement changing or adding to a previously executed sealed contract is subsequently made, the whole becomes parol. The insertion in an instrument of an express covenant as to any matter, excludes the existence of any implied covenant touching such matter.—Stoddard vs. Emery, May 9, 1889.

DEED.—In an action of trespass between A. and B. there was a question as to the boundary line between their respective properties. It appeared that A., who owned both properties had entered into articles of agreement to convey one of them to C. from whom B. claimed. Subsequently a deed was executed and delivered by A. to C. The deed contained nothing from which the point of beginning, in marking its course, might be ascertained.

The Court admitted in evidence a portion of the articles of agreement for the purpose of fixing this starting point. Held not to be error.—Warfel vs. Knorr, May 22, 1889.

MORTGAGE.—The Act of January 24, 1849, which prohibits a sale by the Sheriff of a life interest in real estate without notice to the life tenant or leave of Court, has no application to the sale of a life estate under a mortgage given by a life tenant. Such a sale passes the entire interest of the life tenant.—Datesman's App., May 16, 1889.

NOTES.—Where fraud in procuring a promissory note is sufficiently averred in an affidavit of defense, to a suit upon the note, it establishes a good defense against any but a bona fide holder for value before maturity, and is sufficient to put the plaintiff upon proof of his right as such holder.

An affidavit of defense, which states that the note was delivered to the plaintiffs "in payment and satisfaction of an old debt," is sufficient.—Gere vs. Unger, March 7, 1889.

PARTNERSHIP.—Purchasers of land, and lien creditors, dealing with the owners upon the faith of an individual title appearing upon the record may not be deprived of their rights against the individual interests in the land by parol proof that they were really partnership interests, and therefore mere personality.

Between partners themselves, land which is treated as partnership property, especially if it be purchased and paid for with partnership money, is regarded as partnership property only; although the title be taken in the name of the partners individually.

Whether land conveyed to persons who are partners, in their individual names, is partnership property or not, is largely a question of intention which may be shown by parol; it may be manifested in the acts and declarations of the parties.—Marriner vs. Mitchell, March 21, 1889.

VENDOR AND VENDEE.—A bank held a judgment against X. for $625 to secure the payment of notes to that amount. X. sold land against which the judgment was a lien to Y. The bank afterwards issued execution on the judgment, and the Sheriff paid the bank out of the funds in his hands a sum sufficient to satisfy the judgment as it stood on the record. Subsequently, Y. brought suit against the bank, claiming that he had paid full price for the land and knew nothing of the existence of the judgment; that before the execution was issued, X. had paid the bank $300, which was to be applied on said judgment, and that, accordingly, there had been an over-payment of $125 35, which he claimed. He also alleged that he did not know of X's payments on account, at the time of sale. The bank's affidavit of defense alleged that the money received from the sheriff was on account of X's indebtedness to it, and that the sum realized was not sufficient to satisfy this, but the balance had to be secured from X's endorsers. The lower court entered judgment against the bank for want of a sufficient affidavit of defense.

Held that this was error. The bank was entitled to the money as against X, and Y, who claimed title to the land under X, was in no better position than X. There was no allegation that the bank had agreed to apply moneys received on account of the judgment.—Bank vs. Fair, May 9, 1889.

Mills to be Built.

At Hopkinsville, Christian Co., Ky., a cotton mill will be erected by a stock company.

At Allensville, Todd Co., Ky., John Adams, and others, will erect a large flour mill.

At Hillsboro, Hill Co., Texas a roller flour mill will be erected by a $20,000 stock company.

At Swansborough, Onslow Co., N. C. Messrs. Pringle & Stevens will erect a saw mill, planing mill and grist mill.

At Ashenville, St. Clair Co., Ala. Messrs. Gilbert & Hodges, will erect a grist and saw mill.

At Meridianville, Madison Co., Ala., William Allen will erect a corn mill.

At Demopolis, Marengo Co., Ala., the Demopolis Oil Company, will rebuild its mill recently destroyed by fire.

At Anniston, Calhoun Co., Ala., a $100,000 stock company has organized and will erect a roller mill. The Anniston Land Company can give information.

A. E. Karelson, of New York, and W. F. Lang, of the Armory Knitting Mills, of Macon, Ga., have been looking to the advantages in Anniston for the erection of a knitting mill to employ 800 hands.

At Talladega, Talladega Co., Ala., the Talladega Cotton Manufacturing Company recently incorporated, has secured a site on which to erect a 5000-spindle mill.

At Florence, Lauderdale Co., Ala., Abram S. Patterson, of Philadelphia, Pa., and others, who recently purchased an interest in the Florence Cotton and Iron Company, are arranging to erect a $300,000 rolling mill; also, to complete the W. B. Wood iron furnace.

—At Pittsburg, W. A. Herron & Sons have sold a lot 60x160 feet at Liberty and Second avenues, to the Union Storage Company. This company will use the site for the erection of a six-story cold storage warehouse, to cost about $100,000. Samuel Bailey, Jr., is the secretary and treasurer of the company. The Sons of Saint George will probably erect a building to serve for a central headquarters. The Avery A. M. E. Church property has been sold to a Philadelphia Iron Manufacturer by the name of Clark. A handsome fire proof building will be erected at Liberty avenue and Sixth street. The lower floor will be fitted up as stores, and it is said that Mr. Anderson, of the Hotel Anderson, may occupy the upper floors as an annex to his hotel. The new structure will cost about $250,000.

Of course there are styles of headwear that you don't care to buy, but we mean our Hat Store to have everything of the sort a man or boy needs for dress or for comfort.

The newest Heath Hats (London) are at hand. Every make that we are to have is here.

Knox's Derby and Silk Hats are as near the top as any. You never see that name in a mean Hat.

Best Philadelphia makes too. Jumble them all up and you might not hit the Heath or Knox at the first or second choice. When a certain point of Hat goodness is passed how many of you make up your minds after a look in the crown?

Silk Hats, $4 to $8.

Derby Hats, $1.50 to $5.

All the other things that help to comfortably and perfectly dress the man.
